RUSSIA REJECTS POLES' PLEA

MOSCOW BARS DISCUSSION OF POLISH BORDER

Refuses to Renew Relations.

LONDON, Jan. 17 [Monday]—(AP).—The Russian government stated today that the Polish government's declaration of Saturday "can only be interpreted as rejection of the Curzon line" as a basis for settlement of the Russian-Polish border question. At the same time the Reds rejected the Poles' offer to negotiate the problem and refused to consider renewing diplomatic relations with the Polish government.

The Russian statement, broadcast by the Moscow radio and recorded here, accused the Polish government in London of trying to "mislead public opinion."

Place Blame on Reds.

The statement blamed the Poles for the ruptured relations between Russia and the Polish government-in-exile and attributed the break to active participation by the Polish government "in a hostile anti-soviet slanderous campaign of the German invaders in connection with the alleged murders in Katyn."

A short time after its broadcast rejecting the Polish plea the Moscow radio announced appointment of a commission to investigate these alleged murders of thousands of Polish soldiers by the Reds.

They led to the break of diplomatic relations between Russia and the Polish government in London. A German report, vehemently denied by Russia, declared that between 10,000 and 15,000 Poles had been executed by the Red army.

Proposes "Curzon Line."

On Jan. 11 Russia suggested the Curzon line as a means of solving the border dispute. It stated that the soviet union intended to retain the western White Russia and Ukraine areas of predominantly non-Polish population which had been within Poland from 1921 to 1939.

The Polish government, after three days of almost constant negotiation with Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden, issued a second statement which did not accept the Curzon line as the basis for negotiations, but offered to discuss "all outstanding questions" with the Russian government provided that Britain and the United States acted as intermediaries and sat in on the discussions.

It was this statement which the Russian government rejected this morning.

Broadcast from Moscow.

The Curzon line, named for the late British foreign secretary, extended roughly from Grodno thru Bialystok down to the Bug river at Brest-Litovsk, thence along that river to near Sokol, and finally southwest past Przemysl to the Carpathians as Poland's eastern boundary. It placed the Polish cities of Lwow, Pinsk, Vilna, and Tarhopol in Russia.

Today's Russian statement was broadcast from Moscow, by Tass, official soviet news agency. The Tass broadcast said:

"In reply to a declaration made by the Polish government in London Jan. 15, Tass is authorized to state:

"First, in the Polish declaration the question of the recognition of the Curzon line as a Soviet-Polish frontier is entirely evaded and ignored, which can only be interpreted as a rejection of the Curzon line.

"Aims at Misleading Public."

"Secondly, as regards the Polish government's proposal for the opening of official negotiations between it and the soviet government, the soviet government is of the opinion this proposal aims at misleading public opinion, for it is easy to understand that the soviet government cannot enter into official negotiations with a government with which diplomatic relations have been broken.

"The soviet government reminds that diplomatic relations with the Polish government were broken off thru the fault of that government, because of its active participation in the hostile anti-soviet slanderous campaign of the German invaders in connection with the alleged murders in Katyn.

"In the opinion of soviet circles, the above mentioned circumstances once again demonstrate that the present Polish government does not desire to establish good-neighborly relations with the soviet union."

U. S. Will Free Bergdoll from Army Prison

Grover Bergdoll.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 16 [Special].—After more than a quarter of a century as a fugitive or a prisoner, Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, wealthy draft dodger of World War I., will step out of the army disciplinary barracks at Fort Leavenworth, Kas., in about a month as a free man, it was announced today at the war department.

Bergdoll has served about 4 years and 10 months of sentences aggregating 7½ years for draft dodging and desertion. Now 48 years old, he asked Atty. Gen. Biddle a year ago to obtain a Presidential pardon for him so he might enlist in the army air forces. The coming release will be by parole, it was said, and will not of itself make Bergdoll eligible for army service.

Father of Six Children.

During his long career as a draft dodger which began in 1917, a few months after the United States entered the war, Bergdoll married the daughter of a German city official and became the father of six children. Altho he ostensibly spent 19 years as an exile in Germany, he testified at his court martial in 1939 that for seven of those years he was living in the Philadelphia home of his aged mother, Mrs. Emma Bergdoll.

On the eve of World War II. Bergdoll terminated his exile by sending his family to this country and following them a month later after unsuccessful attempts to secure remission of a five year draft evasion sentence then standing against him.

"There are many reasons why I am coming back," he said at that time. "Homesickness. My wife. My mother. I want to bring my children up in the United States."

Get Back $476,368.

The army seized him when he landed at New York May 25, 1939, and following a court martial a sentence of three years for desertion and escape was tacked onto the unserved portion of his previous sentence. While confined he successfully conducted litigation leading to the return of property valued at $476,368 seized by the government at the time he fled to Germany.

Son of Louis C. Bergdoll, wealthy Philadelphia brewer, Bergdoll was 23 and a playboy sportsman in 1917 when he ignored a questionnaire from his draft board. He was an airplane pilot and a driver of racing cars. For three years he evaded arrest, sending taunting messages to authorities from various parts of the country. Captured in 1920, he was tried and sentenced, but after serving a few months got permission to attempt to retrieve a "pot of gold" he said he had buried in Maryland. While out of prison on this mission he escaped from guards and made his way to Germany.

1,400 Believed Dead in Argentine Quake

Prisoners Flee San Juan Jail.

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, Jan. 16 (AP). — Estimates on the total number of dead in wrecked San Juan mounted to between 1,400 to 1,600 tonight as rescue workers dug thru the ruins of that Andean city which was battered by four earthquakes last night and this morning.

The Argentine army has taken control of the region and warned the population that severe reprisals will be taken against looters, a dispatch from the stricken city said.

Police sought to round up a number of prisoners who escaped jail during the disaster and made their way into the hills.

Gen. Luis C. Perlinger, minister of interior, who is at San Juan, reported earlier to President Gen. Pedro Ramirez that 500 bodies had already been recovered and that 900 persons were gravely injured, with 4,000 others less seriously hurt.

All Theaters Closed.

In respect to the earthquake victims, the government ordered the closing of all theaters, dance halls, and other places of amusement thruout Argentina.

Residents of San Juan have messaged President Ramirez asking for a 150,000,000 peso [$37,500,000] loan for reconstruction. They also asked for the conscription of 50,000 workers and the loan of machinery to harvest the year's fruit crop.

Victims of the disaster were being taken by rail, road and plane to Mendoza, 75 miles from San Juan, where municipal and improvised army hospitals and an emergency city of 5,000 army tents received the stricken inhabitants of the city of 30,000.

Appeal for Medicine.

Emergency appeals were issued for immediate shipments of drugs and other medical supplies, and word was received here that a group of Chilean doctors was preparing to fly from Santiago, about 170 miles from San Juan.

After three quakes during the night—the first at 8:39 p. m. and the next two at 2:24 and 2:28 a. m. —a fourth tremor was said to have rocked the city at approximately 8 a. m., destroying more buildings and hampering rescue work.

David Uriburu, interventor [overseer] of San Juan, described the city as 90 per cent destroyed, including nearly all public buildings. The only important edifice spared was the Rawson hospital, which was evacuated, however, because of its shaky condition.

Col. Emilio Ramirez, Buenos Aires chief of police, said San Juan and the small neighboring communities of Trinidad and Concepcion could be regarded as "totally destroyed." Not a single building in San Juan was left habitable. Water and sewage systems were wrecked.

Citizens Panic Stricken.

The quakes last night were felt in a broad belt across the entire continent from Buenos Aires to Santiago.

All dispatches from the battered area spoke of the panic of the citizens who rushed screaming from their dwellings to be knocked down by falling blocks of masonry and stones.

San Juan, famous for its fruit and wines, was one of the few places in Latin America where women were allowed to vote for more than a decade until the practice was ordered abolished by former President Ramon S. Castillo, who was overthrown last June in a military coup d'etat. The town suffered a severe quake in 1894 and lesser ones in 1936 and last March.

Tribune Opens 2 Income Tax Offices Today

Beginning this morning, free income tax service will be available again to readers of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE in the Tribune Public Service offices at 1 South Dearborn street and in Tribune Tower, 435 North Michigan avenue.

Deputy collectors assigned by Carter H. Harrison, collector of internal revenue, will be on duty daily except Sunday from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. The service will continue until March 15, the deadline for filing income tax returns.

Tax Series Starts Wednesday.

As an additional aid to many thousands of persons who will be puzzled by the complicated income tax forms this year, THE TRIBUNE on Wednesday will start publication of a series of articles on parts of the income tax law that affect the majority of taxpayers.

Persons who visit the deputies for help are urged to bring along their records to be used in compiling the returns. These include the amount received for personal services, such as wages, salaries, bonuses, commissions, etc., during all of last year, before deductions for taxes, union dues, etc.; and form W2 as received from employers, showing the amount of income and Victory taxes paid thru withholding.

Form 1125 Must Be Returned.

In cases where an income tax was paid last year, the government will mail Form 1125 indicating the amount of the entire tax bill and the amounts paid in March and June. This has to be included with the 1943 return.

If a declaration of estimated tax was filed last September or December and a tax paid, the deputy collector will have to know the amount. Deputies will be aided in completing the 1943 return if the taxpayers have copies of the income tax returns they filed last year.

FRENCH PAPER GOES TO PRESS PRO-NAZI; COMES OUT PRO-ALLY

[By Wireless to the New York Times and The Chicago Tribune.]

BERNE, Switzerland, Jan. 16.—Recent copies of La Nouvelliste, a Lyons newspaper, are being read with avidity in France.

On Wednesday night La Nouvelliste went to press filled with German war bulletins. Not a copy reached the public. Instead, news stands sold an issue printed secretly which gave allied war bulletins. As the real issues reached the streets unidentified men took charge of trucks distributing the papers. Others supplied newsstands with the substitute issue.

BULLET NEAR SPINE, BOY KEEPS HIS WOUND SECRET FOR 3 DAYS

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 16 (AP).—John Wilm, 10 years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred H. Wilm, kept his secret for three days, but X-ray photographs yesterday forced him to tell that he was shot in the abdomen last Wednesday during a play "Commando" battle.

Police said John and three playmates broke into an unoccupied house near their home and took four pistols which they used in a Commando-type raid in an alley behind the Wilm home.

The boys admitted one weapon discharged a bullet which struck young Wilm, police said. Afraid to admit the truth, the lads made up a story that Johnnie had fallen on a pile of cinders, cutting himself.

He was taken to Memorial hospital. When his fever did not subside, X-rays disclosed a bullet lodged near his spine.

ZONE MAIL PLAN HELD SUCCESS; HERE TO STAY

Washington, D. C., Jan. 16 (AP).—The zone mail system, inaugurated last June in more than 120 major cities, has proved so successful in speeding deliveries that the postoffice department has decided to make it permanent.

Forest Hall, special assistant to the postmaster general, said today that the system, plus the mail-early campaign, helped substantially in handling Christmas mail.

The zone system is being used in all cities having a substantial number of branch offices. In the handling of the mail, each branch is the same as a city in itself. All mail clears thru the central postoffice and is sorted for the branches.

Lord Haw Haw Chuted to Irish Soil, British Say

BY LARRY RUE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Jan. 17 [Monday].—The identity of two parachutists who recently baled out of German bombers over Ireland and were arrested by Irish authorities, was disclosed early today. They are John P. O'Reilly, 28 years old, who allegedly has been broadcasting as the Irish "Lord Haw Haw" for some time, and Patrick Kenny, 35, son of a man who fought with the Irish volunteers in 1916.

Casement Case Recalled.

It is recalled that O'Reilly is the son of one of the men who, in the "turbulent days of 1916," arrested the traitor Sir Roger Casement after he landed from a U-boat on the Kerry coast.

The British government is said to have been kept informed of the situation in "a general way."

The Daily Mail said O'Reilly landed Dec. 16 three miles from his father's farm in County Clare. When he was arrested two days later he had permits to leave Germany and land in Ireland, all of which were in order.

Runs Into Some Thorns.

Kenny bailed out on Dec. 19 in a gale. He was knocked out when his parachute dragged him thru two thorn fences and against a gate. He was arrested that night.

"It is likely both men now are in Mountjoy jail in Dublin," the Daily Mail said.

The office of the dominions secretary withheld comment after investigation was suggested by the Rev. James Little, a member of parliament from Ulster.

Navy Confers Silver Star on Doug Fairbanks, Actor

Washington, D. C., Jan. 16 (AP).—The silver star medal has been awarded Lt. Comdr. Douglas Fairbanks Jr., former movie actor, for "outstanding service during action at Salerno" where the 5th army established its first beachhead in the invasion of Italy. A brief navy announcement tonight of the award said only that it had been conferred on Fairbanks by Vice Adm. Henry K. Hewitt, commander of United States naval forces in North African waters.

U. S. TROOPS IN ITALY AND PACIFIC MAKE NEW GAINS

Americans Storm Nazi Positions Atop Peak.

ALLIED HDQ., Algiers, Jan. 16 (AP). —American troops in slashing frontal attack captured Mount Trocchio, last mountain fortress blocking the way to Cassino, today, and now overlook that bastion only two air line miles away, a special headquarters bulletin announced tonight.

United States infantry men of the 5th army speedily consolidated positions atop the formidable mountain south of the town after storming it in a two sided assault launched at 6:30 a. m. Saturday.

Beyond Cassino the rugged mountains open into a wide valley leading toward Rome.

French troops swinging in upon Cassino from the northeast at the same time have seized two more villages and additional heights, pounding within five miles of the German stronghold.

Swarm Up the Slopes.

Attacking on a wide arc after a heavy artillery bombardment, the Americans plunged to the base of 1,475 foot Mount Trocchio and then swarmed up the slopes bristling with pillboxes, concrete emplacements, gun pits, trenches, and dugouts.

Cassino is the key to the Liri valley, where the mountainous terrain that has made the advance of the last two months painfully slow opens to a wide stretch of flatter land extending to Rome some 70 miles beyond. Thru this lane runs one of the main highways to the Eternal city—the via Casilina.

While capture of Mount Trocchio gave the allies the last high area in front of Cassino, there still is another mountain to be reckoned with that dominates the town on the other side.

The American and French gains pushed the Nazis back along 10 miles of front.

French troops pushing on thru difficult terrain occupied Cardito three miles northwest of captured Acquafondata, and seized the village of Vallerontonda. They drove to within two miles of Sant' Elia, a town only three miles northeast of Cassino.

Also Win Mt. Croce.

The French also won Mount Croce, overlooking the road leading to Atina, highway junction nine miles north of Cassino. From Mount Croce, 3,600 feet high, springs the Rapido river. It is one of the many mountains of the same name in Italy.

[The German Sunday war bulletin said "strong enemy attacks in the sector north of Cervaro were repelled in heavy fighting," and said a battle continues "for one place of enemy penetration."]

Vigorous patroling continued on the 8th army front to the east. British troops raided enemy outposts in the Orsogna area, taking prisoners and inflicting casualties in hard fighting.

Bomb Rail Communications.

Taking advantage of favorable weather, American medium and heavy bombers struck in force yesterday at rail communications.

Lightning escorted Liberators bombed rail yards at Prato, 15 miles northwest of Florence, and Flying Fortresses attacked rail and road targets at Orvieto, Poggibonsi, Certaldo and Arezzo on the Rome-Florence main line. Other Fortresses hit port installations and rail yards at Civitavecchia, northwest of Rome, and a railway bridge and highway near Porto Civitanova on the Adriatic.

Mitchell bombers attacked the Foligno railway junction between Rome and Florence, and Marauders bombed three rail bridges at Orvieto. Fighter bombers set off explosions at a supply dump and railhead at San Valentino, 15 miles west of Chieti.

Headquarters disclosed that Lt. Gen. Ira C. Eaker, former United States 8th air force commander in Britain, had assumed his post as allied air commander in the Mediterranean theater.

Marines Mop Up Japs on Cape Gloucester.

ADVANCED HDQ., New Guinea, Jan. 17 [Monday]—(AP).—Capture of Hill 660 from the Japanese at Cape Gloucester, New Britain, the taking of Sio on Huon peninsula, New Guinea, and an air raid that smashed enemy planes and ships at Rabaul were listed in Gen. MacArthur's bulletin today.

American marines captured Hill 660 after a long and bitter struggle against scores of machine gun nests which dotted the height. The victory gave the leathernecks domination of Borgen bay, east of the cape on the northwestern coast of New Britain. It took place Friday, ending a drive which had started soon after they took the Cape Gloucester airdrome Dec. 30.

The fight for the hill was described as more bitter than the battle for Guadalcanal. The veterans, many of whom had fought at Guadalcanal, found the enemy positions on the hillsides well dug in and heavily armed.

Cost Japs 3,000 Troops.

Hill 660 commands a large part of the surrounding country. The measure of the enemy's effort to retain its control was seen in their casualties of more than 3,000 dead.

"Our troops are mopping up and consolidating their gains," said the bulletin, adding that attack planes in direct support strafed two villages.

Australian troops drove into Sio, New Guinea, Saturday and swept on for three miles, narrowing the distance between them and the American troops at Saidor to the northwest. Nearly 50 miles separates the two forces.

Allied fighters and medium bombers strafed and bombed Japanese supply points and barge routes along the New Guinea coast, hitting especially at Uligan harbor north of Saidor. Ninety-six tons of bombs were dropped here, damaging gun positions, stores, and the jetty.

Set Jap Cruiser Afire.

Dauntless dive bombers and Avenger torpedo bombers left a small Japanese cruiser, a destroyer, and seven cargo vessels burning in Simpson harbor at Rabaul Friday.

Liberator and Mitchell bombers struck at the Vanakanau, Lakunai, and Rapopo airdromes at Rabaul. The Japanese sent up 60 to 70 intercepting planes and lost 29 in the combat, which cost the Americans two bombers and eight fighter planes. Four of the American pilots were saved. A headquarters spokesman said 16 more enemy planes probably were destroyed.

[A Tokio broadcast said Japanese naval planes shot down 47, and possibly 18 more, out of around 160 allied bombers which attacked Rabaul. The Japanese said they lost three planes.]

The allied bulletin's accounting of enemy planes downed made a total of 124 Japanese aircraft shot down in raids on the Rabaul base since Jan. 1.

The Japanese air force showed some life in the Solomons area, raiding Treasury Island and causing some casualties and damage. An attack on American positions at Empress Augusta bay on Bougainville Island cost two planes intercepted by allied night fighters.

JAPS WORRY OVER RABAUL.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

The Tokio radio said yesterday in a weekly summary that "the enemy's air attacks against Rabaul in particular are growing in intensity and the war situation is assuming "great proportions."

In line with the usual Japanese policy of exaggerating allied losses, Domei estimated allied killed and wounded in the Cape Merkus area at 3,500 against 134 Japanese.

The allies are continuing to reenforce Cape Gloucester, the agency continued, placing allied losses there at 2,500 to 3,000 as against 1,000 Japanese casualties.

GEN. EISENHOWER IN BRITAIN AFTER SECRET U. S. VISIT

Invasion Talk Grows: He Sees Monty.

BY LARRY RUE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Jan. 17 [Monday].—The announcement here last night that Gen. Eisenhower has taken his post in Britain as supreme commander in chief of allied invasion forces was hailed as marking the "opening of the final phase of the preparation for offensive operations from this country."

Since his arrival, Eisenhower, according to reports, has met Gen. Bernard L. Montgomery, commander in chief of the British group of the invasion armies and Lt. Gen. Carl A. Spaatz, commander of the United States strategic force of bombers against Germany.

Supreme Hdq. Announces Arrival.

The announcement of his arrival as made by the "Supreme headquarters of the allied expeditionary force," read:

"It can now be announced that Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower has assumed the duties in the United Kingdom assigned him by the combined chiefs of staff.

"On his journey from the Mediterranean to the United Kingdom he had conferences with the President and the prime minister."

The announcement was matched by the Washington, D. C., statement that the invasion chief had conferred with Gen. Marshall, chief of staff, and President Roosevelt before leaving America in a visit that had not been announced.

It is presumed that he saw Prime Minister Churchill before leaving Africa.

As Gen. Eisenhower's arrival was made known, his chief antagonist, Marshal Erwin Rommel, reported at Adolf Hitler's headquarters in eastern Europe.

Will Visit His Armies.

Eisenhower's arrival will not alter the strategic plan the allies will use in the invasion. What it does do is to speed up preparations which are in the final stage.

As Commander Eisenhower has never been content to live in a comfortable headquarters, it will not be surprising if chilled doughboys and tommies see his bulky shoulders and shrewd face along the lanes of England frequently.

There is a likelihood he will soon inspect American and British army units and tour supply depots scattered thruout Britain on which these forces depend for ammunition, food, and gasoline.

Eisenhower's arrival rounded out allied military leaders assembling to command armies and air forces including:

Air Chief Marshal Arthur Tedder, Air Chief Marshal Trafford L. Leigh-Mallory, Gen. Harold Edmund Franklin, commander of the British home forces. Maj. Gen. James H. Doolittle is commander of the United States 8th air force, but his arrival has not been announced.

Most Monday morning newspapers gave prominence to Eisenhower's arrival, The Daily Mail, drawing the conclusion that the "higher direction of the tremendous machine, which the allies have built up for the invasion of Europe from the west, is almost complete . . . everything is almost in readiness for the greatest test in the history of British and American armies."

It was recalled that Eisenhower said farewell to the Mediterranean forces on Jan. 2 in these words: "until we meet again in the heart of the enemy's continental stronghold," after predicting allied victory over Germany in 1944.

In Washington a Few Days.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 16 (AP).—Gen. Eisenhower has been in Washington for talks, it was disclosed today.

Eisenhower first conferred with Prime Minister Churchill, then proceeded to Washington. The war department said: "Gen Eisenhower was here for a few days and while here conferred with the President and chief of staff."

Churchill Wins De Gaulle Support at Morocco Parley

ALLIED HDQ., Algiers, Jan. 16 (AP).—Prime Minister Churchill, robust and active, reached agreement with Gen. Charles de Gaulle on British-French co-operation in a conference Wednesday at Marrakech, Morocco.

They conferred in a "most cordial atmosphere" on arming De Gaulle's followers in France, and government of territories to be liberated in France. The first announcement of Churchill's whereabouts said the leaders reviewed "the principal questions interesting to Franco-British relations."

Among matters the leaders discussed was the pending treason trials of French leaders on whose behalf British and American governments have made "informal inquiries."

De Gaulle reportedly discussed sending munitions to French patriots to be used for sabotage of Nazi communications. Churchill reportedly made no definite assurances.

In Famous Villa.

The villa in which Churchill has been staying is famous. The prime minister and President Roosevelt stayed there after the close of the Casablanca conference. Built by an American banking family, it has been loaned to Churchill.

De Gaulle invited Churchill to review French troops, and he watched a parade of French soldiers trained and equipped for the forthcoming battles of Europe.

The prime minister, wearing a wide sombrero, stood with De Gaulle beneath swarms of aircraft from the renovated French air force.

De Gaulle Makes a Speech.

Following the parade, De Gaulle, turning to the cheering people, addressed them briefly.

"Marrakech today has had the privilege of being the place where the British prime minister was welcomed by us," he said.

"In this meeting held in the presence of all and in front of the French forces in Morocco we see new proof of our alliance on the eve of the common supreme efforts for the same cause."

COMMONS' NEW SESSION EXPECTS CHURCHILL TALK

LONDON, Jan. 16 (AP).—The news from Africa that Prime Minister Churchill has recovered from pneumonia stirred speculation here that he may appear before parliament shortly. When commons reconvenes members will tackle accumulated questions—including the invitation that Churchill delegate some responsibilities to others. Minor ministerial changes are anticipated when the prime minister returns, but cabinet reconstruction appears unlikely.

Legislative correspondents predict two government bills will be in for conflict—one which would make compulsory the employment of a quota of disabled men and women and another which would provide for reinstatement in civil employment of service men and women.

New Flying Fort Group Commander Is Only 25

LONDON, Jan. 16 (AP).—Col. Eugene A. Romig, 25 years old, of Byesville, O., today became the youngest heavy bombardment group commander of the United States 8th air force when he took charge of a Flying Fortress group formerly led by Col. William A. Hatcher Jr., Detroit, who is missing in action. Romig "grew up" with the 8th air force in this theater, winning the silver star and distinguished flying cross.

REDS DRIVE 5 MI. WEDGE IN NAZIS' NORTHERN LINE

Advance on 9 Mile Front in 3 Day Battle.

LONDON, Jan. 16 (AP).—The Russians announced tonight that a new offensive on the northern front has driven a wedge nine miles wide and five miles deep into the German lines in three days. This drive, they said, was in the Novosokolinki sector, northwest of Veliki Luki, and 28 miles north of Nevel.

The soviet war bulletin also announced that in three weeks of fighting on the 1st Ukraine army front 100,000 Germans had been killed and 2,204 tanks and 1,174 cannon destroyed.

New advances in the White Russian area were reported along with the disclosure that one Russian spearhead had driven 55 miles into old Poland. The bulletin also said that strong German counter-attacks on the Ukraine front had been repulsed.

Seize 40 Towns.

More than 40 towns, including a railroad station only 70 miles from Latvia, were reported occupied in the northern drive. The 90 mile rail line between Novosokolinki and Dno also was cut. Dno is 40 miles southwest of Lake Ilmen and is a junction on a railroad leading to Leningrad.

The Germans disclosed that south of Leningrad strong Red army forces moved forward thru the German line with the support of tanks and planes.

Nineteen miles to the west of Leningrad, soviet attacks from the Oranienbaum bridgehead on the shores of the Gulf of Finland "were frustrated again yesterday," the Nazis said.

Gen. Nikolai F. Vatutin's 1st Ukraine armies widened and deepened to 55 miles the wedge being driven toward Kovel, rail junction 110 miles inside old Poland, with the capture of towns 23 miles northwest of Sarny and 15 miles west of that seized railroad town.

Nineteen Miles from Rovno.

Farther south, Vatutin's forces also drove to within 19 miles of Rovno, taking a rail station 35 miles inside Poland.

In lower White Russia Gen. Konstantin Rokossovsky's troops plunged to within 47 miles of the Polish border in the push along the railroad running thru the Pripet marshes. In this drive paralleling the advance by Vatutin's armies on the southern fringe of the marshes, the capture of a town on the Sluch river put the Russians 97 miles from Pinsk.

Stockholm dispatches quoted a Berlin military spokesman as saying that some Russian units already had crossed the Bug river near Vinnitsa, only 20 miles from the Warsaw-Odessa trunk line serving Germany's huge Dnieper bend forces.

Moscow said the Germans threw hunders of tanks and thousands of infantrymen against the Red army in the Vinnitsa and Uman sectors, but were repulsed. The Germans were declared to have lost 136 tanks yesterday and more than 2,000 men in their desperate efforts to halt the Russian surge toward Rumania.

NAZI WAR REPORT

Following is the Sunday German war bulletin as broadcast from Berlin and recorded by the Associated Press:

"Northeast of Kerch [Crimea] and at the Nikopol bridgehead [lower Dnieper] violent enemy attacks broke down under German defensive fire.

"Northwest of Kirovograd [Dnieper bend] the enemy made renewed attacks with strong infantry and tank forces. He was halted in bitter fighting. A breach of the last two days was filled in by counter-attack.

"South of Leningrad the soviets launched an attack and broke thru in one sector.

"Southwest of Pogrebishche [southwest of Kiev] a German counter-attack gained further ground in the teeth of stiff enemy resistance.

Claim Breach Sealed Off.

"In the area west of Rechitsa [southwest of Gomel] counter-attacking German troops threw back soviet assault groups which had penetrated across the Pripet. West of Krichev enemy attacks were frustrated.

"Southwest of Vitebsk [below Nevel] the enemy made repeated attacks with strong forces. A breach was sealed off and 27 enemy tanks were shot up.

"Northwest and north of Nevel [300 miles south of Leningrad] as well as north of Lake Ilman the enemy continued his attacks. At some points the enemy penetrated but was again thrown back in counter-attacks.

"South of Leningrad the soviets, supported by tanks and battle planes, launched an attack but were repelled. Fighting with enemy groups which had penetrated still is in progress in one sector.

"In the area of Oranienbaum [west of Leningrad] all enemy attacks were frustrated again yesterday."

HINTS BAZOOKA HELPED RUSSIA DESTROY TANKS

Washington, D. C., Jan. 16 (AP).—An intimation that the United States hastened to give Russia the secret of the Bazooka gun to help the Red army battle Nazi tank attacks came today from an army ordnance expert.

Col. H. W. Miller of the ordnance reserve, writing in the military publication Army Ordnance, reported that "the newly developed American rocket gun" was among the weapons the soviets used in stopping the Nazi attempt to break thru at Kursk and Orel with gigantic mass attacks of tanks in June, 1943.

Because construction of the Bazooka gun itself is comparatively simple, it is possible the Russians manufactured their own weapon from blueprints and a sample gun. Miller said the rocket gun was used by the Russians along with their own artillery of various calibers.

CHICAGOAN HEAD OF AIR BASE JOB AT GLOUCESTER

Col. Yoder Orders the Bulldozers Around.

BY ARTHUR VEYSEY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

CAPE GLOUCESTER, New Britain, Jan. 16.—Out of the Cape Gloucester mud is rising a new and powerful American air base, directed by a Chicagoan.

Col. L. G. Yoder.

The Nipponese had a so-called air strip here before the American invasion, but it was just a strip of rolling ground on which the grass had been cut. They had started to fill in some bogs by trundling gravel in a hand pushed, narrow gauge railroad carts. The wreckage of Jap planes along the strip testified to its inadequacy.

Heavy American engineering equipment had landed just behind the invading marines and followed their advance to the air strip. On the edge of the clearing Capt. George J. Devlin of Boston asked a marine officer if it was all right to bring the machinery onto the field.

"Sure, but leave us room to shoot thru it," the officer said, "because we are just now beginning our attack." Devlin and his equipment did an abrupt right about.

Survey During Battle.

But two surveyors, Sergeants A. S. Buonanno of Bristol, R. I., and Ralph McCoy of Denver, Colo., began running a line down the strip even during the battle. The airport was taken during the morning, and before the day was out bulldozers and engineers were running huge earth movers, each equivalent to 1,000 Jap laborers, said Col. L. G. Yoder of the Lake Shore club, Chicago, former assistant to the Chicago district army engineers, and now directing the air strip work.

Working day and night except during the heavy downpours, the engineers began making 15 foot fills to lengthen the runway, cut 6 feet from the center to remove a hump, pulled out thousands of yards of mud and replaced it with gravel, dug drainage ditches, and began laying steel matting.

Chicagoans on the Job.

Corp. Alvin Turf of 1631 South Avers avenue, Chicago, and Pvt. William C. Cockrum of Whittington, Ill., drove dump trucks. Roland H. Campbell of South Pekin, Ill., operated a bulldozer, Corp. Sam Abbinanti of 127 Cambridge avenue, Chicago, was subforeman, and Lt. William A. MacAfee of 309 West Union street, Wheaton, Ill., was his boss.

At the end of the first day two men, Corporals John L. Wheeler of Nashville, Tenn., and Marion Larragorte of Santa Fe, N. M., were reported missing and believed to be sniper victims. But on the fourth day they turned up again. They had been with the marines fighting Japs, they reported.

The engineers acclaim Frank Anderjeski of 2523 Marshfield avenue, Chicago, as among the outfit's most valuable men. His outstanding feat was accomplished the second day. A cook, he baked hot rolls.

Heads Get Together.

An artillery captain, a veteran of the last war, admitted this story with a blush.

He and a chaplain were standing at opposite ends of a slit trench during an air raid alert. Suddenly a bomb fell. The captain and the chaplain dived for the trench, and that's all they remember.

They were found unconscious, but it wasn't because of the bomb. Diving for the trench they collided head-on and knocked each other out.

Pvt. Cosimo Cannella, 21 years old, 2815 Lowe avenue, Chicago, a cook, went to get some supplies, and came up from the rear on a Jap sniper hiding behind a log. Cannella fired first. For a souvenir he has the flag found wound around the sniper's waist.

When the steep banks of a stream held up tanks, a bulldozer went ahead to cut a path. The operator was wounded by snipers. Another took his place. He was killed. Up came a third and he was wounded, but by that time the first operator was back from a first aid station and he took over and finished the job.

Sgt. Vic Donohoe, an Omaha, Neb., cartoonist, found what he thought was a battle flag. What the flag said was: "Asayka sells kindling wood, charcoal, also rice, cereals, and lumber."

It was a flour sack.

Pvt. Leonard Reed, 23 years old, and his kid brother, 21, of Hubbard Woods, Ill., fired their 37 mm. cannon at a Jap barge 20 yards off shore. It sank.

The Japs one night attacked a cape jutting into the sea. They occupied the point, but Gunnery Sgt. Giuseppe Guilano of Mansfield, Mass., picked up a machine gun and with another man feeding in ammunition belts, he advanced thru the point spraying lead. Thirty Japs died, and the cape again was in Yankee hands.

Moves Whole Village.

Lt. R. M. Hunt of Washington, D. C., was the first aviator to take off from New Britain. Flying a Piper Cub as artillery spotter the same day the airport was taken, he skimmed over the lines. Shell explosions rocked the small plane. "Hold up the firing until I get some altitude," he radioed the battery. Back came an amazed voice saying, "But sir, we are not firing."

Patrols on Mount Talawa found natives hiding in caves. Driven from their coastal gardens and robbed by the Japs, they were near starvation. Capt. Guy Richards, formerly of the New York Daily News, rounded up 514 of them, brought them back to the coast, gave them emergency rations, and laid out a new village. It was a complete liberation.

New Allied Blows at Japs

AP CORRESPONDENT SEES 4 MORE YEARS OF WAR IN PACIFIC

Washington, D. C., Jan. 16 [Special].—A prediction that "there are still four bloody, bitter years of warfare in the Pacific if we do the job the way it should be done," was made today before the Women's Patriotic Conference on National Defense by J. Norman Lodge, Associated Press war correspondent.

Referring to stories of Gen. MacArthur's possible race for the Presidency, Lodge said: "I have known MacArthur since the last war and I'll guarantee you this: He has one aspiration and I think one alone. That is to return to the Philippines, and I have no doubt he'll do it."

Lodge said he found "great misconception" of our over-all strategy" in the Pacific. "We are not 'island hopping'." he said. "We are taking islands to establish air fields because it would be foolhardy to take our carriers into the outer ring of Jap-held territory, especially when the Japs have land bases on practically every island."

ENVOY TO SEE LAUNCHING.

San Francisco, Cal., Jan. 16 [AP].—Dr. Don Julian R. Caceres, Honduras ambassador to the United States, arrived by plane from Washington, D. C., today to witness the launching of the Liberty ship Francisco Morazan, named after the Honduran patriot, in Richmond Tuesday night.

M'ARTHUR GIVES LEGION OF MERIT TO A CHICAGOAN

Gen. Douglas MacArthur has awarded the Legion of Merit to Capt. Frederick E. Langlotz, 27 years old, 6040 North Rockwell street, a message from the Southwest Pacific disclosed yesterday. The award acknowledged "exceptionally meritorious conduct in the performance of outstanding services in New Guinea."

Capt. F. E. Langlotz.

Capt. Langlotz, one of the first statistical control officers in an overseas theater, introduced a new procedure for analyzing the effectiveness of bombardment missions, enabling each unit to get the benefit of combat experience of the others, the message said.

The captain was graduated from Schurz High school in 1933, attended Northwestern university, entered the army June 3, 1941, and was commissioned in the air force July 11, 1942. His wife, Evelyn Judith Smith Langlotz, lives in their Chicago home. His mother lives at 4919 Wolfram street.

BACK OF YARDS COUNCIL TO GIVE UP FIELDHOUSE

The Back of the Yards Neighborhood council will move out of the Davis Square park fieldhouse today or tomorrow, a spokesman, Saul Alinsky, disclosed yesterday. Alinsky said this action followed the resignation of Joseph P. Meegan, secretary of the council, as an employe of the Chicago Parks district. Meegan has been director of Davis Square park for some years.

Alinsky also said that the matter was the subject of sermons in many churches in the city yesterday. He reported Mayor Kelly was denounced as having repudiated promises to the council that it would be permitted to continue its meal service to the children.

Robert J. Dunham, president of the park board, said there would have been no objection to using the fieldhouse for meal service for school children if a "real necessity" for such service were shown by the council. He said heads of the public and parochial school systems reported that schools in the area had both food and milk programs for their pupils, and that they could see no reason why the pupils should be marched away from the schools each day for meals at Davis Park square.

JUGO-SLAVS HALT GERMAN DRIVE; TAKE OFFENSIVE

Keep Invasion Corridor Open, Say Nazis.

LONDON, Jan. 16 (AP).—Marshal Josip [Tito] Broz said today his partisan army had brought German drives to a halt and seized the initiative in several sectors of the Bosnian hills, while Nazis said the Jugo-Slavs are trying to hold open an allied invasion corridor from the Adriatic.

Armed with mounting supplies of allied weapons the patriots said they had occupied Glina, 40 miles south of Zagreb in the Croatian province of Kordun.

The bulletin said their forces now were driving on Petrinja, 15 miles northeast of Glina, and that operations are proceeding in a 40 mile triangle formed by Glina, Zagreb, and Ogulin.

Keep Invasion Path Open.

An increasing flow of supplies by air as well as by sea to Tito's men was indicated by axis broadcasts that sirens in Zagreb had been set off in the last week by planes ferrying supplies to the patriots.

Neutral correspondents in Berlin said Nazi military commentators theorized that Tito is using strong forces to keep a path clear for an allied thrust from the Adriatic into central Bosnia.

A Budapest dispatch via Stockholm said a state of emergency was clamped on Zagreb, capital of puppet Croatia, by the Ante Pavelic regime from 11 p. m. Saturday until 2 p. m. Sunday, during which many were arrested. The intention apparently was to try to trap all Partisan sympathizers.

Smash Supply Ships.

CAIRO, Egypt, Jan. 16 (AP).—Eighteen enemy ships and boats attempting to maintain supply lines to their Aegean Island defenses were left burning from low flying R. A. F. attacks in the last three days, a middle east bulletin announced today. The attacks ranged from near the shores of Greece in the Cyclades to Rhodes in the Dodecanese.

An escort vessel and two luggers were left aflame near Hydra in the west Aegean, one of two launches attacked off Mykonos was set afire, four sailing ships in Paros Island harbor were bombed and left enveloped in flame, and nine large vessels were left sinking or in flames from a repeat attack on Paros, on Amorgos and in sweeps near Seriphos and Anaphe Islands, the bulletin said.

Messerschmitts unsuccessfully tried to beat off the raiders, but only one British plane was lost.

BULGARIA CALLS ALL RESERVISTS TO ARMS TODAY

Nazi Move Toward Turkey Hinted.

[By Wireless to the New York Times and The Chicago Tribune.]

BERNE, Switzerland, Jan. 16.—Minister of War Gen. Nikola Michov, today called all reserve officers of the Bulgarian army, on leave or not yet called into service, to report at mobilization centers by tomorrow noon for further orders. The call was issued from Stara Zagora, the new seat of the Bulgarian government following its evacuation from Sofia. This order was broadcast at hourly intervals thruout the afternoon.

Among other measures announced during the day was the creation of special military tribunals thruout the country to try persons accused of "hindering the country's war effort"; the declaration of a 15 day moratorium on all public and private debts; the closing of schools, and finally the decreeing of a civilian "travel curfew" between 5 p. m. and 8 a. m.

Planned Six Weeks Ago.

Tho coming two weeks after the Muchanov coup d'etat, today's moves are understood to have been planned about six weeks ago. A neutral traveler who has just returned from Bulgaria stated that as far as could be gathered at the time from the confused situation prevailing in the Bulgarian capital after Gen. Michov's betrayal to the Germans of opposition leader Stoichev Muchanov's plans, the latter's Peasant party had planned its coup d'etat because it feared that today's measures were about to be carried out.

Neutral observers tonight reported "considerable nervousness" prevailing in Balkan diplomatic circles here. Reports reaching these circles during the past 48 hours indicate growing belief in Balkan capitals that the Wilhelmstrasse spokesman's boasts of a secret German reserve army about to be thrown into the balance may not be entirely bluff. The forthcoming fray, according to some indications here tonight, could easily be a drive toward the straits of the Dardanelles—a move which could be described as a "preventive war" against Turkey.

Would Free 32 Divisions.

On the credit side of such a move, argue neutral military experts here, would be the liberation of at least part of the 32 German divisions at present immobilized in the Balkan peninsula; the securing of the Dardanelles from use by the allies for naval action against German Black sea positions and communications in Russia, and finally, the creation of a strategic position at the southern end of the Balkan peninsula which could immensely enhance Germany's chances of holding out against a large scale drive toward the Danube basin.

German military experts seem to be convinced that allied preparations to aid in the defense of Turkey need a minimum of another four months before they can be "reasonably" described as adequate.

13 ILLINOISANS IN AFRICA AWARDED FLYING MEDALS

Washington, D. C., Jan. 16 (AP).—Awards of the soldier's medal to one Illinois member of the United States army 12th air force in North Africa and the distinguished flying cross to 12 others were announced by the war department today. The flyers and their awards were:

Sgt. Victor J. Patrizi.

The soldier's medal was presented to Sgt. Warren J. Mann, Brighton, for heroism while serving as crew member of a C-47 type aircraft carrying paratroops to Sicily on June 11, 1943. Mann risked his life to aid his wounded comrades when his plane was forced to crash-land on the sea after dropping the troopers in the designated zone.

As his aircraft settled in the water, Mann inflated a life raft and placed his injured crew chief aboard it, pushing the raft clear of the plane. Then he assisted in lifting his dazed co-pilot thru the escape hatch. Altho the plane was almost submerged, Mann remained inside in an effort to save his navigator, but was unable to extricate the unconscious officer.

Win Flying Crosses.

The distinguished flying cross was awarded to: Maj. Joseph R. Holzapple, Minier; Maj. Albert Orance, 6512 South Union avenue, Chicago; Capt. Robert C. Hemphill, Jacksonville; Capt. Marlow J. Leikness, Danville, and Staff Sgt. Robert J. Brennan, East St. Louis.

First Lt. James E. Bower, Xenia, pilot of a P-38. While on a bomber escort mission over Sardinia last June, Bower's formation was attacked by 20 German fighter planes.

Sighting a lone damaged P-38 trying to get away from three ME-109s which were attacking from behind, he dived in front of these enemy aircraft, thus drawing their fire away from his comrade. The Germans, apparently believing he was hit, broke off their attacks and started to attack Bower. He turned into the enemy fighters, destroying their leader and forcing the others to break off their attacks.

Captured Pilot Honored.

First Lt. Claude R. Kinsey Jr., Aurora, for distinguishing himself as a combat pilot and flight leader. He destroyed five enemy aircraft, probably destroyed two more, and damaged one.

Over the Sicilian straits last May, Kinsey led his flight with consummate skill and daring when his squadron attacked more than 40 JU-52s escorted by 22 flighter aircraft. Our fighters destroyed 15 enemy planes, probably destroyed three others, and damaged six. Kinsey was last seen in desperate combat, protecting the rear of his formation, and was captured by the Italians but released after the surrender of Italy and returned to duty.

Flight Officer Fred J. Haupt, Brookfield; Flight Officer Herbert C. Hickman, Bethalto; Tech. Sgt. Victor J. Patrizi, 1618 Butler street, Chicago Heights.

Staff Sgt. William J. Bland, Chestnut, waist gunner on a Flying Fortress. While over Messina on May 25, a large number of enemy fighters attacked his formation, and the gunner opposite Bland's position became faint from anoxemia, Bland assisted his comrade to an oxygen outlet in the radio room, and then alternately manned both waist guns, shooting down one ME-109 and damaging several others.

When a bullet struck his ammunition box, setting it afire and exploding some of the cartridges, Bland smothered the flames with his heavy jacket.

Sgt. Edward B. Wisowaty, 2026 Moffat street, Chicago, waist gunner on a Flying Fortress, on a bombing mission over Tunis on Dec. 13, 1942, heard a call for help from his tail gunner. Removing his oxygen mask, he went to the tail position, where he found the gunner semi-conscious from anoxemia because his oxygen line had been severed.

Wisowaty carried his helpless comrade to the radio room and revived him. Then, donning an emergency mask, he took over the tail guns and aided in the destruction of one enemy fighter.

PVT. M'INTOSH STARTS 'HARD LABOR' TODAY

Pvt. Charles L. F. McIntosh, 30 years old, who married Mrs. Alice Rand De Tarnowsky, Barrington heiress, while absent without leave from the army, will be committed to the barbwire inclosed rehabilitation center at Fort Sheridan this morning for six months of hard labor and hard drilling.

As a prisoner, the red haired soldier, son of a wealthy Muskegon, Mich., merchant, will receive no army pay, and will be allowed to spend only $2 a month of his personal funds. After a quarantine period of 15 days, during which he will not be permitted to have visitors, or to receive or write letters, he will be allowed visitors on Sundays. They can bring him gifts that are not edible.

McIntosh had been sentenced by a court martial to 10 years at hard labor and dishonorable discharge, but Maj. Gen. H. S. Aurand has reduced the sentence. If he is rehabilitated for useful army service after six months, the sentence will be suspended.

MIGHTIEST U. S. BOMBER LISTED AS 'SUPER-FORT'

Washington, D. C., Jan. 16 (AP).—The United States' mightiest bomber, B-29, has been given the official name of "Super-Fortress."

The announcement appeared today in a statement by the joint aircraft committee, on which American and British military and naval services are represented, which reported that a long range policy for naming warplanes had been agreed upon.

NAZI PLANE CITY CEASES TO EXIST, SWEDEN IS TOLD

Report 12,000 Killed in Brunswick Raid.

Planes Over Hungary

STOCKHOLM, Jan. 17 [Monday]—(AP).—Two big forces of allied planes passed over western Hungary yesterday, indicating a raid on Austria, a dispatch from Budapest said early today. One force was reported over Hungary between 11:45 a. m. and 1 p. m. and the second between 1:45 and 2:10 p. m.

LONDON, Jan. 16 (AP).—The German airplane manufacturing city of Brunswick has "ceased to exist" after the R. A. F.'s 2,000 ton bombing Friday night, a Stockholm dispatch declared today. Neutral reporters estimated that 12,000 persons were killed and 50,000 bombed out.

The R. A. F. at the same time announced that nearly 30 per cent of Leipzig's most densely built-up areas had been devastated in the surprise assault of Dec. 3.

Air activity today from Britain was restricted to offensive patrols by R. A. F. Spitfires and Typhoons. The Typhoons attacked supply buildings in Brittany near Morlaix, dropping the bombs from 150 feet. All of the planes returned. German raiders dropped bombs last night at scattered points in England, and caused an alert in London. One raider was destroyed.

The Paris radio network left the air tonight, sometimes an indication that the R. A. F. is carrying out a night raiding mission. The Swiss radio said Nazi occupied Zagreb, in northern Jugo-Slavia, had an hour alert in midday, with all its communications cut temporarily.

Flee to Mountains.

The Stockholm newspaper, Aftontidningen, quoting a private report, declared the population of Brunswick in central Germany fled from the burning city into the Harz mountains after the attack, the most concentrated raid in aerial warfare history. Many barracks for foreign workers were destroyed, the newspaper added.

The bomb load on Brunswick was released in 23 minutes, for a record concentration of 87 tons per minute.

Reporting after photographic interpretation of ruins in Leipzig, the R. A. F. said the greatest areas of damage centered around the main railroad station in the reich's third industrial city. Interpreters said 127 factories had been hit.

Leipzig, a city of 700,000, serves as a supply gateway to the Baltic front in Russia, and produces large quantities of machinery, chemicals, surgical instruments, textiles, and rubber goods.

Catch City Unprepared.

The British caught it unprepared by sweeping almost to the outskirts of Berlin, then veering 100 miles southwest to bombard the city with 1,500 tons of high explosives and incendiaries. The Germans later admitted that much of Leipzig's fire-fighting force was working in Berlin at the time.

Photographs showed more than one-third of the Leipziger wool-combing plant was destroyed. This was the third largest works of its kind in Germany.

Nearly half of a factory making aircraft components was wrecked and more than three-quarters of the whole Leipzig fair area was devastated, with not one of 17 larger buildings remaining intact. These buildings were reported to have been converted into a Junkers aircraft assembly plant.

Besides damage to the main railway station, sheds and rolling stock were destroyed by fire, and administration buildings were ruined.

NAZIS PLAN TEST OF 'LIQUID AIR' ROCKET, REPORT

May Try New Bomb on Russian Front.

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, Jan. 16 (AP).—Swedish newspapers reported today that the Germans may put a new "liquid air" bomb to practical test on the Russian front preliminary to using it against Great Britain.

This secret rocket bomb, somewhat different from the type of rocket which has been the basis of much recent German home front propaganda, is reported about ready for war front trial.

The Swedish newspaper Stockholms-Tidningen said neutral military experts have received information that the bomb is propelled to fantastic altitudes by rocket power and then glides to its target, spreading destruction over a radius of more than 400 yards.

Released from Transport Plane.

This bomb can travel 70 miles and is released from a transport plane flying at an altitude of more than three miles, the newspaper stated. It added that neutral military experts reported—altho other experts were skeptical—that the rocket rises to an altitude of 30 to 37 miles before it starts to glide.

Preliminary tests of the bomb have been made in Austria near Boden lake, the newspaper quoted neutral sources as reporting. One eyewitness said, "It was as if bushes, trees, and everything had been smashed to atoms by the blast. A strange-looking orange and blue flame hangs in the air for minutes afterward."

Driven by Explosive.

The rocket bomb, these sources reported, is composed of three chambers. One is loaded with approximately 1,000 pounds of "liquid air," the second with between 500 and 700 pounds of explosive fluid, which drives the rocket, and the third with a quicksilver detonation fuse which is set off by a radioactive salt solution.

Previously, the Germans had been reported to have ready for use against Britain another type of rocket shell which is fired from a cannon.

MEMORIAL HELD FOR VICTIMS OF WARSHIP BLAST

New York, Jan. 16 (AP).—A memorial service in tribute to officers and men who lost their lives on the destroyer Turner when it exploded and sank Jan. 3 in lower New York bay was held today at the navy receiving station in Brooklyn.

Among the 400 who attended, including relatives and friends who had come from as far as Colorado and Texas, were 60 of the 163 surviving crew members.

Giving the tribute, Capt. George W. Johnson of the navy, said the spirit of the dead crewmen "will live forever in the heart of a grateful nation." The number of casualties aboard the Turner has not been announced.

WOMAN HURT IN FALL DIES.

Mrs. Lydia Heger, 70 years old, 5310 Belle Plaine avenue, died in Garfield Park Community hospital yesterday from a fractured skull received when she fell down the steps of her home Saturday.

RABBI CHARGES UNTRUE WIVES EMBITTER YANKS

Rabbi Barnett Brickner.

NAPLES, Italy, Jan. 16 (AP).—United States troops overseas are bitter over reports of deterioration in standards of sexual morality back home, and are afraid they won't find the things they cherish when they return, Rabbi Barnett Brickner of the National Jewish Welfare board said today.

Rabbi Brickner, administrative chairman of the committee on army and navy religious activities and rabbi at the Euclid Avenue temple, Cleveland, O., has circled the globe in a tour of war theaters.

The men "realize the war has given women more opportunities for extramarital affairs," he said. "Many men receive word their wives want divorces. While they are out here fighting, that is a terrible tragedy. They are very bitter about it."

Finds More Religion.

Rabbi Brickner said he had reached the following conclusions:

There is an enormous recrudescence of the religious spirit among the men and a decrease in narrow denominationalism and racial prejudice.

It is probable that when the men return from overseas they will demand "more true religion and less dogma in their churches." The present demand is for a higher type of entertainment, and better education regarding the ideals and objectives of this war.

"There is a greater response to religion now than there was from the same men when they were civilians," Brickner said. "This is not a temporary thing. It endures after the men come out of combat."

Practically No Anti-Semitism.

He asserted, too, that both Jews and Negroes with whom he had spoken told him they seldom met prejudices in the army and "there's practically no anti-Semitism in the army."

Brickner added he had encountered a belief that there should be more rotation of divisions, but "that has not interfered with their fighting spirit."

His opinion on morality among the services is that it varies in different places.

"Frequently among troops in the rear areas, where the men haven't enough to do to keep busy, it is definitely a headache to commanding officers," he said.

Briton Finds $5 Bill from America Only Historical

LONDON, Jan. 16 (AP).—An Englishman dropped into the Fleet street branch of Barclay's bank with a battered American $5 bill to see if he could get English money for it. The bank passed the question on to an Associated Press correspondent, who advised the note's value was chiefly historical. It bore the heading, "The Confederate States of America."

FIND TRIBUNE, 50 YEARS OLD, IN FIELD STORE

A 50 year old copy of THE TRIBUNE was found recently under a window sill on the fourth floor of the Wabash avenue side of the Marshall Field & Co. building by George W. Allen, 7733 Saginaw avenue, a construction engineer in the company's maintenance division.

Allen, who found the paper during a repair job, said it apparently had been placed there by workmen during the building's construction to halt mortar seepage.

Several department heads at the store scanned it with interest, because of two Field advertisments showing the clothing and millinery of a half century ago.

OPA GUINEA PIG HOUSEWIFE LOST IN PRICE MIRE

$5,600 Expert Is Typical in Typical Way.

BY MARCIA WINN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Mrs. Leone Crowley.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 16.—Mrs. Leone Crowlie appeared on the national scene 10 months ago with much official hoopla and the title of America's typical housewife. She was given this title by the office of price administration, which hired her as its $5,600 guinea pig.

The OPA, so the story then went, was to operate on Mrs. Crowlie's mind and housewifely instincts. She was to tell them what was wrong with OPA operations. She was going to fix things up so that every housewife in the country would be happy about the price of butter and eggs, the strange manifestations of their butchers, and the number of threads in a square inch of war time gingham.

Ten months have passed, and the typical American housewife, Mrs. Crowlie, is so typical an American housewife that if you call the OPA and try to find her by telephone, OPA officials race around for half an hour before discovering she works there. The OPA seems to be as unaware of Mrs. Crowlie as Mrs. Crowlie, in a half hour interview, showed herself to be of the price of foods.

Speaks to Multitude.

All in all, it is a strange circle, and members of the press here in Washington must have known what they were talking about when they forewarned this writer, "O, don't bother to see her. If she's a typical housewife, she certainly is letting the housewives down."

Mrs. Crowlie was found in her office with two secretaries in front of her. She is 41, with brown hair and gray-green eyes and an oracular manner of speaking. She accomplishes this with her voice, but she accomplishes an extraordinary addition to this by her gesticulations, which gives the listener the impression Mrs. Crowlie is speaking not to you but to vast, unseen multitudes, probably an audience packed with members of the General Federation of Women's clubs, of which she served as district president from her home in Huron, S. D.

She settled back amiably for a discussion of herself. She has always been a busy lady, and gave up three jobs to come to Washington. She was child welfare chairman of the American Legion auxiliary, state chairman of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, and state vice chairman of the state Democratic committee.

Not Really an "Expert."

But she was given her present job, she said, because after the OPA had been besieged with letters from ladies urging the appointment of a woman in the setup, the OPA wanted some one who "was not an expert in home economics, some one who had learned the hard way, some one who "was from a food producing area."

Her husband, Philip, still is in Huron, where he manages a hospital. She has three children. One, her oldest son, Roderick, was wounded in Sicily and brought to this country to recuperate. The other two are in private schools. She now lives in a hotel room and eats her meals on trains, in hotels, and in restaurants.

Talks to People.

"I go around and talk to people to find what housewives want, what they think should be different, and tell them why it is not feasible."

"What do they want?" she was asked.

"Well," she said. "They think red points should be transferable, that you should be able to give them away if you can't use them."

"And what do you tell them?"

"I tell them it isn't just a matter of giving somebody else more, but of giving somebody else less."

"What do you mean?" she was asked.

"I mean," she said firmly, "that we consider this a fair method."

"But why can't I, for example, do what I please with the red points issued to me?"

"It isn't fair," she said with a grim smile.

"What else do the women say?"

"Well," she began. "I have just been all over the far west cattle states. People there have the problem of feeding hired help. They have read in the papers that increased allotments of sugar have been made to industry. They say, why not to housewives?"

"What has been done about that?"

"I am going to confer with my advisory committee," she said. "This has just been set up."

"Is that all the housewives complained about?"

Disgusted with Gewgaws.

"No. There is the problem of children's underwear and children's school clothes. Women are disgusted at all the gewgaws being made for women and nothing for children."

"What are you going to do?"

"I don't know. I don't know what anybody can do. It's not as much OPA's problem as it is WPB's."

"What do women say about prices?"

"O, of course women are for price control. What they want is stricter price control. They'd like to see prices rolled back. They want to know how to tell ceiling prices. I tell them to look for the ticket on everything they buy."

"Is there one?"

Lost on Clothing.

"That's just it. There should be, but usually there isn't, especially on clothing. You're lost on clothing."

"Do you think women are more worried about clothing than about food?"

"Yes, and seriously out in that land of abundance where I have been."

"How about the country as a whole?"

"I couldn't answer that particularly, but I think it is harder to get clothes than food."

"Some people," she added, "think the price of food has gone up extremely, but I disagree. I don't think it has gone up in at all the same ratio as clothing."

"What do you think is a fair price for an eight ounce loaf of bread?" she was asked.

"I think it is selling at a fair price now," she countered.

"What do you think of the price of pork chops?"

"That is regulated by the supply."

"Do you shop?"

"Not here, of course, but I don't think that makes any difference. Prices are going up anyway. Transportation is terrible. That's what I tell the women. I try and make them understand these things. Then they will understand the OPA. I tell them they can get along."

"How about those exorbitant prices for oranges last summer and fall?"

"Oranges?" wonderingly.

Oranges Unnecessary.

"For a while there were none. Then they were two for a quarter."

"O, no, never that," she corrected.

"They were that in Chicago."

"Well," laughingly, "what do you have to have oranges for? My children were with me last summer, and we got along."

"Some people give it to their babies. Others like it for breakfast."

"Tomato juice is just as good," she said.

"But tomato juice takes points."

"O, I bought fresh tomatoes," she said quickly.

"But weren't they terribly expensive then?"

"O, no. I got four pounds for a quarter." Mrs. Crowlie was incredulous when told no one else did.

A Trifle Flustered.

"And you cooked them and made tomato juice?"

"O, no!" in astonishment. "I sliced them."

"And had sliced tomatoes for breakfast?"

"O, no!" pityingly. "Just so you get your vitamin C some time during the day it doesn't matter. It was the fresh cabbage season in this part of the country."

At this point Mrs. Crowlie, a trifle flustered, said she simply had to go to her advisory council meeting.

"It's a pretty big business, telling the OPA what women want," Mrs. Crowlie concluded.

BOMBS, POLITICS SEEN AS KEY TO ALLIED INVASION

BY COL. CONRAD H. LANZA.

[Regular contributor to the Field Artillery Journal and recognized as an authority on military matters.]

[Second of two articles discussing allied plans for a second front.]

At the conclusion of the Quebec conference, Prime Minister Churchill made an announcement about the second front. On Aug. 31 he said:

"I look forward to the day when British and American liberating armies will cross the channel in full force and come to close quarters with the German invaders of France. You would certainly not wish me to tell you when that is likely to happen, or whether it be near or far, but whenever the great blow is struck you may be sure it will be because we [President Roosevelt and himself] are satisfied that there is a good prospect of continuing success, and that our soldiers' lives are expended in accordance with sound military plans and not squandered for political consideration of any kind."

The reference to "political consideration" has not been explained. Neither in the United States nor in Britain has the second front been a political question. The term may have referred to foreign political considerations. In this sense Mr. Churchill's statement is clear.

Bomb Offensive a Key Factor.

The second front would be made when the allied military advisers thought the right time had arrived. This, in turn, depends on the time required for the bombing campaign, decided upon in May and then in progress, to succeed. Nobody knew what this date would be, altho there were hopes that it might not be far off.

How much consideration was given to the second front at the Moscow conference is not known, but it had a large place in the Teheran conference. The conclusion reached was published in a joint communication Dec. 1, signed, "Roosevelt-Stalin-Churchill," which read:

"We have reached complete agreement as to the scope and timing of operations which will be undertaken [against Germany] from the east, west and south."

Commanders Selected.

Judging by this statement, a definite date has been fixed for the invasion of western Europe, that is, for the second front. In furtherance of this decision, commanders were appointed and authoritative announcements said the second front was imminent.

As Germany has not collapsed as the result of the bombing campaign, the avoidance of the loss of "hundreds of thousands of lives" no longer can be counted on. This possibility is being accepted. Warnings have been issued in Washington, D. C., and in London to be prepared for long casualty lists.

This change in the allied strategy is explainable by the attitude of Russia. For well over two years she has been fighting a bloody, devastating war. Her demand for allied troops to share her blood losses is no different from the demand of France in 1939 for more British troops to bolster her front. Nor from French and British demands in World War I. for American troops to help out in what seemed to be an unbearable burden.

Reds Seek to Cut Losses.

Russian troops cracked in 1917. Tho extremely brave, they are not supermen. They bitterly hate the Germans and desire to punish them for their own unparalleled losses of lives and property. They want the second front in order to shorten their own sufferings.

Premier Josef Stalin knows his people. The Russian secret police have good information as to what the Russian people think. Stalin may desire not to push them to extremes, as happened in 1917. There is a limit to everything. The Russian people are being encouraged by the promise that the second front is really going to start this time.

No one knows whether the invasion of western Europe will cost hundreds of thousands of allied lives. There is reason to believe that Germany, to discourage the second front, has exaggerated the strength of her defenses and the size of her forces. Still, the invasion, especially if made in the unfavorable winter season, will be a serious business.

I'm Ready, Hitler Claims.

If the second front [that is, the invasion of western Europe] succeeds, the war against Germany should be over soon. If it should fail, Germany would have another chance. It would take considerable time to prepare a second invasion force. While this was being done, Germany could concentrate her forces against Russia.

In his speeches Adolf Hitler has dared the allies to come on with their invasion. He claims to be ready to receive it. It probably would be advantageous to Germany for the invasion to take place this winter. With the help of bad weather, Germany hopes to be able to defeat it. This would result in a prolongation of the war, which Germany believes might discourage the allies sufficiently to insure a negotiated peace.

British reports are that the best German troops and equipment are being assembled in north France and the Low countries. They are about as ready as they can be for the coming battle. The change in the allied strategical plan made at the Teheran conference may result in the crucial test at an early date.

NEW GUERRILLA BAND FORMED BY GREEK LEADER

CAIRO, Egypt, Jan. 16 (AP).—Col. Napoleon Zervas, regarded by the allies as Greece's ablest guerrilla leader, has broken with the old Zervas, or Eddes, underground and organized a new guerrilla movement of his own, it was learned here today.

The new organization has established headquarters in the mountains of Zervas' native district of Epirus and has taken the name "National Andartes bands." It is the only guerrilla organization in Greece actually in contact with the enemy at the moment.

The break was said to have come when Zervas learned that certain Eddes central committee members had been bribed by the puppet Greek government to carry on fratricidal warfare between the uncoördinated anti-Hitler groups in the country.

TWO DEMOCRAT BLOCS SET FOR CAPITAL MARCH

One Out for the Scalp of Harry Hopkins.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 16 (AP).—The Democratic national organization is in for a little western and southern "bloc" trouble this week, in advance of its Saturday meeting to select a convention site and probably name a new committee chairman to succeed Frank C. Walker.

James Quigley.

National Committeeman James C. Quigley of Nebraska is bringing a group of committee members and state chairmen here Friday from 13 western states to voice a group protest against administration appointments in their areas.

Democratic national headquarters understands the westerners "have it in" for Harry L. Hopkins, presidential adviser, and are ready to complain about appointments by agricultural Secretary Wickard and A. G. Black, head of the farm credit administration.

Act as a Unit.

Quigley has said the western group will try to determine a course of action "as a bloc or unit." Two of his chief protests, it is known at headquarters, are appointments of Frank L. Robinson of Kearney, Neb., and Jess Alton of Mondamin, Ia., as bank directors in the farm credit system. Quigley is said to have recommended Luther Bonham of Fairbury, Neb., and J. E. Gatens of Denison, Ia.

Headquarters officials described Robinson as a Roosevelt Republican and Alton as an unsuccessful Democratic candidate for the house in 1942 against Rep. Ben F. Jensen, Republican. They said both had the backing of the Farmers' union and interested senators.

The southern "bloc" trouble is the perennial fight of southern governors to get reduced freight rates comparable to other regions. They also have patronage complaints, especially involving OPA. The governors will meet here tomorrow and during their stay will be asked to luncheon at the White House.

The luncheon will give them an opportunity to lay other party complaints before President Roosevelt in advance of the national committee meeting.

Dinner Set for Saturday.

The Saturday meeting calls for a 12 hour business session followed by the annual fund raising Jackson day dinner at the Mayflower hotel.

The committee is expected to receive Walker's resignation as chairman and probably name Robert E. Hannegan, 40 year old St. Louis attorney, now commissioner of internal revenue, as his successor.

The committee also plans to select Chicago as the site for the national convention, to be held around mid-July. Walker still favors a short Presidential campaign, but says if the Democrats are to cut expenses by sharing the same stadium setup made for the Republican meeting, June 26, they will have to meet earlier than August or September.

Each day the stadium is not used after the Republicans vacate it will cost the Democrats $5,000.

Nazi Gen. Von Rundstedt's Son Is Captured by British

CAIRO, Egypt, Jan. 16 (AP).—A German corporal, the son of Field Marshal Gen. Karl von Rundstedt, serving on the Adriatic front in Italy, was captured recently by a British patrol, it was learned today. Corp. Von Rundstedt was a member of an observation post party. He told his captors that the observation post was his first task after returning from a week's leave in Berlin, where he witnessed two heavy raids on the Nazi capital.

MARINE MEETS A CROCODILE ON PACIFIC ISLAND

The closest call Pvt. Thomas Austin Lucas Jr., 24 years old, of the marines, ever had during the battle of Guadalcanal was the night he went down to a stream to wash and met a crocodile, he said last night. He was visiting Chicago while en route from Washington, D. C., to his home in Houston, Tex.

Thomas A. Lucas Jr.

Another marine shot the crocodile, which wasn't feeling well because the marines had poured oil into the stream to combat mosquitos. Pvt. Lucas, a sharpshooter with the Browning automatic rifle, admitted that the Japanese are "tricky little fighters," but added: "We are a cinch." He spent about 40 days in combat on Guadalcanal until he was felled by malaria.

Of the fighting, he said it is surprising how quickly a marine gets used to seeing his friends and enemies being killed. The Japanese, he observed, "really holler" when they are hit. Pvt. Lucas, who enlisted on Aug. 21, 1940, wears a variety of medals.

Seize Slugging Suspect for Attacking Policeman

Elijah White, 21 years old, Negro, 633 Maxwell street, was seized yesterday on a charge of having slugged Policeman Eugene McCoy at 14th and Halsted street as he was telephoning for a patrol to take two other Negroes to the Maxwell street station lockup. McCoy said he had seized the others, Henry Cook, 18, of 719 Barber street, and Donald Wilson, 14, of 559 West 14th street for questioning about a robbery. Cook and Wilson also are held.

STATE TICKET IS TOPIC TODAY FOR DEMOCRATS

While Illinois Democrats are searching with increasing concern for a gubernatorial candidate to head their state ticket in the coming campaign, Republicans have completed plans for a seven week tour that will carry Gov. Green and other state candidates into all counties of the state outside of Cook county. Plans for the Cook county tour in the closing weeks before the April 11 primary will be completed later.

Edward P. Allen.

Chairman Edward P. Allen of Quincy has called a meeting of the Democratic state central committee in Springfield today in advance of this evening's annual Jackson day banquet, at which Sen. Lucas will be the keynote speaker. Principal topic at this meeting, with Lucas expected to attend, will be possible candidates for governor.

Hughes Appears to Have Call.

Secretary of State Hughes is the odds-on favorite of party members. Hughes is now on vacation in Arizona and, while his final decision is not expected until his return late this month, most party leaders are convinced his health will not permit him to enter the race. Second choice is State's Atty. Courtney of Cook county, but Courtney is not showing any enthusiasm for the contest.

A number of dark horses are being mentioned by party members, among the latest being Dr. Karl A. Meyer, medical superintendent of Cook county institutions and trustee of the University of Illinois, and United States District Judge William J. Campbell, who said he was flattered but had no intention of leaving the federal bench to which he was appointed by President Roosevelt three years ago.

Republicans Start Monday.

The Republican downstate campaign will get under way at Springfield next Monday when 400 Republican women leaders of the state will meet the state candidates at a luncheon in the Abraham Lincoln hotel, followed by a reception and tea at 4 p. m. in the executive mansion.

Starting next day with Gov. Green will be a cavalcade that will include Richard J. Lyons, candidate for nomination for United States senator; Lt. Gov. Cross; State Sen. Arnold P. Benson, aspirant for secretary of state; State Auditor Lueder; Conrad F. Becker, candidate for nomination for state treasurer; Atty. Gen. Barrett; Earle B. Searcy, aspirant for clerk of the Supreme court, and Congressman at Large Day. Cross, Lueder, Barrett, and Day are seeking reëlection.

The first week's schedule of the tour is:

Jan. 25—Effingham, 10 a. m.; Toledo, 2 p. m.; Newton, 4 p. m.; Robinson, 7:30 p. m.; Lawrenceville, 8 p. m.

Jan. 26—Marshall, 10 a. m.; Paris, 2 p. m.; Tuscola, 4 p. m.; Mattoon, 7:30 p. m.; Charleston, 8 p. m.

Jan. 27—Shelbyville, 10 a. m.; Sullivan, 2 p. m.; Monticello, 4 p. m.; Decatur, 8 p. m.

Jan. 28—Vandalia, 10 a. m.; Carlyle, 2 p. m.; Greenville, 4 p. m.; Hillsboro, 7:30 p. m.; Carlinville, 8 p. m.

Jan. 29—Jerseyville, 10 a. m.; Carrollton, 2 p. m.; Pittsfield, 4 p. m.; Winchester, 7:30 p. m.; Jacksonville, 8 p. m.

F. D. R. PRAISES EFFORTS TO AID 'NEW AMERICANS'

New York, Jan. 16 (AP).—President Roosevelt said in a letter read today that the National Refuge service was largely responsible "for the successful program of aid to new Americans" and added it was heartening that "our country is prepared to continue the well conceived and effective program for aiding newcomers to fulfill their hopes of becoming good Americans." The President's letter, read by Joseph P. Chamberlain, law professor of Columbia university and board chairman of the service, at the end of a two day conference of the organization, complimented it on the completion of five years "of outstanding service."

SPURN POST-WAR 'PAIN KILLERS,' LABOR ADVISED

Production Is Only Sure Means—Gov. Green.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 16.—Only production can spell prosperity, Gov. Dwight H. Green today told the Illinois Building Trades council, at the same time pointing to the state's 400 million dollar unemployment compensation fund, and its record-breaking 73 million dollar surplus for post-war aid to the jobless.

Such "pain killers" are no substitute for economic health, he said, and this must be kept foremost in mind approaching the perils lying ahead. There is no more time for extravagant trial and error, he added.

Gov. Green declared: "The philosophy of scarcity, in all its ramifications, must go.

Need Labor Leadership.

"The times call for a leadership in labor which will insist upon being free. It must ask no quarter. It must be free from domination from any source. It must not commit its future to any narrowly partisan group, within its own organization or within the ranks of government."

The governor said he would not presume to tell labor who its friends are, nor to advise a change in the traditional labor policy of rewarding its friends. But he cautioned labor to be careful in deciding upon its friends.

"Do not ignore long run consequences for immediate expediency," he warned. "You know the past and you possess the vision required for the future."

There will and should continue to be honest differences of opinion, Green said, and as long as these are allowed full and free hearing our democracy is functioning.

Terms Suppression a Peril.

"The danger lies not in differences, but in the suppression of those with contrary views and subsequent autocratic control.

"I do not mean to mince words. Do you think labor knows all the answers? I don't. But labor knows a great deal. And it would not be advisable, even were it possible, to shut labor out of the place of counsel it will command.

"Does management know all the answers? Of course not. But we would be foolish, even were it possible, to eliminate management from the conference table.

Raps Government Abuse.

"Does government know all the answers? No—20,000 federal 'directives' to the contrary. Government has prestige and power, however, which if not abused instills confidence and the desire to coöperate in the hearts of all."

Cash grants or low interest loans by the state to municipalities, for immediate blue printing of essential post-war public improvements, were recommended at the council meeting. These plans, delegates said, are essential if widespread unemployment is to be avoided immediately following the war's end.

Reëlected to two year terms at the close of the conference today were Patrick E. Sullivan, Chicago, president, and all other officers.

AFL TO REJECT BID TO LONDON LABOR MEETING

Inclusion of Reds Is Given as Reason.

BY GEORGE HARTMANN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Miami, Fla., Jan. 16.—The American Federation of Labor will reject the invitation of the British Trade Union congress to attend an allied nations labor union meeting planned for June 7 in London because the BTUC has invited soviet labor officials to participate, it was learned tonight on the eve of the opening Mine Workers union to the AFL executive council.

At the same time it was learned the AFL feels it has outmaneuvered both the BTUC and the CIO, which has been invited to attend the London meeting, by arranging an earlier meeting of the International Labor organization, an adjunct of the league of nations. The ILO meeting has been set tentatively for April 20 in Philadelphia, Pa.

William Green, president of the AFL, George Meany, AFL secretary-treasurer, and the 11 vice presidents of the federation who comprise the council are here tonight preparing for the two week session.

The ILO meeting, which was arranged by Robert Watt, AFL international representative who visited London recently on President Green's orders, will upset any action taken at the London meeting because the ILO is the recognized international organization formed to deal with labor problems, AFL officials said.

Neither the soviet unions nor the CIO have been allowed representation in the ILO, which was conceived by Samuel Gompers, former AFL president, at the peace table after the World war.

AFL leaders say it is planned at the ILO meeting to draft plans and recommendations for an international post-war labor policy including the establishment of minimum standards of wages and working conditions for all nations.

During its meeting the council is expected to provide for the return of John L. Lewis and his United Mine Workers union to the AFL fold.

NEW DEAL TO PUSH SOCIALIZED MEDICINE IDEA, REP. DAY SAYS

Washington, D. C., Jan. 16 (AP).—Rep. Day [R., Ill.] said today that "a major plank" in President Roosevelt's fourth term platform will "place all practicing physicians on the pay roll of the federal government and put all hospitals under direct ownership of the United States public health service."

"The President tells us the New Deal is in mothballs for the duration," Rep. Day said in a statement, "but his message to congress last Tuesday reaffirmed personal support of all the socialistic objectives of the first brain trust, including federalized medicine and hospitalization."

Rep. Day said a bill now before congress, introduced last June by Sen. Wagner [D., N. Y.] and Rep. Dingell [D., Mich.], would set up a program for socialized medicine which, if enacted, would result in the collection of an estimated 3 billion dollars annually thru an additional pay roll tax.

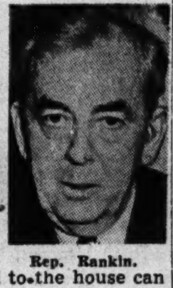
ADMINISTRATION HIT FOR BLOCKING ARMY VOTE BILL

BY PHILIP WARDEN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 16.—Representatives Vursell [R., Ill.] and Rankin [D., Miss.] today predicted speedy passage of a soldier vote bill if the Roosevelt administration "will stop its blocking and delaying tactics."



Rep. Rankin.

Vursell declared that the senate bill as revised and reported to the house can be enacted within 10 days. The amended bill retains state control of soldiers' voting, directing each state to revise its absentee voting laws to provide ballots for men and women in military service overseas and directs the army, navy, and war shipping administration to distribute the necessary voting material.

Rankin declared the measure as amended "will meet every legitimate objection, permit the armed forces to vote by absentee ballot for all offices from President down to constable and will guarantee to them the freedom to cast an untrammeled ballot."

See "Political Motive."

Charges that the Roosevelt administration has been blocking attempts of congress to write a soldier vote bill for the last 30 days while trying to force thru "for political purposes" the already twice defeated Lucas bill were made by Vursell in a sharply worded statement.

Vursell declared administration tactics in "attempting to put over such a deception as the Lucas bill will rightfully receive their condemnation" when the public learns the real purpose of the Lucas bill.

The Illinois congressman asserted the "real purpose" of the Lucas bill was to get votes for Roosevelt and Lucas and at the same time "defranchise" the 700,000 soldiers of their right to vote for state, district, or county officers.

Assails "Short" Ballot.

Vursell said the "short" ballot proposed in the Lucas bill provides that the soldier shall write in the names of his choice for President, United States senator, and congressman. On this blank ballot, he said, no provision is made for the soldier to vote for the governor of his home state, or for other state, district, or county officers.

Vursell charged Sen. Lucas and the administration wanted such a ballot because under it Lucas would have a better chance of being reëlected.

Bill Called Unfair.

"Sen. Lucas realizes he can come nearer being reëlected if the boys are not permitted to vote the whole ballot, which will contain the names of Gov. Green, Richard J. Lyons, and other state and district candidates in Illinois," Vursell declared. "The boys from Illinois serving overseas are more interested in their governor, their state, district, and county tickets, however, than they are in electing congressmen.

"We who support the state's rights bill believe that it is unfair to the service men to allow them to vote for only five candidates and refuse them the right to vote for all candidates, some 25 in number. We feel that they are entitled to the same kind of ballot, with the candidates' names on it, that we vote at home."

ILLINOIS BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY

START HEARINGS ON LABOR DRAFT BILL TOMORROW

Expect Stimson to Make Indorsement.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 16 (AP).—The national's 3½ million 4-F's—men physically unfit for military service—may be the first to feel the weight of a government labor draft if congress enacts national service legislation.

Col. F. V. Keesling Jr.

Hearings on the issue will get under way before the senate military committee Tuesday with an expected indorsement of the Austin-Wadsworth bill by Secretary of War Stimson and subsequent testimony by Lt. Col. Francis V. Keesling Jr., chief liaison and legislative officer of selective service.

Indications are that selective service officials will propose specific classifications under which single men rejected for army service would be called first in the transfer of individuals from one job to another.

Includes Men 18 to 64.

As the bill now is drafted, it would be administered by selective service under a director of national service. Men from 18 thru 64 years old and women from 18 thru 49, except mothers of children under 18, expectant mothers, those in service, and state officials, would be subject to its terms.

The bill makes no mention of the order in which the labor draft would be applied, but selective service officials are prepared to suggest that definite classifications be written into it. These probably would make single 4-F's under 30 liable first, then the same class in the age limits up to 40, and family men and women last.

See F. D. R. Backing.

Stimson's projected indorsement was accepted in congressional circles as indicating that the administration has chosen the pending bill offered by Sen. Austin [R., Vt.], and Rep. Wadsworth [D., N. Y.], as the vehicle to carry out President Roosevelt's recommendation for national service legislation.

Austin told a reporter he was not discouraged by the strong opposition that apparently has developed in congress against compulsory man power legislation at this time. A similar outcry, he said, was raised against the selective service act when it first was proposed.

Without commenting directly on the measure, Miss Perkins, secretary of labor, told a press conference yesterday that she believed war time employment has reached its peak. The coming months, she said, may bring a decline in the number of workers in the manufacturing industry.

GAMBLER SLAIN BY THREE TO BE BURIED TODAY

Services for Ben [Little Zuckie] Zuckerman, west side gambler and beer distributor who was shot to death Friday night in front of his home at 4046 Wilcox street, will be held at 2 p. m. today in the chapel at 5145 Broadway.

Zuckerman was killed by one of three gunmen who ambushed him as he approached the entrance to his home. Two of the trio remained in the waiting automobile while the third ran up to Zuckerman and fired a revolver at him at arm's length.

Police and the state's attorney's office yesterday continued their investigation into Zuckerman's gambling and business affairs, and pressed their search for three mysterious visitors to the slain man's office at the Central-West Beer Distributors, Inc., 2408 South Pulaski road, shortly before he was killed.

SYMPTOMS OF DECAY.

The office of price administration has, by a blunder, legalized what amounts to a black market in corn in the little town of Monett, Mo. When the OPA fixed the ceiling price for corn elsewhere in the country at $1.16 a bushel it fixed a price of $1.19½ at Monett. Corn dealers of the little town are doing an immense business and have no difficulty in selling all they buy to farmers, who are eager to get feed at any price. The OPA corrected the error, but the corrections and orders to the Monett dealers to cease buying at the high price became enmeshed in red tape somewhere and the buying went on.

Out in the Union stock yards the live stock dealers are struggling with the problem of homeless hogs. The OPA has set a floor of $13.75 a hundredweight under the price of all hogs weighing from 200 to 300 pounds. Hogs lighter or heavier than these government grades have been selling at a discount, sometimes of as much as a dollar or more a hundredweight. The result of this haphazard price fixing is that a packer is discouraged from buying hogs averaging from 200 to 210 pounds, because he can buy a load of hogs of almost identical butchering quality, weighing a little less than 200 pounds, for considerably less money. A similar situation applies to hogs weighing just under 300 pounds. All sorts of artifices are being used to find a market for the unwanted hogs without technical violation of the OPA orders.

Housewives and storekeepers who find themselves puzzled by the OPA ration stamps are assured, in a recent news release by the burocrats, that they haven't seen anything yet. On Feb. 27 OPA will start using two billion little red, blue, and yellow tokens for the purpose of making change in ration stamps. Thirteen stamps of four different colors will be valid at that time. Some of the stamps will be worth their face value in points and others will be good for 10 points, regardless of the values printed on them. There are added refinements, such as requirements that some of them be torn out of ration books in horizontal strips and others in vertical strips. Small grocers and butchers who are spending two or three hours at home every evening, sorting and counting their stamps, should make their reservations at mental institutions now to avoid the March 1 rush.

And have you received your 1943 income tax return? Until last year a few hardy souls still took pride in making out their returns without the aid of a professional accountant. They have all thrown up the sponge this year, and so have a good many of the accountants. The bureau of internal revenue even tried the forms out on some of its own employes and they flunked the test.

John Burnham, editor of the Wisconsin Rapids [Wis.] Tribune, was remarking in his paper the other day on the trouble that these tax estimates and all of the other paper work that the administration has forced on every citizen is making the farmers in his county. He went on to say:

"Alert, competent, doubtlessly efficient, and very aggressive young men—some of them of the same age as the farmers' sons who are in Italy or Alaska or New Guinea—tell the farmer to do this and the farmer to do that, and as you hear them and see their reams of paper handouts you grow desperately angry.

"You ask yourself: Don't these young men know what the farmers of the midwest are doing? Don't they realize the tremendous job of production which has been accomplished this last summer despite all the handicaps of labor shortage, feed shortage, machinery shortage, and vicissitudes of bugs and weather?

"Haven't these smart young men with the C cards on their auto windshields ever driven outside the city limits to see the old men and women and children—men in their 70s and children of 12 and 14 years—driving the tractors, loading the hay, cultivating the crops, filling the silos, getting the milk and pork and canning crops to the processing plants from which they went to feed the khaki-clad army strewn over five continents?

"Have we ourselves gone completely crazy or is it, as we believe, completely wrong to harry and heckle and worry and drive these old men and children who in 1942 and again in 1943 have broken all food production records in history?"

These are not just petty annoyances. They are symptoms of decay. The people of this country have become increasingly alarmed, and properly so, at the threat that Mr. Roosevelt's dictatorial tendencies will destroy our political liberties. An equally great danger is that the complicated and unworkable controls that the New Dealers have imposed on every phase of human activity, on the false claim that they are necessary to win the war, will so hamstring our every day activities of earning a living that people will have to stop doing useful things and spend all of their time telling the government what they have done or asking permission to do what they want to do.

The burden that Mr. Roosevelt has imposed on this country is not confined to the crushing national debt. There is a huge hidden cost of carrying on the tremendous paper work dictated by the New Deal. It is costing business and industry billions of dollars and consuming the services of hundreds of thousands of employes at a time when the administration is trumpeting about a man power shortage. It is driving the individual citizen close to distraction, for business alone is not the victim of this mania for complication.

The whole thesis of people who want the government to run everything is that the government can do things more efficiently. Government is running more in this country today than it ever has in history, and as a direct result the nation's affairs are messed up as they never have been messed up and the efficiency needed to win the war is seriously impaired and is being further reduced every day.

TEACHERS' SALARIES.

The rising cost of living has given the Chicago board of education an opportunity to make a salary adjustment that might better have been made long ago on grounds of educational policy. By granting pay raises to some 8,000 teachers earning less than $3,000 a year the board has gone a long way toward erasing salary differences between elementary and high school teachers. Most of the members of the lower paid group who will get the raises are in the grade schools.

There are historical reasons, but no sound educational ones, to explain why grade school teachers have been paid less than teachers in high schools. Fifty years ago a teacher, oftener than not, was only a year or so ahead of his or her pupils in education. There was then an actual difference in training to justify lower salaries in the grade schools.

In communities where elementary and high schools are in different taxing districts the high schools, because of the greater extent of their districts, are often better able to pay adequate salaries. In some of Chicago's better residential suburbs the high schools have sometimes in the past had more money than they could spend wisely, while grade schools in the same areas were chronically embarrassed for funds. These circumstances do not apply in Chicago, where all school funds come from a common source.

The idea that a grade school teacher, because the subjects she teaches are elementary, requires any less training or ability than a high school teacher is nonsense, yet in Chicago, if the best of grade school teachers want to increase their earnings, they have to take post-graduate courses to become perhaps second rate teachers of high school mathematics or literature.

Chicago teachers' salaries are, at a random guess, twice as high as the average in other cities in Illinois. This still is not too much to pay for first class teaching talent, but the school board is cheating the school children of the city by confining teaching appointments to graduates of the board's own teaching college. If examinations to fill Chicago vacancies were opened to any properly trained candidate the schools would begin to get their money's worth for the higher salary scale that they maintain.

THE MONEY CHANGERS.

Sonia Wojcikowska, Katherine Litz, Patricia O'Bryne, Dania Krupska, and Frances Spelz were the names of the five gorgeous chorus girls in "Oklahoma," whose pictures appeared in Sunday's TRIBUNE recently. The leading scorers in college basketball on a recent week-end were Todorovich, Danner, Rosenblum, and Schadler. Gen. Eisenhower is in command of the invasion troops and Werner Schroeder is Illinois' Republican national committeeman. Whatever happened to Smith and Jones? Don't they break into the news any more?

Well, sure enough, Tuesday morning Jones was in THE TRIBUNE and, oddly enough, Smith was right along with him. Rep. Robert F. Jones of Ohio, a member of the house appropriations committee, on Monday made public a letter he had written to Rep. Howard W. Smith of Virginia, chairman of the committee investigating excesses of authority by executive agencies, demanding that the operations of the Commodity Credit corporation be examined. Jones pointed out that the CCC, a corporation created in Delaware, the state of easy incorporation, had issued notes, bonds, and debentures pledging the credit of the United States and, contrary to the Constitution, had paid out money without specific authorization from congress.

Mr. Jones' point about the government's commodity company with the Delaware charter is well taken. Altho its offense is serious, it is not alone. It is just one of many. There are, of course, the old familiar names—RFC, TVA, HOLC, FHA, and REA. But many new ones have been added. How many are aware of the borrowings in the name of the government by the U. S. Commercial company, Cargoes, Inc., the Inter-American Educational Foundation, Inc., and the Institute of Inter-American Transportation. These are among the 49 government corporations and credit agencies listed in the daily statement of the United States treasury as having debts outstanding similar to those of CCC. Their total obligations amounted to 26 billion 595 million dollars on Nov. 30.

The CCC probably is the worst of the lot, since it alone not only borrows money but once a year has the cost of its mistakes wiped out and its capital restored to 100 million out of the treasury. But there are other sinners among them and Rep. Smith's fine talents will be well employed if he investigates them and lets the public have the facts.

COLLECTOR'S PIECE.

The choicest mixed metaphors do not follow the pattern of "I smell a rat, I see it in the air, we must nip it in the bud." The connoisseur prefers to such rococo items the Doric simplicity found, for example, in a recent paper by Patrick Dollan, knight and lord provost of Glasgow. The article appeared in the Sunday Mail of Dec. 5.

"Lanarkshire," says Patrick Dollan, "has been a gold mine for coal, iron, steel, and other products."

On second thought, we believe this item should be filed not under "Metaphors, mixed," but under "Bulls, Scotch-Irish." At any rate, it is freely offered to all collectors.

THE EARLY BIRD.

This column is convinced that the early bird catches the worm, not because there is any virtue in rising at the crack of dawn but because of the pitiless and biting disposition that is caused by lack of sleep. It is a mental state in which snarling at the family, gouging the customer, brooding over wrongs, and fighting duels testify to mankind's superiority over the genial, long-sleeping bear. The early bird catches the worm because he has been roused out of his beauty sleep and feels like a hellion.

* * *

The other day we sawed four hours off our normal repose by means of an alarm clock and sallied downtown on an important errand with the great body of worm-catchers. Normally we go forth when they are knocking off for lunch, but on this occasion we merged our soul with that of the masses and should have been feeling happy and democratic over this spiritual adventure. The dawn was golden; the air was crisp, and, O, what a wonderful morning—for biting tenpenny nails!

* * *

If any scientist rises to say that this irritability was caused by fatigue toxins we will deny it. We felt as strong as a horse, or at least as a Shetland pony. No yawns heaved our bosom. Our mind was clear altho not tranquil; it seemed to be running on an alternating current. Our nerves, however, displayed a tendency to jitter. In general, our mood was that of a prohibitionist; we saw quite plainly that the world needed a lot of abolishing.

* * *

The errand disposed of, we repaired to our post of duty and went thru the customary motions, which seemed utterly futile. We remembered an utterance of Bert Leston Taylor, founder of this column, to the effect that one could do twice as much work in the morning as in the afternoon. Perhaps he meant twice as much bad work. Or perhaps he was thinking of the way the hands of the clock refuse to move in such a morning as ours. Time was standing still. We had passed into a new and ghastly dimension in which there was no time. During an interminable period, whenever we glanced at the clock after finishing a chore, it was marking 11:30.

* * *

Here, then, are the common symptoms of a man who suddenly cuts his eight hours' sleep to four, and also the reasons why morning newspaper men always turn pale when pressed with invitations to luncheon.

A SPECTER CHUCKLING.

Grim Death, unheeded specter chuckling, stalks
Each city street, each rural thorofare;
With demons of speed and recklessness he walks,
And finds a harvest ripe for mowing there.

O, matchless blessing of a modern age
That gave men mastery of earth's afars,
O, curse unparalleled in place or page
For unexpected death—our motor cars!

O, mighty power beneath the gleaming hood,
Misused in reckless speed and pointless haste.
O, why must fools make evil of the good
And turn the greatest gain to greatest waste?

If fools killed only fools, we might condone
The wanton slaughter and the senseless pace;
But careful men may die, do die, alone,
While fools live on to add fools to the Race.

Calumet Winter Scene: 1890.

The winters of the 1890s were bitter cold on the Calumet prairies! After school we often skated over the miles of ice, keeping ever in mind Aunt Mary's snug little house. It was completely surrounded by sheets of ice. Over these prairies winds blew icy blasts, penetrating the warmest clothing; snows drifted and hurricaned against your face in sharp, needlelike, biting effects; breath came in short, agonizing chest stabs as we pushed against the ever-changing wind.

Out of the quick descending dusk Aunt Mary's windows glowed golden, warm, and inviting. We were quite near exhaustion as the air filled our lungs with cold chunks of chest-bursting sensations. We all but burst thru the kitchen door. Gingerly we jumped, clapping hands to once more revive numb, cold-stiffened fingers back to their normal stage. How warm, friendly, and comfortable the kitchen was, with the range smiling at us thru four rosy stove lids. The blue granite tea kettle whistled away in a self-satisfied, smug manner. Steaming hot coffee and thick slabs of homemade bread, generously buttered and baptized with lemon spiced tomato jam, together with bits of cinnamon sticks, appeased our hunger. To take the sting out of our reddened toes, Auntie insisted that we temporarily wear Uncle's carpet slippers.

We dreaded the long, cold trip back home as the warm coziness of the room teased our relaxing muscles into staying long after the approved suppertime. Reluctantly we donned the heavy, cumbersome winter clothing and shivered, aspen-like, bucking the winds again going back home.

SHERMAN SAID IT.

A Hint to Hollywood.

Linemaster: Could I enlist your support for a pet idea of mine?

A few hours or days after the average movie-goer has seen a show the family is likely to hear remarks like this:

"What was the name of the show we saw? Who played the mother-in-law? The boy was good, too; what was his name? . . . No, the newspaper ads don't mention them; no use looking."

Motion picture theaters would profit by adopting a custom of the legitimate stage—the printed playbill or program. If general distribution to patrons is regarded as impractical, such programs should be available on request.

THE PRESSURE BANDAGE IN BURNS.

THERE is scarcely a chemical known to science that has not, at some time or other, been used to counteract the effect of skin burns. Fashions in these remedies have come and gone. Tannic acid, probably the most widely adopted aid, has now been replaced in many quarters with a much older preparation, namely, a mixture of linseed oil and lime water [carron oil].

The popularity of tannic acid no doubt came about because it was so easy to employ. But difficulty was encountered due to the fact that germs were not destroyed. Only when this substance was combined with silver nitrate, gentian violet, or some other antiseptic were physicians able to control infection.

While earlier methods have not been abandoned wholly, the modern approach demands careful cleansing of the involved cuticle with soap and water. The denuded area is then protected with petroleum jelly and gauze. Pressure is applied immediately so that there will be no oozing from the tissues.

This plan is ideal in preventing shock, as in only a few instances will enough fluid be lost to necessitate transfusions or the administration of plasma. Should the blood pressure fall, however, it may be well to introduce glucose directly into a vein and utilize heat and stimulation.

This program—which was devised by Koch, Mason and Allen—appears to answer every requirement. They insist upon generous soap and water, the removal of grease with lard, while adhered clothing is moistened until it comes away easily. Even with extensive burns, no swelling has followed the application of the pressure bandage. It is rarely necessary to remove the dressing until 10 days to two weeks have elapsed. These authors report several hundred cases over a period of three years, with a present day mortality of less than 3 per cent.

As in most emergencies, the earlier that care can be given, the less likelihood will there be of infection and about all the first aider needs to do is to cover the wound with petroleum jelly, bind snugly and send the patient to the nearest hospital. Now and then the addition of sulfonamide powder has been helpful. This management has great value in wartime.

There will be many cases, of course, where the use of serum will be essential. This is particularly true if the epidermis over a large part of the body has been seriously injured. But the promise of recovery will depend, in large measure, upon retaining the patient's own fluids and here it is that compression supplies the answer. Pain hinders recovery and enough narcotic for the first two or three days will be called for to insure comfort. Of course grafts will be required where damage has been extensive.

Tannic acid spray will still remain a helpful household aid. A 5 per cent solution can be prepared quickly and may be resorted to whenever the lesion is small and is not deep. But even this is no more effective than a mixture of lime water and linseed oil.

MONEY NO OBJECT.

A. P. writes: Why is arthritis sometimes called "poor man's sickness?"

REPLY.

Arthritis is a universal malady. It attacks rich and poor alike. Good nutrition and the avoidance of exposure are preventives. "Poor" implies pity. "Poor Mr. Jones," an arthritic, may be a millionaire.

HEAD KNOCKING.

O. N. writes: I know a family with two children who like to bump their heads wherever they sit, especially when they are angry. Will this injure their brains?

REPLY.

The blows are not hard enough to cause injury. As a rule, such habits are outgrown. Lack of control is responsible.

NOT AN ANTIDOTE.

E. F. writes: Is there a chemical in carrots that counteracts the poisons secreted by the thyroid gland?

REPLY.

The chief ingredient [other than nutriment] is carotene, which is converted into vitamin A in the body. This is not a specific neutralizing agent for thyroid toxin.

VALUE OF APPLES.

G. P. writes: I have heard that all the vitamins in apples are contained in the skin. Please comment.

REPLY.

Apple parings contain small quantities of vitamins; the pulp—little or none. This fruit, however, possesses other and valuable properties.

EDEMA.

S. A. Y. writes: Could infection in any part of the body cause the eyes to become puffy?

REPLY.

Yes. Inflammation of the kidneys, or any condition responsible for the retention of fluids [swelling].

Total War.

Maybe you have heard about the decreased enrolment in the colleges and universities! Mrs. Mildred C. Barber bulletins from the University of Illinois the tale of a professor seen dashing madly thru a hall. "Hello!" an acquaintance called to him, "What's the rush?" "I'm late to class," the professor replied breathlessly, "and he's probably getting impatient."

Buried Gold.

The specter of prohibition again is abroad in the land, and at least one young Chicago woman now feels the noble experiment may not have been an unmixed evil.

Not long ago the kitchen of her remodeled near north side apartment needed new linoleum, and during the course of the operation a floor board popped out of place and up. Beneath it was an intriguing box. The girl and the linoleum man feverishly removed more boards and withdrew the box. In it were stacks of liquor labels, corks, fancy tin foil bottle tops, and other materiel of the "profession."

The linoleum man, gibbering wildly about the current liquor shortage, now fell to with a new enthusiasm. "If there are corks," he said happily, "there must be bottles, too." And then it happened: the removal of another board revealed gorgeous bottles of what appeared to be the private stock of certain former denizens of the near north side. Some of it was bath tub stuff with photographic labels, the kind you got when you gave the sign and said "Joe sent me."

After a taste of some of the private stock, the linoleum man was all for running mole-like thru the apartment, but the girl decided this would be too hard on her furnishings, and that perhaps her landlord, who is a pretty good sort, wouldn't like it. So they stopped, and for all she knows, there still may be a great unplumbed cache resting there like the oil pool under that southern capitol, and just as valuable. [Those with parched throats will now rise and sing: "I Can Dream, Can't I?"]

A little private sleuthing by the man who vouches for this tale disclosed that the place once was equipped with all the trap doors, tunnels, and other trick movie devices used by the shoulder holster gentry. It also revealed the existence of a sweet old lady, a dear little creature who went in for lavender and lace, who lived there and fronted for the gang. The revenuers couldn't believe a sweet old lady and a still could exist so companionably under one roof, but bullet holes in the walls seemed final proof. Maybe "Put that Pistol Down, Babe" isn't so new, after all.

Year's Offering.

For a while the sign on the shop window read, "Fresh bones, tails, and feet." A larger sign now offers "Fresh Brains." All of this seems a good idea at the beginning of a year which no doubt will be a bit trying.

Soldier's Prose.

A very young army private whose months in the army have been his only time away from home since his birth 20 years ago wrote his aunt from overseas:

"Next we went to a dance at a British camp outside of town. The girls were English in and out of uniform."

"What," asks his aunt, "are those girls doing to our boys?"

War Time Necessity.

The Victorian room of the Palmer House serves only one pat of butter to a customer and no longer serves cake with ice cream. A lady of our acquaintance had a dinner party there not long ago. Instead of flowers she took with her half a pound of butter and a three layer cake.

Note on Redundancy.

The two heavy set gentlemen were discussing, between wheezes, the interview in which they had just taken part. "You know," one observed profoundly, "he's not an ordinary burocrat at all." "No," the other agreed. "Not at all."

DRY ARGUMENTS.

Chicago, Jan. 12.—In THE TRIBUNE of Jan. 6 Rep. Celler [D., N. Y.] bewails the fact that the "blue noses" are about to wreck our country by bringing about a reënactment of prohibition laws. I don't think he needs to worry inasmuch as the "red noses" are doing a telling job along that way. Speaking of a "10 million dollar bank roll" in the hands of the drys for lobbying, I don't think he should worry about that either, for the wets can usually beat that 20 to 1."

If prohibition was so bad, why are conditions so much worse now, after 11 years of regulated [or unregulated] liquor domination?

How is it that about 64 per cent of the arrests in Washington, D. C., are drunks? How is it that 46,000,000 man days were lost to industry in 1942, thru drink, at a time when vital war materials were needed?

How is it that farmers are asked to cut down on their live stock production while meat is still rationed, and milk production is jeopardized by a grain shortage, yet the "patriotic" liquor crowd are crying, "We must have more grain for booze," whether there is enough for military and industrial uses or not. It is heart rending to hear the liquor interests cry, "Don't give up the sip."

With general crime increased 155 per cent since the last year of prohibition, with drunkenness increased 174 per cent and drunken driving nearly 100 per cent; with juvenile delinquency increased to the proportions of a bewildering national problem, is it not time for the "red noses" to step forward with a real solution to the crushing problem of alcoholism?

WHERE THE GIRLS CAN LEARN TO SHOOT.

Wilmette, Ill., Jan. 11.—In your column on Jan. 7, Mr. Charles Paque suggests that a school of small arms instruction would be of value as a protection against purse snatchers.

Since 1941 the National Rifle Association of America has established such schools thruout the country, and there are a goodly number in the Chicago area of which the one sponsored by the Wilmette civilian defense organization, operating in the range donated by the New Trier Township High school, is outstanding. JAMES DOIG, Instructor.

HARDSHIP HARRY'S BED OF PAIN.

Chicago, Jan. 13.—You state in your paper that Harry Hopkins is a patient at Bethesda naval hospital near Washington, D. C. It has always been my understanding that military and naval hospitals were not available to civilian public. Is Harry Hopkins qualified for the privilege as an officer, enlisted man, or employe of the navy? Apparently in voting for Roosevelt, the American people voted for Harry Hopkins.

THE OVERSEAS EDITION.

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 12.—"I found a CHICAGO TRIBUNE six weeks old and read it straight thru to the want ads"—so writes a good pal of mine, a gunner and navigator on a bomber in the South Pacific. That's why your miniature paper for boys on the battlefronts is so commendable. I hope it gets everywhere and in large quantities.

THE BUS COMPANY SETS AN EXAMPLE.

Chicago, Jan. 13.—The other morning riding on a Chicago Motor Coach company bus from the North Western railway station a sailor got on board and reached for a dime to pay for his fare. The driver held his hand over the slot and told the sailor that all men in uniform were carried free of charge. He was followed shortly after by an army man and the same procedure ensued. The two men sat together on a seat and the army man remarked, "You don't find this in very many places. They all make you pay your fare." The sailor answered, "That's right, but Chicago is a good town." Then they recited their experiences in different sections of the country, bringing out some rather unfortunate information concerning hospitality and cordiality. They ended the conversation with the mutual agreement that "Chicago is a good town."

The thought occurred to me that this public utility company was certainly building good will and conducting a campaign in public relations in that it was creating in the minds of the hundreds of young men and women passing thru Chicago or tarrying here for a few days. We might all of us even in a small way contribute to this feeling of friendliness toward Chicago. After the war these young people will be located in different sections of the country and to have Chicago remain in their minds as a "good town" will be worth much to the city's reputation.

JOYS OF FARMING.

Lake Geneva, Wis., Jan. 11.—Dear City Slicker: A good majority of you folks have the impression that us farmers are getting rich since this war started. Well, I would advise you people that think along those lines to go right out and sink your life's savings in a farm and get rich, too. After about three or four years of rolling in money made from your farm, you will get a new slant on this problem.

SAM THE FARMER.

P. S.: Farmers are exempt from the draft, too. I got my 1-A about 10 days ago.

CARTOONS IN COLOR.

Colorado Springs, Colo., Jan. 11.—I take the liberty of congratulating you upon cartoons in color, which have appeared in THE TRIBUNE of late. Particularly do I commend "Ships That Pass in the Night" of Jan. 8.

You have an innovation in the color cartoons of human interest which we may expect the New Deal rags to copy in the future, but it took THE TRIBUNE to blaze the trail. I shall frame "Ships That Pass in the Night," for it is a classic in cartooning.

MUSTER OUT PAY BILL IS FIRST ON CONGRESS' LIST

Fear Plan May Grow Into Bonus Measure.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 16 (AP).—Service men and women take top billing on Capitol hill this week with mustering-out pay drawing special congressional attention.

First on the house business calendar is the mustering-out pay bill which possibly might be turned into a bonus measure before the lawmakers finish with it.

Debate on the bill was scheduled to open tomorrow and end Tuesday, and there were indications the house military committee, which wrote the measure as an amendment to a senate-passed bill, would have difficulty holding down the maximum payment to $300.

A bipartisan drive developed over the week-end to boost the top payment upon discharge to $700, which exceeds by $200 the amount voted by the senate just before Christmas and is $200 above American Legion demands. The definite amount ranging between $100 and $700 would be determined by length and character of service.

Chairman May [D., Ky.] said he saw little chance of blocking amendments to the military affairs committee bill, which would give $100 to men and women with less than 60 days service and $300 to those with more than 60 days, officers above the rank of captain being excluded.

Another house group, headed by Rep. Ploeser [R., Mo.], was fighting to guarantee payments averaging $85 monthly for not more than 12 months after discharge, the amount of each monthly payment being contingent on the earnings of the individual after his return to civilian life.

Fear Excessive Payments.

Leaders of some veterans' groups, including the Veterans of Foreign Wars, expressed fear congress might make the discharge payments so high as to jeopardize other compensation claims of returning veterans. There appeared to be little doubt, from testimony already given the military committee, that the veterans' organizations will demand bonus or adjusted pay legislation after the war.

Another major issue before congress is the tax question on which the administration and congress today found one area of agreement, jointly calling for a general overhauling of tax laws, to make them really simple.

Republicans and Democrats alike responded to the public clamor against the intricacy of the income tax returns that must be filed on or before March 15 by about 50 million persons.

Rep. Robertson [D., Va.], member of the tax drafting house ways and means committee, proposed today a definite program for simplification, which he said would collect currently the total tax of approximately 30,000,000 persons and relieve that number of having to file any returns at all after this year.

Robertson's Program.

The Virginian's program would:

1. Merge the victory tax, the normal tax and the surtax into one minimum rate to be collected fully at the source from wages and salaries thru the medium of withholding by the employer.

2. Reduce the amount of that rate, and necessarily the amount to be withheld, by computing the minimum rate against a new taxable income to be arrived at by deducting from gross income those items of expense incurred in earning the income, plus family status exemptions, and nothing more. However, there is no prospect that a simplification law can be enacted in time to affect the returns due March 15.

The senate met in an unusual Saturday session to speed passage of the house approved tax bill but adjournment last night found it still to act on such thorny issues as proposed amendment of the renegotiation law which was set up to recover excess profits on war contracts, the question of whether to require labor unions to file financial returns, and proposed increases in taxes on admissions and cosmetics.

SPENCER UNABLE TO LEARN RULING ON LABOR NEEDS

William H. Spencer, regional war man power commission director, said yesterday on his return to Chicago from Washington, D. C., that he does not know what decision will be reached regarding the classification of Chicago as a No. 1, or critical, labor shortage area. He spent 10 days in the capital conferring with WMC officials on the local labor supply situation.

Spencer said that the man power supply in Chicago, which is currently in the No. 2 group, is "not good," but that a study is being made pending a decision. Paul V. McNutt, national WMC director, is expected to give some indication of what is decided when he speaks in Chicago on Thursday.

Spencer said that the 48 hour work week, which went into effect in the Chicago area yesterday, is designed to relieve the labor shortage, but that it cannot be considered as a "cure all."

FIREMAN SAVES TWO TRAPPED IN 3D FLOOR FLAT

Fireman Henry Calaga of hook and ladder company 36, yesterday rescued Robert Sellinger, 36 years old, and his 8 year old son, John, who was ill with chicken pox, when flames trapped them in their third floor apartment at 19 North Albany avenue. The fire started from a rubbish heap at the rear of the building and spread to the roof by way of an inclosed stairway. About 12 persons were forced to flee from the building. Damage was estimated at $800.

ADMITS ROBBING 11 TAXI DRIVERS SINCE NOVEMBER

Frank Burke, 27 years old, 709 West Garfield boulevard, a Tribune watchman since 1939, confessed to Capt. William Doyle yesterday that he had robbed 11 taxicab drivers of $162 in the Stock Yards district since Nov. 12.

Capt. Doyle, accompanied by Lt. Charles Moore and Policemen Edward McNally, Frank Foster, Milton Hahn, and Gerald Sullivan, seized Burke late Saturday night when he stepped from a cab driven by Eugene Paradise, 1802 South Drake avenue, in front of 714 West 54th place. Burke, who held a .32 caliber revolver in his pocket, also admitted he intended to rob Paradise.

Paradise and three other drivers signed complaints after they identified Burke. Burke said he had committed the robberies for money to repay a loan he had obtained to cover expenses incurred in an automobile accident.

When Burke, who had been a grocery clerk, was hired by THE TRIBUNE, a check of his finger prints showed he had no previous criminal record.

Two of the drivers who previously identified Burke pointed him out yesterday at the showup in police headquarters. Burke was not booked on any of the charges pending further investigation.

PAPER SALVAGE DRIVE TURNS TO SCHOOLS TODAY

A week long series of waste paper collections at the city's 569 public and parochial schools will be started today by waste paper dealers. The paper, to be gathered by more than a half million pupils, will soon find its way into vital war material.

John R. Robinson of the Chicago Newspaper Publishers' association, which is aiding the campaign, said that this week's collections from the schools are expected to add 2,000 to 3,000 tons of paper, and perhaps break last week's school children's record. They aided the curb-side pick-up drive of Saturday by collecting 2,500 tons of paper scrap.

Schedules Are Prepared.

Pick-ups will be made today at schools between State street and the lake, from Polk street south to the city limits. Tomorrow, the collections of schools between State street and Cicero avenue, from 16th street south to the city limits, will be gathered. On Wednesday, schools between Damen avenue and the lake, from North avenue north to the city limits, will be visited as well as those between 47th and 72d streets, west of Western avenue.

The Thursday pick-ups will be made at those schools between Laramie and Damen avenues, from Grand avenue to the northern city limits, and the remainder of the schools will be visited on Friday.

Fuller organization of the schools will be a part of this week's program, and prizes will be offered on a per capita basis to the schools' salvage directors and to the schools by the waste paper industry, and various fraternal organizations.

Union Rallies Planned.

Intensive organization of "little" business firms will be launched, and labor unions will begin rallies to carry the need into every war worker's home and plant.

Saturday's curb-side pick-up, augmented by the schools' efforts, grossed more than 5,000 tons. It was estimated that the city's service men's centers would realize more than $15,000 as a result of the program. Laurence Armour, chairman of the board of the La Salle National bank, and general treasurer of the waste paper salvage program, said the curb-side proceeds would be turned over to the service men's units. The school children's collections will go to the individual schools. The effort was lauded by William L. McFetridge, chairman of the office of civilian defense salvage committee and general chairman of the collection.

ARMY AND NAVY DISCONTINUE CAA PILOT TRAINERS

Washington, D. C., Jan. 16 (AP).—The navy and army air forces now have enough flight instructors without training more thru civilian agencies. Therefore, the civil aeronautics administration said today, it is discontinuing the training of instructors by its war training service.

The army told the CAA that the shift from the training of men for the manning of the air forces to the training of those needed for replacements has reduced the need for additional instructors.

The navy said its CAA training facilities would be abandoned this summer and the activities centralized at navy fields.

The CAA still is providing a flight indoctrination course in conjunction with the college training program.

Fifty-nine student nurses of the St. Francis hospital school of nursing, a unit of Loyola university, were capped yesterday at a candlelight service in the Loyola community theater. The ceremony marked the completion of the preliminary training period. Fifty-five members of the class have joined the United States nurse cadet corps. The group was addressed by the Rev. Father G. PRISON REVOLT ENDS WAUPUN'S LIBERAL POLICY

Warden Clamps Down as Probe Begins.

Waupun, Wis., Jan. 16 [Special].—Prisoners in the state penitentiary here continued demonstrating in their locked cells today as Warden Luke Murphy announced plans to substitute firm discipline for the policy of kindness blamed for yesterday's outbreak.

The warden said there was intermittent catcalling, shouting and cursing from the cells, but that the demonstration had lost much of the fury shown yesterday when the prisoners burned their bedding, smashed cell windows and hurled missiles at guards.

800 Still in Cells.

Eight hundred of the institution's 840 inmates remain under lock and key in their individual cells, Murphy said, and will be held there for three or four days while an investigation fixes responsibility and weeds out ringleaders.

He revealed that a careful search is being conducted thruout the prison for knives and meat cleavers taken by the prisoners Wednesday when they overpowered 15 guards and appropriated the keys to the prison kitchens.

"There is need for a thoro housecleaning," Murphy said. "It is time prison officials ran the prison. I have used a program of fair treatment and kindness in dealing with the inmates and apparently it was not appreciated. I do not, of course, intend to adopt a policy of cruel and inhuman treatment, but the prison authorities are determined that this sort of outbreak must stop."

Get Sunday Breakfast.

The prisoners got no evening meal yesterday, but the warden ordered breakfast served today. Meals will be served on regular schedule in the cells unless there is an increase in disorder, he said. Heat was turned on in the cells, but difficulty was experienced in maintaining warmth because of the large number of broken windows.

New details were disclosed of the sitdown staged last Wednesday which culminated in yesterday's riot. The warden said that after overpowering 15 guards and taking keys to the kitchens, the inmates swarmed into the prison larder and helped themselves to cheese, sausages, butter, and other food.

They made sandwiches for themselves in the mess hall and sat around until midnight eating and singing, he said. It was on this occasion that the convicts named a grievance committee to confer with prison officials.

Acts Like Union Bargainer.

This committee presented a list of demands in the manner of a union bargaining committee dealing with an employer, it was said. Among these were:

1. Abolition of such penalties for misbehavior as prison haircuts and withholding of wages. [The prisoners who work in prison factories receive 25 cents a day.]

2. Removal of guard escorts for prisoners under discipline.

3. Extension to inmates inside the walls of the five day a month extra good behavior time given to prisoners for work outside.

4. Liberalization of parole policies.

Murphy said that a "liberal" policy in the treatment of convicts was adopted at Waupun a few years ago. The "silent system" under which conversation between inmates was forbidden was abolished.

Chile Plans Economic War Against Axis Big Business

SANTIAGO, Chile, Jan. 15 (AP).—The Chilean government today disclosed plans for all-out economic warfare against the big business houses, banks, and insurance companies controled by Germans and their allies. Economic power of such organizations—chiefly German—has long been a problem in Chile's efforts to coöperate completely with the united nations.

BARKLEY DOUBTS COMPROMISE ON FOOD SUBSIDIES

Washington, D. C., Jan. 16 (AP).—Senate Majority Leader Barkley [D., Ky.] said tonight efforts to reach a compromise on the food subsidy issue virtually had failed, indicating the controversy eventually will be settled on the senate floor.

Barkley disclosed he had asked Chairman Wagner [D., N. Y.] of the senate banking and currency committee for a committee meeting with the aim of shoving the problem out for full senate debate.

The food subsidy system, one of the big props in the administration's stabilization program, is now operating on borrowed time. Shortly before the Christmas recess congress put thru a stopgap measure extending the life of the Commodity Credit corporation, which finances the bulk of the subsidies, to Feb. 17. Legislation providing for continuance of the CCC, but carrying a ban against subsidy payments, has been approved by the house.

WICKARD URGES POST-WAR RISE IN FOOD OUTPUT

Washington, D. C., Jan. 16 (AP).—Post-war expansion of food production even beyond the current peak was put forth by Secretary of Agriculture Wickard today as a major peace time goal for American farmers. His program, drafted with the aid of department interbureau and regional committees and announced in a pamphlet prepared for public distribution, suggested, among other things:

Parity income for farmers based on a new and improved parity formula; more equitable public services and facilities; a more efficient farm product marketing system; national policies which would encourage family-size farms.

Reclamation and settlement of 40 million acres of land thru drainage, irrigation, and clearing; greater conservation of soil and forestry resources; maintenance of a high level of industrial activity, and a "freer" international trade policy.

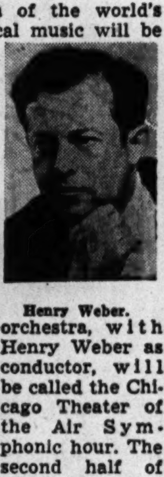
PENSIONER FOUND HANGED.

Edwin Fultz, 66 years old, 6043 Woodlawn avenue, an old age pensioner, was found dead hanging in a clothes closet of his home yesterday.

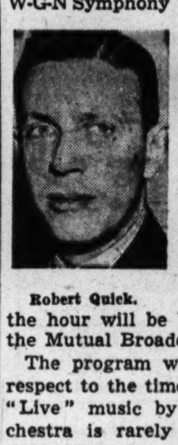
SYMPHONY HOUR OPENS TONIGHT AT 11 ON W-G-N

BY LARRY WOLTERS.

A new program of the world's best known classical music will be introduced over W-G-N from 11 o'clock to midnight tonight. The new hour, featuring the W-G-N Symphony orchestra, with Henry Weber as conductor, will be called the Chicago Theater of the Air Symphonic hour. The second half of the hour will be broadcast also by the Mutual Broadcasting system.



Henry Weber.



Robert Quick.

The program will be unusual in respect to the time of its broadcast. "Live" music by a symphony orchestra is rarely aired at such a time, altho there are some late recorded symphonic hours. Mostly the near-midnight periods are usurped by dance bands.

The opening program tonight will feature Robert Quick, concert violinist, as guest soloist. The program will include Mendelssohn's Concerto for Violin, featuring Mr. Quick; the "Haffner" Symphony by Mozart, and "Capriccio Espagnol" by Rimsky-Korsakoff.

All four major networks will carry the program officially launching the 4th war loan drive from 8 to 9 o'clock tonight. The program is titled "Let's All Back the Attack." W-G-N will be an outlet.

Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau and Conrad Nagel, actor, will be narrators. Capt. Ronald Reagan of the army air forces, former film star; Capt. Glenn Miller and the Army Air Forces Training Command band; and David Broekman's orchestra and chorus will be heard from New York. Bing Crosby, Judy Garland, and John Charles Thomas will be heard from Hollywood.

There will be a pickup of a special service from a church in Williams Bay, on Lake Geneva, Wis. Four governors, representing northern, southern, eastern, and western regions, will speak. Their names have not been announced.

Archbishop Francis J. Spellman will open the broadcast of a special war loan drive program over W-G-N at 10:55 a. m. tomorrow. During this broadcast the Liberty Bell in Independence square, Philadelphia, will be rung.

ENGINEER HURT IN ELEVATOR SHAFT.

Frank Murphy, 58 years old, 3540 South Mozart street, a building engineer at 741 South Wells street, suffered internal injuries and a possible hip fracture yesterday when he fell 15 feet from the first floor to the basement of the elevator shaft where he worked.

How to Sink a Jap and Save a Yank—At the Same Time

WOULD YOU LIKE TO FEEL that you yourself had a part in the sinking of a Jap cruiser—by our Navy's torpedo bombers in the South Pacific? Then save your used cooking fats and take them to your butcher! For fats make explosives—for shells, bombs, torpedoes. And the next best thing to flying with our Navy pilots is to give them the wherewithal to blow the hated Axis partners off the seas! But that isn't all—

THAT SAME PRECIOUS INGREDIENT OF WAR, the spoonful of used fat in your kitchen, can ease the pain of a wounded American as easily as it destroys his enemies. It's needed to make sulfa drugs, for tannic acid to treat powder burns, and for scores of other battlefield necessities. It's so urgently needed that for every pound of used cooking fat you turn in to your meat dealer, he will give you 4¢ and two meat ration points, free!

Don't let a single drop go to waste, not even the blackest used fat. Save it in a can, not glass. Any kind of can will do. Rush it to your meat dealer when full. Start doing it today, won't you?

FARMERS FIND MORE NEGROES; DEMAND OUSTER

Racial Unrest in Ozarks Suddenly Revived.

BY CHARLES PURVIS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Poplar Bluff, Mo., Jan. 16.—Racial trouble suddenly flared anew in this Ozark foothills countryside tonight when a delegation of farmers complained to Sheriff M. L. Hogg that another Negro family had been moved into the same all-white township from which 13 Negroes were ejected by mob action a month ago.

It had been believed the disturbance was subsiding after 71 farmers had been indicted for last month's violence, two thirds of them had marched en masse to the county jail where they spent one night, and then had posted bonds on charges of inciting a riot and kidnaping pending trial in April.

Fear Bloodshed.

The sheriff and a state highway patrolman hurried to the scene of the new trouble, in Ash Hill township 10 miles east of Poplar Bluff, after the delegation of nine farmers warned that more trouble, and possibly bloodshed, was in the making.

"The people of the community don't want these Negroes to come in and they're ready to do something about it," the sheriff was told by the delegation's spokesman, Earle Howe, a constable and deputy sheriff.

He reported that Lois [Jake] Cooper, a white farmer near Fisk, yesterday brought a Negro man and wife to his farm from Malden, in Dunklin county, and planned to use them on his farm. Howe asked the sheriff to advise the Coopers to get rid of the Negroes.

Offers to "Shoot It Out."

"I have no authority to order any one to leave a community if he is not violating the law," the sheriff told the delegation. "I'm going to enforce the law and if any mob wants to make trouble I'll shoot it out with them."

"You tell your friends," warned C. T. Bloodworth Sr., prosecuting attorney, "that the grand jury meets again shortly and if any mobs form the members will be indicted on charges that may send them to the penitentiary."

When the sheriff arrived at the Cooper place, the farmer's wife, Audrey, 31 years old, told of threats made to her and her husband only a few hours earlier by a man she didn't know. Mrs. Cooper, a native of Bryant, Ind., teaches at the Fisk consolidated school.

"The man said he was from Broseley [the community where the first mob action took place]," she related. "He told my husband that we would be given plenty of trouble if we kept the Negroes. Mr. Cooper told him we own this farm, that we are within the law, and that if any one was looking to give us trouble they would be accommodated.

Can't Handle Crops.

"We heard a group of men planned to have a meeting this week to set a date when they would come here and move the darkies out by force.

"We don't want trouble but we'll meet it before we'll let them run us out. We tried to hire white men to work for us, and we had the money, but we didn't get them.

"The government says we're to raise all the food we can to help win the war but we can't handle our crops unless we can get Negro help. This elderly Negro couple worked about five years on the farm of my husband's father at Malden. They're good workers."

She said her husband had taken the Negro couple back to Malden, having left half an hour before the sheriff arrived, and that they would be left there until Cooper had an opportunity to talk to the sheriff about the protection he could expect.

The sheriff warned her that trouble probably would be made, that snipers might even fire shots at the house or near the Negroes.

"The Negroes have a right here under the law but there haven't been any here before and the people are set against them," the sheriff said. "I must warn you that I believe there will be trouble—possibly serious trouble.

"But if you want to keep the Negroes I will back you up with all the protection I can. I haven't a large enough force to keep a man here all the time but I'll give you all the help at my command."

Detective Bureau Merges Robbery, Cartage Details

Walter Storms, deputy chief of detectives, said yesterday that the detective bureau robbery and cartage details will be combined under the supervision of Lt. Kyran Phelan, present head of the former detail. Detective Michael Phelan, who had headed the cartage detail, will remain with that department, Storms staid. He explained the merger as an expansion of the cartage detail. The move will make available additional squad cars and personnel, he said.

Personal Loans

Make this comparison—you can save up to two-thirds the usual cost and have substantially smaller monthly payments.

SEE THE FACTS FOR YOURSELF

Amount of Loan	$100	$200	$300
	Total Costs
Typical small loan plan	20.84	39.52	57.12
At Merchandise Bank: On your signature only With one co-maker	 8.00 5.50	 16.00 11.00	 24.00 16.50
SAVE: On your signature only With one co-maker	 12.84 15.34	 23.52 28.52	 33.12 40.62

*Above cost-saving examples based on repayment in 12 equal monthly instalments, cost to be deducted in advance.

Don't make the mistake of thinking an interest rate of 3% per month gives you a cost of $3 per year for a $100 loan. Figure it out yourself this quick, easy way.

Take for example, a $100 loan to be repaid in 12 monthly instalments of $10.07 each (a typical small loan plan). In 12 months you pay back $120.84. But you borrowed only $100. Therefore, the difference—$20.84—is the cost of your loan.

BANK RATES LESS COSTLY

On your signature only, the cost is only $8.00 at Merchandise Bank—a savings of $12.84. With one co-maker, the cost is still less—only $5.50. By either plan you save nearly enough to make two monthly payments . . . and the payments are less.

You don't have to take time off your job to apply for a loan here. Complete arrangements made by phone or mail.

The problem of wearing shorter dresses longer

SHORT SKIRTS WILL almost certainly be in style for the duration. So will short jackets.

For this particular "style" is part of the national program to save material . . . help prevent a wartime clothing shortage.

Another part of that program—a very important part—is the part you must play by wearing your clothes for a longer time . . . buying only what you need and getting the most out of what you buy.

Because this matter of serviceability is doubly important today, it may interest you to know what Good Housekeeping has done and is doing to help you get more and better service out of the things you buy.

Which? Good Housekeeping's aim is to help you know about fabric qualities . . . not let you guess.

The less guesswork the better

Through all the years of its publication, Good Housekeeping has held firmly to a single guiding principle.

This principle is that your interests—your welfare—always come first . . . that Good Housekeeping must strive constantly to deserve your faith by giving you sound advice and trustworthy information, and by protecting you against misinformation.

Now, any magazine might have this intention. But—to put it in practice in your behalf—Good Housekeeping has gone to greater lengths than any other publication of its kind.

We ourselves must try out ideas, methods, products, in actual use . . . before we report on them to you. We must make sure—to our own satisfaction—that the information we give you is sound, practical, worthwhile. This principle applies to every page in Good Housekeeping, editorial or advertising.

Here is how it is applied to our Fashion pages . . . in our endeavor to give you the soundest, most practical advice about buying clothes and conserving clothes in these times.

Because fashion is only skin-deep

The fashions shown in Good Housekeeping are selected by style experts, constantly scouting stores, markets, manufacturers.

But Good Housekeeping knows—as you do—that fashion is only skin-deep. Stylishness is no assurance that a dress won't fade or shrink or go to pieces before its time.

So, for us, the selection of fashions is only the beginning. We want to find out for ourselves—and for you—the serviceability of the clothes we feature.

That we may do this, Good Housekeeping has a well-equipped textile laboratory, staffed by expert technicians. To this laboratory comes a fabric sample of every fashion selected for our pages.

Will it fade? A fabric sample is put on trial in a special machine that measures resistance to light. Will it shrink unduly? Samples are laundered and shrinkage measured. Is it sturdy? A special machine determines fabric strength and resistance to seam slippage.

And unless samples of the fabric meet the strict requirements of this laboratory, no dress, no garment, may be shown in the pages of Good Housekeeping—either editorially or in advertising.

A bathing suit gets much more exposure to the sun than a dinner dress, hence must resist fading better. Good Housekeeping takes use into account when investigating fabric qualities.

On the care and nursing of wardrobes

To the problem of taking care of your clothes, Good Housekeeping applies the same kind of thorough investigation.

Soaps and bleaches are analyzed in our chemical laboratory for purity and effect on the serviceability of fabrics.

In our laundry "proving ground," clothes are laundered many times . . . and the effects of different laundering methods studied in the textile laboratory.

Such things as spot removers and moth preventives are analyzed and tried out in actual use . . . to find out about their safety and effectiveness.

A belief . . . and a pledge to you

This kind of fact-finding is proof of Good Housekeeping's intent to give you—at all times and on every page—advice and information in which you can have complete confidence.

And this is why we believe that—whatever your homemaking problem—you will find Good Housekeeping a helpful ally both in wartime today and peacetime tomorrow.

Good Housekeeping's suggestions on the care of clothes are based on laboratory investigation plus actual trial "in use."

For the pledge we make to you will hold good in the future . . . as it does today:

That at no time, and not for any reason, or any profit, will any page in Good Housekeeping—editorial or advertising—trade unfairly on your trust.

REP. W. H. WHEAT OF RANTOUL DIES IN WASHINGTON

Washington, D. C., Jan. 16 [Special].—Rep. William Howard Wheat, 64 years old, a Republican member of congress from Rantoul, Ill., died today in Georgetown hospital. He suffered a heart attack Thursday as he was preparing to leave his home here for his office.

Rep. Wheat.

Wheat was a member of the house naval affairs committee and was serving his third consecutive term in congress.

He is survived by his widow, the former Mabel Williams of Rantoul, and a son, James, of Urbana, an attorney now in the army air forces.

Born in Missouri.

Wheat was born in Kahoka, Mo., the son of the Rev. Thomas J. and Sarah Martin Wheat. He was educated in the public schools of Brookfield, Mo., and Mattoon and Quincy, Ill., and attended Chaddock college and a business college in Quincy.

He began a banking career in 1900 as cashier of the bank of Thomasboro, Ill., and in 1909 became vice president of the First National bank of Rantoul. He had been president of the Rantoul bank since 1914.

During the World war he was credited with obtaining the establishment of the army air field at Rantoul. He was active in Red Cross, Salvation Army, Knights of Columbus, and Young Men's Christian association drives during that war and was field director of the American Red Cross at Chanute field from 1920 to 1931.

Foe of Gas Ration Cut.

As a member of congress, Wheat fought reduction of gasoline rations to middle western consumers. He was a member of a naval subcommittee which conducted a national oil investigation and was an advocate of removing governmental restrictions on independent oil operators.

The body will be taken tomorrow to his home in Rantoul, where funeral services will be held at 2:30 p. m. Wednesday in the Methodist church.

Wheat's death increased to seven the vacancies in the house of representatives and reduced the Republican representation to 207 members.

POLIO CAMPAIGN OPENS 40 MORE STORE BOOTHS

Forty more booths in the loop and neighborhood department stores will be opened today by the Cook county chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis in its campaign to raise $500,000 in funds to fight the disease in the Chicago area.

Clergymen in many churches yesterday gave impetus to the drive, which continues thru Jan. 31, by appealing to their parishioners to contribute. They stressed that efforts of the foundation in recent years have helped reduce the percentage of crippled victims to 50 per cent from 80 per cent of the total afflicted by the disease.

Women volunteers will demonstrate the hot pack treatment of poliomyelitis today in the Spaulding School for Crippled Children at 1628 Washington boulevard. Miss Celestine Igoe, school director, is chairman of the chapter's woman campaign committee.

Season Opens for Chicagoans at Palm Beach

BY JUDITH CASS.

THE Palm Beach season is really on with the opening of the Beach club, better known as Bradley's. It has been stated gently but firmly this year [our correspondent writes] that once more full dress will be required for events at Bradley's. During the ban on pleasure driving last season, this rule was relaxed.

Full dress in Palm Beach for men doesn't mean top hat, white tie, and tails. Instead, a white or pastel dinner jacket is favored, and few men wear hats at any time. It is at Bradley's that the feminine contingent of Palm Beach society really glitters. Some of those entertaining on opening night were the Harry N. Giffords, Mrs. Frank O. Butler, and Col. Robert H. Morse.

The Beach club is a small white frame building with a cupola, and looks exactly as tho it belonged back in the era of the "surrey with the fringe on the top," which it does. In wooden scroll work above the desk in the lobby is written "Beach Club 1898."

The Bath and Tennis club is a popular gathering place for Chicagoans at the resort. Mrs. Paul Healy and the O. Nelson Tevanders entertained there recently. Arriving at the Whitehall recently were Mr. and Mrs. Henry M. Dawes, Mrs. John Bowen, the Joseph Rices, and the George Uihleins of Milwaukee.

One of the most amazing of the shops in Palm Beach is Thrift, Inc., a glorified second hand store in Worth avenue, which is operated by a group of volunteers for the benefit of the army and navy, and the Pine Ridge Negro hospital. Merchandise is contributed and ranges from champagne, bric-a-brac, draperies, and dresses to pets. Mrs. LeRay Berdeau recently gave the shop a fur coat, which was promptly sold. Mrs. George Alexander McKinlock is head of the worker's committee of the shop, and among volunteer salesmen is Mrs. James E. Baum.

Mrs. Vilas Norton has taken a house in Sea View avenue in Palm Beach. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas M. Hair will be returning to Chicago this week-end after a visit with Mr. and Mrs. William Howard Lyon of Winnetka at their home in North Lake trail.

Future Events.

Because members of the Vocational Society for Shut-Ins are too busy to devote a leisurely luncheon hour to their annual meeting next Monday at the Woman's Athletic club, the event will be a brief business gathering at 11 a. m. During the meeting, the new officers will take over. They are Mrs. John C. Slade, president; Mrs. John W. Miller, Mrs. Walter C. Mead, Mrs. Kenneth Carpenter, Mrs. Henry C. Woods, Mrs. E. Franklin Motch, and Mrs. Dexter Fairbank.

Sir Ramaswami Srinivasl Sarma, public relations counsel to the government of Bengal, will speak at a luncheon meeting next Monday of the Chicago chapter of the English-Speaking union, gathered at the Blackstone hotel. Mrs. Howell B. Erminger Jr. will be hostess for the day.

"How to Avoid a Second War with Japan" will be the subject of the next luncheon address before the Chicago Council of Foreign Relations, set for 12:30 p. m. on Saturday in the Grand ballroom of the Palmer House. George Weller, foreign correspondent, will be the speaker.

Here and There.

Miss Lana Jelke and Miss Cynthia Gooding have the exciting prospect ahead of them of three months in Mexico City, where they will be enrolled at the University of Mexico studying Spanish and archeology. Miss Jelke left on Saturday for Rochester, Minn., to spend a few days with Miss Gooding and her parents, the Arthur F. Goodings, who have been living in that city since moving from Lake Forest last year. On Wednesday the two young women will be back in Lake Forest for a week with the John F. Jelkes before leaving for Mexico on the 25th.

The Harker Thomas Stantons, who lived in Chicago until they moved to Mt. Rainier, Md., last July, became the parents of a son, Thomas Harker, on Jan. 7 in Washington, D. C. The baby's maternal grandmother, Mrs. Thomas Francis Ryan, lives with the Stantons. His late paternal grandparents were the Michael James Stantons of Chicago.

Today's Calendar.

What can you do with your old suit or dress to make it over into something new and snappy will be shown by several smartly dressed young women during luncheon at the Key club today. The costumes were designed and remodeled by their owners, and the cleverest one, as decided by balloting, will win a war bond. Some of those showing costumes will be Mrs. Paget K. Cady, Mrs. Jere Patterson, Mrs. Watson McLallen, Mrs. George P. Braun Jr., Mrs. James Waller Rogers, and Mrs. Abner J. Stilwell.

Some fancy figures will be cut on the ice at the Saddle and Cycle club after members and their wives have taken advantage of the figure skating lessons which will start tonight. Thomas I. Underwood and Paget Cady are in charge of the lessons, which will be given to members by appointment in the evenings. The teacher is Ruth Burns.

Alumnae of Dearborn seminary will meet at 12:30 p. m. today at

Comic Opera and Some Not So Comic Hold City Stages

BY CLAUDIA CASSIDY.

Comic opera monopolized the town's stages yesterday, with last night's "The Yeomen of the Guard" winning the decision over the afternoon's adventure with Johann Strauss. In fact, had the Gilbert and Sullivan troupe pulled its masterpiece out of the repertory bag earlier in the Studebaker season, it probably would not be closing Saturday night.

This was not, of course, a performance to rival memories of the D'Oyly Carte's matchless presentation with Martyn Green as Jack Point, which remains one of the peaks of playgoing. But it was an entertaining production of a superb collaboration between two masters of their trade, a show in which Sullivan wrote unforgettable music for some of Gilbert's deftest and most poignant lines, and for which Gilbert himself furnished the mesmerizing monotone that is the haunting "I Have a Song to Sing, O."

That lovely song of the merryman and his maid was sung last night by Florenz Ames with a cold and by Kathleen Roche with a voice clear as crystal, and they did it beautifully, with an unerring sense of its intricate rhythms, its fragile beauty, and the undercurrent of unstressed sadness that makes it stick in your heart forever. From it they took the cues for their performances, Mr. Ames' as the capering jester who dies for the love of a lady, and Miss Roche's as that lady, who is gentle and sweet as a heroine in a fairy tale.

Altogether this beef eating opera of life and death on Tower Green came off with sturdiness and sparkle. New in the repertory, it was fresher than its predecessors, both in line and costume. Robert Pitkin found one of his best roles as Wilfred Shadbolt, the horrendous assistant tormentor, and Kathryn Reece by far her best as Phoebe, who cajoled the keys for prison rescue. Nor had I discovered, until James Gerard's Col. Fairfax came out looking like Rigoletto, that he is the Rolf Gerard who used to sing with the San Carlo Opera. Perhaps that has been one of the reasons why Louis Kroll's conducting so often has reminded me of Carlo Peroni's.

Scarcely any of the foaming, bubbling brilliance of Johann Strauss' immortal "Fledermaus" trickled into the inept version presented by the Philadelphia Opera company at the Civic Opera house yesterday afternoon. As it appeared in Chicago début, this highly touted group seemed little more than amateurs, most of whom could sing only a little and act not at all, handicapped by dreary direction of a dull book and an orchestral treatment which subordinated the lovely music to English words seldom worth hearing.

One of its major misfortunes was the erroneous conviction that hilarity on the stage is bound to spread to the audience. The performance was infested with actors in stitches, gasping, "It's really too funny," while the customers, like Prince Orlofsky, often failed to catch the joke. As one of the more screaming jests involved two masqueraders pretending to be Frenchmen, whose repartee consisted of items like "Fromage!" and "Crepes Suzette!", such obtuseness was not entirely unpardonable.

Perhaps the production's chief fault is its inability to decide on a style and carry it off. The frothy elegance of the Viennese original has been junked in favor of a coy archness which bandies anachronisms and permits Rosalinda to run about in pantaloons, while the décor starts in gaily lopsided paintings on flats, and is stymied by costuming as static as it is color-blind. The gayest person on the stage was Jayne Cozzens as the plump little soubrette of the laughing songs, and the most dismal was Joseph Laderoute, a good tenor before he succumbed to the wiles and pitfalls of grease paint. Mr. Levin's conducting was meticulous, but I kept wishing he would pull the Straussian cork and release the champagne magic of the music.

Carnegie Line Wins Praise at Fashion Show

BY REA SEEGER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Jan. 16.—For superb showmanship, imagination, and color, we like the Hattie Carnegie spring collection at the New York show for fashion editors. If you plunge into spring color, the clear shades of Chinese silks and shantungs offer a quick and highly colored entrance. Green tailored simply in suave two piece suits, molten gold in expertly shirred and gathered dresses, and singing calypso pink, flaming red, and bright orange in blouses as well as suits and dresses, assure a color range for every individual.

Carnegie prints are gay and amusingly different. They include a simple one of dots called a target design; hobby horse prints also diverting because of the spots; scarf dresses made of all silk printed squares in flag design and state seals; printed notices of bygone billboard ads, and exotic florals. Spike these various prints with such unusual contrasts as patent leather sequins or shiny paillettes and the finished costume models are festively dress parade.

Two outstanding costumes for gala evenings are the calypso pink and Carnegie blue Scheherezade jeweled print evening dresses with companion jackets. Both look as tho they had stepped from some illustrated book of Persian fairy tales. The sleekest street or town suit is the two piece pin line black and white wool of slim straight skirt and fitted jacket. This pin line appears a stunning soft gray from a half block away. The self material is used for band trim around the cuffs, the fake chest pockets, and along the jacket front. With it is worn a kelly green long sleeved blouse with crystal buttons.

Jumper evening costumes are two piece, a shimmering narrow striped taffeta jumper with a long or short violet colored simple skirt, the jumper using the stripes in horizontal formation and each white line caked with white bugle beads. Absinthe green wool jackets top violet wool or silk skirts, and the skirts are either long or short to make the correct ensemble for the occasion.

There's a navy costume of white dress with wide red leather belt studded with gold anchors, which is teamed with a navy blue wool coat, lined with red and buttoned in brass. It is a keen costume for spectator sports and country wear. There are sleek day dresses that are marvels of simplicity of line and with softening details such as colored scarves or dark toned taffeta bows or bows of jaunty prints. The four original lace creations that closed the glamorous show were seductive examples of white and black lace designed by a master.

Recital Planned by Edward Collins for Opera Society

Gathered tomorrow afternoon in the home of Mrs. Jones Jarratt, 229 Lake Shore drive, for the first of its 1944 programs, the American Opera society will hear Edward Collins in recital. Composer and pianist, Mr. Collins will include on his program of American music several of his own works. He will be assisted by Nancy Carr, dramatic soprano, who will sing a group of Collins' songs.

Present as the society's special guest will be Mrs. William Ragland [Edith Mason]. Among others planning to attend are Mrs. Nathaniel Leverone, Mrs. Wilbur Calhoun Smith, Mrs. Albert Bruce Wegener, Mrs. Ralph Talbot Winston, Mrs. Arthur Wirtz, and Mrs. Helen Rend Clarke.

The American Opera society, founded in 1921 by the late Eleanor Everest Freer, is interested in furthering American opera, in giving recognition to American composers, and in encouraging the singing of opera in English. Mrs. Edith Rockefeller McCormick, who was associated with Mrs. Freer in organizing the society, was its patron and honorary president for more than a decade.

Chicagoans Join Marine Platoon

Pvt. Lillian Zeiger, Sgt. Gladys O'Reilly, and Pvt. Ruth Fisher (left to right) with "Sgt. Butch" in marine corps women's reserve recruiting office. Privates Zeiger and Fisher are members of the first all-Chicago, all-woman platoon.

Women in War Work

—By Kate Massee—

The first all-Chicago, all-woman marine platoon is rapidly being recruited. The reservists will train as a group at Camp Lejeune, New River, N. C.

Two recent recruits are Miss Lillian Bell Zeiger and Miss Ruth Esther Fisher. They began their service by making the acquaintance of "Sgt. Butch," mascot of the recruiting office in room 1170, Board of Trade building.

Besides being a reasonably attractive facsimile of the marine bulldog, "the sergeant" performs an unusual function: When a mechanical device within him is wound, he obligingly plays the marine corps hymn for recruits.

Before enlisting in the marine corps women's reserve, Pvt. Zeiger was an employee of the Illinois Bell Telephone company. She was graduated from Carl Schurz High school and is the daughter of William Zeiger, 3103 North Kimball avenue.

Pvt. Fisher, whose home is at 9415 South Central Park avenue, Evergreen Park, was employed in the auditing department of the Dodge Chicago plant before she signed up to wear a forestry green uniform. She is the daughter of Carl S. Fisher and was graduated from Englewood High school.

First Lt. Katherine B. Persons, senior reserve recruiting officer in Chicago, is in charge of enlistments in the first platoon. Next Saturday is the deadline, after which a second platoon will be formed.

Mary Cleland Fordney, 2d lieutenant in the women's reserve, is at Harvard university studying communications at the navy school there. Upon completion of the Harvard course, Lt. Fordney will go to the Massachusetts Institute of Technology for further training.

Lt. Fordney, daughter of Col. Chester L. Fordney, in charge of the midwest district of the marine corps, and Mrs. Fordney, was commissioned at Camp Lejeune in November. She was graduated from Lake Forest college, where she majored in mathematics and physics and was a Chi Omega.

Two hundred Chicago and Cook county women tomorrow will begin total travels estimated at 100,000 miles in behalf of the fourth war loan. They are members of the speakers' bureau of the women's division of the war finance committee of Cook county, and will make speeches to promote bond sales during the 25 days of the drive, opening tomorrow. Their chairman is Mrs. Walter R. Kirk.

Assisting Mrs. Kirk with activities of the speakers' bureau are Mrs. Adolph O. Hartmann, Mrs. Gerhardt Meyne, Mrs. Fred W. Schaefer, and Mrs. Glenn Frank.

Mrs. Charles E. Peace, chairman of bond instruction for the women's division, will hold a special class for graduates of her course at 2:30 p. m. tomorrow in the Commonwealth Edison building auditorium, 140 South Dearborn street.

Orville Taylor, chairman of men bond salesmen for the Tower Town community on the near north side, announces appointment of Mrs. Marjorie Letts as women's chairman for his district.

Mrs. Letts is a graduate of the Illinois Institute of Technology war training program, and for some time was an ordnance worker in a Chicago war plant. She was three time winner of the women's western open golf championship.

There are 63 community divisions in Chicago's sales program for the fourth war loan.

Catholic Women's Council Schedules Three Meetings

Continuing the series of 22 district meetings being sponsored by the Archdiocesan Council of Catholic Women, with a view to organizing new Catholic Girl Scout troops, three gatherings are scheduled at 8 o'clock tonight. District 11, of which Mrs. Frank Bogacki is president, will meet at St. Rita's auditorium, and district 14, headed by Mrs. J. F. Gleason, at SS. Peter and Paul parish hall. District 10 will be in session at St. Augustine's parish hall, with Mrs. Anthony Koerner presiding.

Sally Requests 2 Wheel Chairs and 2 Strollers

[Activities of the Sally Joy Brown department are sponsored by Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc.]

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

If any reader has a large wheel chair which is no longer needed, we would be glad to have it to fill a recent request which came to us from a case worker. One of her clients is a total invalid and for that reason is on relief. The chair which she now has is so worn that it is no longer secure and it cannot be repaired. Because the relief agency cannot supply such items, the patient would be grateful if some reader can supply one.

We have had a similar request from an elderly woman who is dependent upon an old age pension. She is badly in need of a chair which cannot possibly be purchased or rented on her present income.

Mrs. McC., an elderly woman, has been caring for her 2 year old grandson, who is an orphan. Some time ago the stroller in which she used to take the child out was stolen and she is unable to purchase another one. As she is both elderly and ill, the lack of some sort of vehicle makes it far more difficult for her to care for the child.

Mrs. S. is also in need of a stroller. She has two small children, and since her husband's desertion has been working to support them. They receive day time care by a neighbor who lives some distance from them. The mother calls for them at night and the long walk is tiring for the baby, who is only 19 months old. She would be grateful for any help our readers can offer.

Sad, Sad Story: This Girl 'Went Steady'—Once

BY MAUREEN DALY.

[Copyright: 1944: By The Chicago Tribune.]

on the SOLID side

The surest way to find out some inside angles on this going steady problem is to ask a girl who has tried it. So here's a letter from a sad jane. Her experience sums up the opinion of many a gal whose dating life was all moonlight and roses till her beau boy suddenly switched interests and she found herself on the outside looking in.

This long faced biddy, now out of circulation, weeps out her blues as follows:

"I went steady once—but never again! I dated this boy for about a month before he asked me to go steady and at the time he liked me better than I liked him. Then we went together, seeing each other every day for about five months and I got to like him more and more. He had always dated a lot, was very popular, and I was kinda surprised that he wanted to go out with me at all. We saw all the basketball games together, went to fine dances, and had fun with the crowd that he always went round with. He asked me to wear his class ring and I couldn't because my mother didn't approve but I always carried it in my purse anyway.

"Then one night I got angry because I had seen him in the library with another girl and I told him so on the phone and hung up. He never called me again and tho I still see him every day in school he never asks me out. That happened over two months ago and tho he is dating other girls like mad no one ever asks me out! Other fellows seem to think that because he doesn't like me anymore there must be something unattractive about me.

"Now I not only have the problem of trying to forget him but also the problem of not going to the games and parties besides! Even if he asked me to come back I'd never do it, because it might happen again and I'd have to go thru this trouble all over. If girls were smart they'd never go steady—it's good while it lasts . . . but it never lasts!"

That's a dismal bit of advice for a young thing to be handing out. But perhaps she is just saying what a lot of girls, hurt in the same way, would like to say. Going steady may be fun while it lasts, but how often does it last? Let us know what you think—your opinion might be just the thing to help some other gal out.

Luise Rainer Disappoints in This Spy Movie

"HOSTAGES."

A Paramount picture, directed by Frank Tuttle, featuring Luise Rainer, Arturo De Cordova, William Bendix, Paul Lukas, Katina Paxinou, and Oscar Homolka, and presented at the Chicago.

By Mae Tinee.

Good Morning!

This picture gives you the willies. Not so much on account of its "underground" story, which, naturally, is painful, but because of Luise Rainer's weird appearance and performance. It's difficult to reconcile her inept characterization in "Hostages" with those which, in "The Great Ziegfeld" and "The Good Earth," won her the Academy award. Makeup may partly account for her looks and direction for her actions—but wherever the fault lies, she plays Milada like a wild-eyed amateur, and is so much in evidence that she gets you down.

Scenes are laid in Prague amid the usual drama of violence and sabotage and in the customary "underground" atmosphere of hatred and terror. Miss Rainer plays the daughter of the local Quisling [Oscar Homolka] who, her sympathies enlisted by the patriots, sacrifices her father to the cause. . . . Paul Lukas, so memorable as an anti-Nazi in "Watch on the Rhine," is the gestapo chief of this movie. . . . William Bendix, posing as a nitwit, is the able general of the rebels. . . . Darkly handsome Arturo de Cordova, who hails from Mexico and is said to be a great favorite in South America, portrays a suave newspaper man, deep in the confidence of both Nazis and Czechs—and, eventually, the heart beat of the Quisling's daughter. Katina Paxinou is seen as a woman prominent in underground affairs.

This gruesome picture was adapted from the novel by Stefan Heym.

See you tomorrow.

Looking at Hollywood

By Hedda Hopper

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., Jan. 16.—Up to now, only producers have used a wailing wall, but that's going to be different when comedians get a squint at Danny Kaye in "Up in Arms." Boy! He's a whole blitzkrieg. So much talent it scares you. And how right he was to refuse to come to Hollywood until he was offered a whole picture to romp thru. When his name flashed on the screen at a sneak preview, there wasn't a hand. Nobody knew him. But when it was over, they clapped, screamed, and yelled. It's by far the best thing Dinah Shore's ever done. Constance Dowling is clever and attractive. I'd like to see her in a dramatic picture. The Goldwyn beauties are just that. How they were going to inject glamor on a troop ship was something that worried you. But boy! They did it. Before a soldier said, "There was nothing like this in the last war," and his buddy replied, "No, and there isn't in this either," you had already said it to your neighbor. But it's Danny Kaye's romp. He's what I call sensational.

Our Loss Is New York's Gain.

Billie Burke's en route to New York to co-star with Frank Craven in Zoe Akin's new play "Plans for Tomorrow." It opens early next month. . . . How many of you have heard the Whistler, that mystery horror thing on the radio? Columbia's making it into a picture with Richard Dix, Gloria Stuart, and J. Carrol Naish. If the first goes, it becomes a serial. . . . Was Mary Pickford's appearance with Fred Allen a rehearsal for her own show? . . . Frank Morgan, divorced from Baby Snooks, heads his own radio show come fall. . . . Ernst Lubitsch is looking for a picture or an idea for Tallulah Bankhead. I still don't believe Tallulah will do "There Shall Be No Night."

Seems Strange, Yes?

Would you believe that Edward Arnold will play Greer Garson's son-in-law? Well, he will in "Mrs. Parkington." But that's when Greer reaches the age of 84. They haven't cast her granddaughter yet. How about Susan Peters? She's ideal for it. Tay Garnett directs. . . . Did you know that was Linda Darnell as the virgin in "Song of Bernadette"? Alan Marshall and his wife are off on a bond tour. So is Errol Flynn. It starts in New Orleans and ends in Kansas City. No, he won't take his pet blue fox along. . . . Leo McCarey has invited me to the trial when Myron Selznick's suit against him comes up, and promises the best comedy he's ever turned out.

They're Doing It.

It was a little old lady who ordered a grand jury investigation into the Joan Berry-Charles Chaplin situation. She read about things going on and it worried her that an alien could interfere with the civil liberties of an American citizen. The more she pondered it, the more worried she became, so she took her worry to Charles Carr, United States attorney, and asked that it be looked into.

Only Need a Story.

Laurette Taylor has been here visiting her son Dwight. Since Marie Dressler's passing, we've been wanting some one to take her place. Might I humbly suggest to Metro that Laurette receive that honor? She is one of the great actresses of our time. Frances Marion, who wrote most of Marie's successes, is at Metro, so it would seem to me a set-up. How about it, fellows? . . . Andy Lawlor made a handsome profit when he sold his hilltop home to Rise Stevens and husband, even though Orson Welles and Rita Hayworth almost wrecked the joint. . . . I wondered how George Kaufman would get here, now that Moss Hart stays on for a couple of months, but didn't suspect that Boris Morros would bring him out.

Never Let You Down.

The passing of Willie Collier has left an awful gap. His love for the theater was equaled only by that of George M. Cohan, David Belasco, and several more who have already gone. The kids of today will never know the thrill that those men got. They built a play as an architect does a building. They didn't have the brains of a hundred men to draw from—just their own integrity and a love of show business. . . . Steve Hannagan gave Ann Sheridan a Russian cigarette case with a handful of crown jewels imbedded in it. Gosh! It puts your eye out. . . . Stutterin' Sam may be taking a chance. She's having her tonsils out. Maybe that will stop her stuttering. On her it's becoming.

INSTALMENT VII.

GUESTS TAKE LEAVE.

Phyllida turned, startled, not by Elliot's nearness which she had felt, but by a quality in his voice which was new. Of all the tones it had taken for her between love and anger, this one was new. The words were lightly, easily spoken, but they had a cutting edge. It hurt, and just because of that she smiled. The days were gone when she would let him know that he had power to hurt her. She smiled and turned away with him, going toward the couch where she had sat with Lydia.

Elliot felt a disproportionate elation, but it centered not about Phyllida, but about Grace Paradine. He had walked his wife away from under her nose, and she couldn't do anything about it. A very pleasing circumstance—very salutary for Miss Paradine. Everything must be just as it was last year? Very well, she should have good measure. Last New Year's eve he and Phyllida were just back from their honeymoon. A week later they had parted. In that one week their house had crashed down upon their heads.

"What shall we talk about?"

But this time Phyllida was ready. Whether from instinct or from choice, she took the simplest, the least expected, the oldest weapon of all. She smiled and said:

"You. Won't you tell me what you've been doing? I haven't heard anything for so long."

It was disarming, but he was not to be disarmed.

"I didn't think you'd be interested."

"O, yes. There's so much I want to know. The thing you were working on—did it come out all right? You were worried about it."

"James Paradine is in the best position to tell you about that."

"No. He never talks—you know he doesn't. Besides. . . . Did it come out all right?"

"No—we had to scrap it."

"O, what a pity!"

"Not really. We've got something better—much better. That's what I'm up about now."

Insensibly they were slipping into something easier. She was looking at him with the serious, half wistful attention which had always touched some spring of confidence and compunction.

They were looking at each other across a blank, lost year. How suddenly the path had crumbled before their feet and left them separate.

"Where are you living?"

He answered without any noticeable pause.

"I'm with the Cadogans. It's very good of them, and of course it's convenient. Only Ida complains that John and I never stop talking shop."

He thought bitterly, "So she didn't even know where I was—didn't even care. What are we doing, making conversation like this? It's like talking over a grave. She isn't Phyllida—she's a ghost trying to get back into the past."

"Why do you—look like that? What is it?"

"I was thinking you were a ghost."

Her eyes were on him. He saw them widen a little and wince. Something in him was savagely glad because he had hurt her.

"Do I look—like a ghost?"

"No."

She was all color and bloom, her eyes deep blue and shining, carnation in her cheeks and on her lips—vivid color which ebbed and flowed.

"Why did you say that? I don't like it."

"Isn't it true?"

She bent her head, not in assent, but as if she could not look at him any longer.

"Couldn't we just go on talking—about—about ordinary things?"

"I don't know, Phyl. It's a bit late in the day."

"Please, Elliot——" She dropped to her lowest tone. "It's all been—frightful—hasn't it? This evening, I mean. Irene's been crying, and everything's bad enough without making it worse."

"All right, Phyl—without prejudice."

"Of course. Elliot, what did he mean—what is it all about? Do you know?"

"Well, he was fairly explicit."

"Do you think it's true? Do you think some one has really—I don't see how it could be true!"

"Yes, I think it's true."

"What is it?"

And then, before he could answer, Grace Paradine was calling:

"Phyl, darling—Phyl!"

Nothing for it but to go back to the others.

"Phyl, they think we ought to break up the party. Frank thinks so. He wants to take Irene home. And perhaps—I did think we ought just to go on, but Irene is upset, and Frank thinks . . .

Frank Ambrose stood beside her frowning.

"It's no good, Aunt Grace. You can pretend up to a certain point, but there are limits, and I've reached mine. I'm going home and I'm taking Irene. Brenda and Lydia can do just as they like."

"Well, you don't expect us to walk, do you?" said Brenda bluntly.

For once Lydia found herself in agreement. The sooner they all got home the better. Aunt Grace could put a perfectly good face on it with the staff. Nobody did that sort of thing better.

Good-byes were said. The Ambrose party trooped away.

Ten minutes later Mark and Dicky said goodnight. The party was over.

There remained in the big drawing room Elliot, Phyllida, and Grace Paradine, with Albert Pearson as a buffer. It was impossible to say whether he realized the position and found it untenable, or whether he was merely being conscientious when he said that he had work to do and thought he had better be getting down to it. He did not appear nervous, but then Albert never did. Unfortunately Albert was deficient in charm. Yet on this occasion three people watched him go with regret.

There was one of those pauses. Phyllida stood by the fire looking down into it, half turned away from the rest, her pose one of graceful detachment, her color high. Grace Paradine had not resumed her seat. A couple of yards away Elliot, with the expression of a polite guest masking some embarrassment and some sarcasm.

More home canning was done in 1943 than ever before in the history of the country. There were many difficulties, even disasters. But most women learned a good deal about canning, and it is hoped that many of the difficulties can be avoided next canning season.

Oven canning has proved so undependable and capricious that it has been dropped entirely from the list of approved methods. In Chicago alone, last year, there were innumerable oven canning accidents resulting in serious burns and cuts from exploding glass, and in several instances, fatalities.

The greater number of canning troubles were caused by inaccurate following of instructions, or haphazard methods used by women who did not think it necessary to follow a guide to canning.

There were undoubtedly some difficulties which were the result of faulty equipment. New types of war time lids did not always give perfect seals. Some glass jars weren't tempered to take the extreme heat of processing, and exploded. Some of the emergency-manufactured pressure canners had defective pressure gauges, or leaked steam.

It isn't too soon to start preparations for this year's canning season. Good literature on safe methods of canning is abundant.

My staff and I have just sampled a new green tomato chili sauce, which we think is very good. Green tomatoes, sugar, salt, onions, pimientos, vinegar, and spices are the ingredients listed on its label. The chili sauce is on the sweet side. It would "go good" with a hamburger!

The National Live Stock and Meat Board home economists have a graphic way of demonstrating why it is better to roast meat at an even low temperature. They take two roasts, weighing exactly the same, roast one at 450 degrees, the other at 300 degrees, and cook them to the same doneness, as gauged by a roast meat thermometer. The shrinkage in weight and size of the meat cooked at the higher temperature is shocking, when compared with the meat roasted at the lower one. Six to eight more servings can be made from the roast cooked at 300 degrees.

Less shrinkage, with more servings, less fuel used, more uniform cooking of meat, more tenderness, better flavor, elimination of spattering, and ease of carving are some of the advantages in roasting all meats at low temperatures.

The bidding:

North	East	South	West
1 heart	2 dia.	2 spades	3 dia.
4 clubs	Pass	4 spades	Pass
5 spades	Pass	6 spades

West was reasonably sure that there was no hurry about leading diamonds, and therefore opened the heart king. The ace won, and declarer immediately set out to ruff his three losing diamonds. To do this, however, he had to ruff no fewer than four hearts—the fourth, so that he could reënter his own hand to draw trumps—and now East, with the insignificant 8-5-2 of trumps, was "one up" on South. East had discarded his clubs while declarer was busy ruffing hearts, so at this point declarer could not cash in a single club trick. Down two!

There were two different methods by which the contract easily could have been fulfilled. One was to cash the ace and king of clubs before embarking upon a cross-ruff of hearts and diamonds. The other method was to concede a club trick early in the play, with the idea of ruffing only one diamond but then being able to cash six trump tricks and four clubs.

Admittedly, both of these plans would depend on a 3-2 break in clubs, since with a 4-1 break the defenders would not only win a club trick but would be able to ruff a club. This danger; however, was substantially smaller than that incurred by the declarer, because in effect he risked everything on a 2-2 break in the trump suit. As every one knows [or should know] there is a far better chance that five missing cards [as in clubs] will break 3-2 than that four missing cards [as in trumps] will break 2-2.

Cold Parents Commit Sin Against Child

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

[Copyright: 1944: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

Coldness in a mother's attitude toward her children is something one rarely hears discussed in articles on child training, yet it can be as seriously cramping as active overt unkindness.

I'm still periodically amazed at the number of parents there are who are not interested in their children, and whose children don't feel close to them.

I hear it in reminiscences from my own contemporaries, and from young persons in college or out in the world who talk of their home life.

"I couldn't talk over things, feelings, experiences, longings, with my mother," a number of persons have told me.

"I want to be something to my children," many a young mother has written me. "My own mother was cold and unloving."

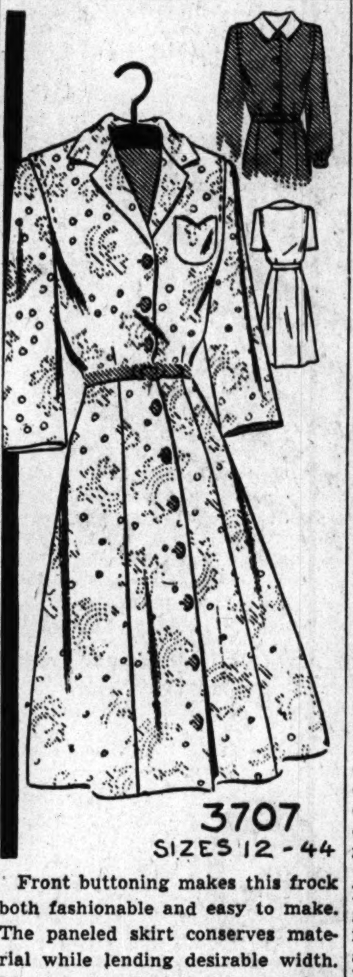
Many letters have this refrain, "Can you help me to inform my child about reproduction and sex? Neither my father nor my mother had any intimate part in my life and I don't intend my children to feel that way toward me."

"My husband's parents were so distant with him. Once on a vacation from college he broke two ribs in a fall from a hayloft and it never occurred to him to tell them. He went back to college without mentioning it."

Yet if these children failed to fit the outer standards of behavior set up by their parents, or failed to fulfill their worldly ambitions, their parents would be the first to resent it bitterly.

Of course there are always exceptions, but when children are selfish, unappreciative, or do unworthy things, it seems to me that those actions can usually be traced to coldness, or a real lack of warm human interest at home.

Tailored Dress



Front buttoning makes this frock both fashionable and easy to make. The paneled skirt conserves material while lending desirable width. It's a pretty frock in either prints or plain colors. Style No. 3707 is designed for sizes 12 to 44. Size 36 requires 3⅝ yards of 39 inch fabric.

Order Clotilde patterns from Chicago Tribune, P. O. Box 537, Grand Central Annex, New York City. Print name and address; state size. Each pattern is 10 cents, plus 2 cents for mailing. The pattern book is 15 cents, 10 cents if ordered with pattern.

Thru the Looking Glass

The more we see of hard working women limping around at their jobs because their shoes are the wrong type, or the wrong fit, or their feet need professional care and are denied it for reasons of an economy that's utterly false, the more we wonder whether it isn't all sawdust in feminine heads after all!

When, either because of ill fitting shoes or a condition that has developed into a faulty alignment of the bones in the foot, a woman finds that she can't be on her feet long without scowling to conceal her desire to scream she ought to do something about it. She'll spend money for other things that are far less necessary to her comfort, health, and efficiency, but it is astonishing that some women think the visit to the chiropodist is the wildest extravagance. It isn't.

The painful corn, the callus, or the bunion do more than just make feet hurt. They make you walk improperly, throwing all your inside gears out of mesh. They make you frown. You get tired far more easily because in the unconscious effort to shield them from pressure you're distributing your weight the wrong way—and there's nothing to beat that for hastening fatigue.

Do have corns and such fixed up the minute they appear. Above all, do wear the kind of shoes that relieve the pressure that's causing those malformations. Wear sensible shoes while you're working, at least, saving your silly ones—and no one can deny that silly shoes are nice, and attractive—for the briefer, less strenuous periods when you're relaxing.

Foot troubles that you ignore now will pile up on you later, that's for certain. Your step, your posture, your general health—all are damaged by the cumulative effect of neglect of the feet that have to last you a lifetime. ELEANOR NANGLE.

This Home-Mixed Cough Relief Is Hard To Beat

So Easy. No Cooking. Saves Big Dollars.

No matter what you've been using for coughs due to colds, you'll be the first to admit that this surprising relief, mixed in your own kitchen, can't be surpassed, for real results.

Make a syrup by stirring 2 cups of granulated sugar and 1 cup of water a few moments, until dissolved. No cooking is needed—a child could do it. Or you can use corn syrup or liquid honey, instead of sugar syrup.

Then put 2½ ounces of Pinex (obtained from any druggist) into a pint bottle, and add your syrup. This gives you a full pint of really amazing cough relief—about four times as much for your money. Tastes fine—children love it—and it never spoils.

You can feel this home mixture taking right hold of a cough. It loosens the phlegm, soothes the irritated membranes, and helps clear the air passages. Eases soreness and difficult breathing, and lets you sleep.

Pinex is a special compound of proven ingredients, in concentrated form, a most reliable soothing agent for throat and bronchial membranes. Just try it, and if not satisfied, your money will be refunded.

Central Church Gets Extension of Time in Orchestra Hall

Dr. Harold Ruopp, minister of Central church, announced to his congregation yesterday that, despite a lease signed for use of Orchestra hall by the Seventeenth Church of Christ, Scientist, effective June 1, Central church services will continue in Orchestra hall until the close of the season late in June. Dr. Ruopp said assurances from the Seventeenth church board had been received to this effect.

A new site in the loop for services is being sought by a special committee of the Central church board. Dr. Ruopp asked members of the congregation for suggestions. Yesterday's congregation was 50 per cent larger than usual for this time of year, because of widespread interest in Central church plans for the future, Dr. Ruopp said.

White Collar GIRL

BY RUTH MAC KAY

Another Language.

"U12CG-1207A-CRZ 9T TO CV APVD/CG PLUNKETT."

"U12-R."

Another language to you and me but to the hundreds of feminine radio operators for United Air Lines it's as easy as ABC and means "To United Air Lines, Flight 12, from Chicago transmitted at 12:07 a. m. You are cleared to cruise at 11,000 feet to Cleveland. Approved by Chicago dispatcher Plunkett."

"United's Flight 12 has received your message."

The federal communications commission is strict about the messages transmitted between planes and ground stations so that the air conversations carried on by the radio operators are somewhat standardized. Such words as "Roger," meaning "received OK," or "Wilco," meaning "Will comply with your request," are standard code words. But outside official company use, the girl radio operators [all of them holding federal radio operators' licenses] have developed a lingo of their own which some day may be added to the occupational vocabularies now springing up in many technical fields. Here is part of the girls' dictionary of favorite terms:

Beat the mill—use the typewriter; iron horse—perforated teletype tape transmitter unit; give me a beap—give me a time signal; Oscar—storage reservoir for excess teletype; squawk box or holler phone—intercommunication system; chatter—conversation; lid—new operator; destruction crew—radio engineers; cans—earphones; the pipe—pneumatic message tube.

Those Annual Reports.

If your "exhaustive search" is for one person only who reads and understands all annual reports received, you may now relax. I'm it—and a WCG besides.

ERMA S. LARSON.

If you are searching for one person who reads all the annual reports he receives [and understands them] I can state proudly that I was employed by such a man for seven very happy years. He would discuss our reports thoroly and at first when I did not understand he would take time to explain to me—not only company reports but others in which he had a personal interest. His name is J. Fred Schultz and he has been with his firm for almost 50 years.—EMILY PANNETIER.

Executives.

Business executives outstrip in the English vocabulary work-samples nearly every other group tested. In one study presidents and vice presidents of business organizations averaged 143 correct answers in a list of 150 words, each used in a phrase followed by five choices, one a synonym of the test word. College professors averaged a word lower, 142, in the same form, while college graduates averaged 20 words lower, 123. These executives, all with 10 years or more of experience, were scattered widely in type from the president of a small tool manufacturing organization, the vice president of a bank, the president of an iron works, the vice president of a wholesale stationery company, the directing engineer of a chemical plant, to the president of an advertising agency."—From "Unsolved Business Problems," by Johnson O'Connor.

BY EDWARD BURNS.

The Chicago Blackhawks last night celebrated the homecoming of Goalie Mike Karakas by holding the league leading Montreal Canadiens to a 1 to 1 tie—their first tie of the season and the first time in six meetings with the brilliant Montrealers.

A crowd of 18,150, largest league gathering of the season, and 99 more than the turnout for the last prior game in Chicago, which was played between the same teams on Jan. 1 was present last night.

Purpur Scores for Hawks.

Bouncing Fido Purpur scored the Chicago goal without assistance, in 15:45 of the first period, after picking up a loose puck in neutral ice and skating around Defenseman Emile Bouchard for a blinding, high shot past Goalie Bill Durnan.

Bouchard got revenge for his embarrassment at the hands of Purpur by scoring the tying goal in 14:51 of the second period. Bouchard counted on a long backhand swipe from the left boards just after Goalie Karakas had warded off an onslaught by Murph Chamberlain and Phil Watson. Chamberlain and Watson earned assists, tho Bouchard's shot was a rather independent and lucky effort.

Moral Victory for Hawks.

The game was one of fast skating and harder than usual body checking. However, it was cleanly played as attested by the fact that the Hawks did not serve a single penalty, the Canadiens only two.

Every team in the league had played in at least one tie before

150 to Bid for Golden Gloves in Minneapolis

Minneapolis, Minn., Jan. 16 [Special].—The Northwest Golden Gloves tournament, which developed three fighters who advanced to the finals of the Chicago Tournament of Champions last year, will be held here Feb. 7, 8, 9, and 14 with a field of approximately 150 boxers.

Jackie Graves, four times Northwest bantamweight and featherweight champion and loser last year to Tony Janiro of Cleveland, after winning the Chicago crown in 1942, will not compete. Also missing will be Matt Hammond, who lost in the Chicago flyweight finals in 1943. Hammond is now in the army, but his younger brother Mel will carry on for him.

Football Star Returns.

Bill McMoore, husky Negro middleweight, who won two fights in Chicago last year will be back, however. McMoore, a all-city high school football star, who led Minneapolis South High school to the Twin City gridiron title, is expected to rule the Northwest middleweights.

Thirteen districts are included in the Minneapolis Star Journal-Tribune tournament. Besides Minneapolis, cities, where qualifying tournaments will be held, are St. Paul, Mankato, Slayton, Albert Lea, Owatonna, Rochester, Park Rapids, McGregor, Brainerd, Fairmont, Wahpeton, and Coleraine. All are in Minnesota.

ASSIGN CHICAGOANS

More than 200 letters of instruction have been mailed to Chicago Golden Gloves boxers assigning them to the physical examination Jan. 24 at the C. Y. O. gymnasium. The first examination Wednesday night at the same place is for C. Y. O. boxers who already have been notified to report.

It seems likely that Chicago's sectional tournaments will be as large as last year. The south side trials will start in the St. Sabina gymnasium, 78th street and Racine avenue, Jan. 31. The north side tournament in the Loyola university gymnasium will start Feb. 2.

Entries will be accepted until next Monday for the 17th annual tournament sponsored by the Chicago Tribune Charities. North and south side champions, in both the novice and open divisions, will meet in the city finals Feb. 14 in the Marigold Gardens.

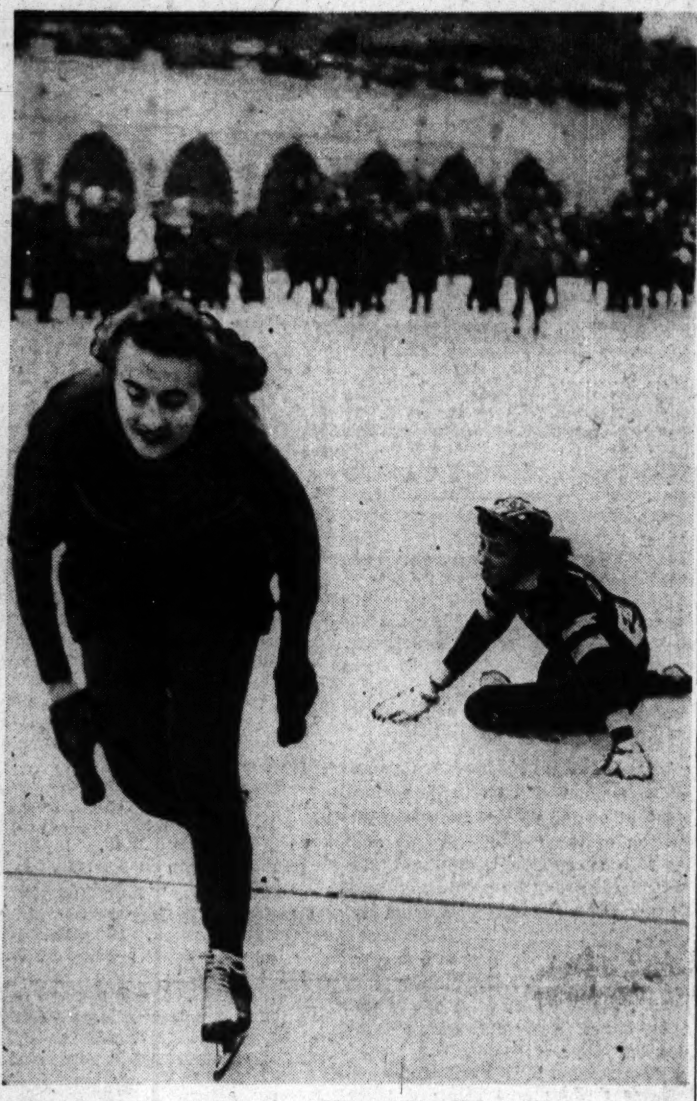
GIRL MARINE TO COMPETE SUNDAY IN SKI TOURNEY

Pvt. Dorothy Graves of the marine corps arrived in Chicago yesterday to compete in the invitational ski tournament to be held next Sunday and Jan. 30 in Wrigley field. Pvt. Graves is the only feminine entrant in the tourney.

Dorothy Graves.

Altho she is only 20 years old, Miss Graves has been competing against men for three years. She has finished first in three meets in which men were competitors. Her best standing jump is 204 feet, recorded at Lake Placid, N. Y., in a meet won with a 207 foot effort by one of the male participants.

SLIDING IN HOME



Miss Bernice Melewski of West Allis, Wis., glides across the finish line in the girls' seniors final for her third pair of silver skates in yesterday's Silver Skates Derbies as Luetta Du Mez of the C. Y. O. takes a tumble in her futile attempt to catch the winner, but finishes second.

Mizerski Has Completed 50 Air Missions

UNITED STATES ARMY 12TH AIR FORCE, Jan. 16.—First Lt. Richard C. Mizerski, 25 years old, bombardier on A. A. F. B-25 Mitchels in the Mediterranean theater, has 50 combat missions to his credit. He took part in the North African and Sicilian campaigns and in the blows against the Germans in Italy.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Mizerski, 2257 North La Vergne avenue, Chicago, Lt. Mizerski was graduated from Notre Dame, where he was a member of the football squad in 1938 and 1939.

Describes Benevento Mission.

His most memorable mission took place Aug. 27 over the Benevento railroad yards in Italy.

"As the formation reached its lowest altitude at landfall," he relates, "suddenly the sky became full of enemy fighters, numbering at least 50.

"The flak over Capua was the most intense and accurate that I ever have seen. Altho the enemy fighters pressed us with their aggressive attacks, we picked out the railroad yards quickly, and after a short but accurate bomb run, dropped our eggs squarely on our objective.

Receives Purple Heart.

"We were off the target in a few seconds with the fighters still on our tails. It was when we were over the water heading home that they finally broke away and turned back. We lost three of our bombers, but our boys behind the guns accounted for 21 of the attackers."

On his first operational raid, over the landing ground at Sainte Marie du Zit in Tunisia, near the end of the North African campaign, Lt. Mizerski was cut just below the eye by a shell fragment which crashed thru the bombardier's compartment. He was awarded the purple heart for this injury.

MICHIGAN SKATE HONORS WON BY CHICAGO GIRLS

Detroit, Mich., Jan. 16 (AP).—Elaine Gordon, leading a three girl Chicago delegation, today won three special events in the southern Michigan speed skating championship, winning the 220, 440, and mile events. Peggy Barber won the half mile and Bessie Douglas gained several seconds and thirds.

Among them, the Chicagoans gave Michigan entries one second and one third in the four events.

NELSON'S 68 ALL BUT CLINCHES GOLF TOURNEY

Has 5 Stroke Edge in San Francisco Open.

San Francisco, Cal., Jan. 16 (AP).—Burning up the course with a third successive below par round, Byron Nelson of Toledo, O., increased his lead over the field today with a 54 hole total of 205 in the $10,000 San Francisco Victory Open golf tournament.

Nelson's four under par 68 for the Harding park public course gave him a five stroke advantage over his closest rival, Harold [Jug] McSpaden of Philadelphia, and virtually clinched for him top money of the rich tournament, barring a complete breakdown of his game in tomorrow's final 18 hole round.

7,000 Follow Nelson.

A gallery estimated at more than 7,000 fans followed the former National and Professional Golfers' association champion whose successive 68, 69, and 68 enabled him to hold the lead from the start.

He obliged the largest tournout in local golf history by rounding the first nine today in 34 and coming up the 18th fairway five under par. His only poorly played hole of the day proved to be the last. On the green in 2 and with a 35 foot putt, he elected to play safe and putted weakly, the ball stopping five feet away from the cup. He missed the next and went down for a bogey 5, costing him what would have been a 67 and the finest round of the tournament.

Par for the course is 36—36—72.

McSpaden Loses Ground.

Nelson, favorite from the start, gained two strokes today over McSpaden, winner of the recent Los Angeles Open. McSpaden carded his third straight 70 for a 210, which was a shot better than that of the former New York Yankee baseball player, Sam Byrd of Detroit.

Slender Lloyd Mangrum of Monterey Park, Cal., who goes into the army Tuesday, took over fourth place with a 71 and total 212, while Art Bell, San Francisco, and George Fazio, Pine Valley, N. J., shared fifth position with a total of 215.

After being well up among the leaders for the first two rounds, Harry Cooper of Minneapolis hacked away some of his chances by taking a 76 which gave him a three round score of 217.

Bulla Shoots 68.

Nelson's fine 68 was equalled by two others during the third round. John Bulla of Chicago coupled a pair of 34s to give a tie at 218 with Ellsworth Vines, Monterey Park, Cal., and Joe Kirkwood Jr., Philadelphia. Harry Bassler of Culver City, Cal., put together 35—33, getting an eagle and two birdies on the last three holes, to get into the 220-shot bracket with W. A. Stackhouse of Seguin, Tex. The leaders:

(Picture on back page.)

Bernice Melewski of West Allis, Wis., and Jim De Swarte of the Champaign-Urbana club are the senior speed skating champions of the central states. These stars on steel blades sped to victory yesterday afternoon in THE TRIBUNE'S Silver Skates Derbies in Garfield park over a course seldom equaled in more than a quarter of a century of competition and before a crowd which completely surrounded the lagoon and taxed the facilities of the boathouse.

The senior champions, who were rewarded with sterling silver skates for their spectacular speed, shared honors in the 27th annual Derbies with the winners in the younger age groups in the finale of the two afternoons of racing. More than 100 races were held to sift the field of 2,000 and determine the 1944 title holders.

Closest of Competition.

While Chicago skaters were denied silver skates in the senior divisions, they won five of the eight first place awards. Two titles were won by the Northwest Skating club while the Catholic Youth Organization, with three victories, retained possession of the Walter Eckersall memorial team trophy by defeating the Northwest team 310 points to 270. Thirteen teams representing five states placed in the standings.

The qualifying events and championship finals yesterday in the continuous program of two and a half hours were replete with thrills and spills. The competition without exception was so closely waged that many scoring places were decided by the distance of a stroke.

Senior Races Climactic.

The senior races, because they were longest and required stamina and judgment of pace, were a fitting climax to the finals. No former champion, and national and Olympic skaters who have received silver skates, ever has moved more steadily to the coveted goal than De Swarte did over the two mile course yesterday. He broke fast with the starting gun and paced the field for the first two laps before yielding the position to Sherman Barth of West Allis, Wis.

On the sixth lap, which completed the first mile, Kenneth Doll of the Northwest club went to the front. His time for the mile was 3 minutes 50 seconds, fair for the 2 mile race. Doll held the lead over the bunched field for a total of five laps, which brought him the gold

As the weather was cold, Tiny soaked up a quart or so of corn en route. . . . When they arrived, they were informed that Sam's scheduled opponent would be unable to appear and that Sam and Tiny would have to meet in the main event. . . . Roebuck ordered another bottle to maintain his stamina, but Cordovano, deciding Tiny had had enough, hid the firewater when it was delivered. . . . Deaf to Tiny's pleadings, Sam crawled thru the ropes, anticipating that his 275 pound foe would fall on him and end his career along with the match. . . . Instead, at the first clinch, Roebuck fell backwards with Sam on top and that was that. . . . Needless to say, Tiny then got his other bottle.

Their glory shall ring forever in epitaph, story and song.

Each grave is a temple to courage which shelters a son of God.

RED WINGS RALLY IN THIRD PERIOD; BEAT LEAFS, 4-1

Detroit's Biggest Crowd, 13,859, Sees Battle.

Detroit, Mich., Jan. 16 (AP).—The Detroit Red Wings rallied with three goals in the third period tonight to whip the Toronto Maple Leafs, 4 to 1, before 13,859, Detroit's largest turnout of the season for a National Hockey league contest. It was the Wings' second triumph in two nights over the Leafs. Dalton Smith's first major league goal provided the winning margin.

The Wings, whose last five games have produced four victories and a tie in a bid for honors higher than their present fourth place station, sent 25 year old Conrad Dion to the nets in a surprise move. This paid off, however, in another victory for the 5 foot 5 inch goal tender who hasn't lost in three games. He replaced the veteran Normie Smith, Detroit's home goalie.

The only shot that got past Dion was Ted Kennedy's 15 footer in the second period that offset Adam Brown's first period score for Detroit. Early in the third period, Smith netted his winning goal. Then Murray Armstrong scored and 12 seconds before the finish Brown got his second goal. The lineup:

18,150 Watch Hawks Tie Montreal, 1-1

the Hawks deadlocked last night for the first time. The champion Detroit Red Wings have drawn five times and last night's standoff was the fifth for the Canadiens, who have been beaten only three times.

The Chicagoans felt they were entitled to consider last night's tie in the nature of a moral victory. In their two earlier appearances here the Canadiens won, 5 to 3, and 4 to 0. In Montreal the leaders have whipped our boys, 5 to 1, 6 to 2, and 5 to 1.

Wiebe, Allen to Play.

The Hawks, clearly strengthened by the return of Karakas after an absence from Chicago extending back to Dec. 21, 1939, will be further bolstered for their next game, in Detroit next Thursday night. Art Wiebe, defense star, who has been absent in the team's 27 games this season, will report and George Allen, hurt in the Canadiens' game here Jan. 1, will rejoin the team.

The Canadiens have been the attraction in the last two games in Chicago, and played before the two largest National league crowds of the season, a grand total of 36,111 for the two consecutive engagements.

CROWN EIGHT CHAMPIONS IN SILVER SKATES

medal lap prize, but on the 11th lap De Swarte again moved into command.

Wards Off Threat.

The sturdy De Swarte stroked steadily, and altho he was challenged on the back stretch of the last lap by Lowell Miller of the C. Y. O., a navy medical student from Elgin, Ill., he staved off the threat and won by two yards. Clarence Goguen finished third less than a yard behind Miller.

Barth finished fourth and Pvt. Alex Goguen, representing the 10th division of the United States army stationed at Camp Hale, Colo., was fifth.

Miss Melewski's victory in the girls' senior mile final was scored at the expense of another 1943 intermediate winner, Luetta Du Mez of the C. Y. O. who had advanced because of her 1943 title. Mrs. Bruce Oxford of the C. Y. O., who eventually finished fifth, won the lap prize for leading the first four laps of the six lap race.

Wins Third Title.

At the start of the fifth lap the field spurted, and on the gun lap, Miss Du Mez went to the front closely followed by Miss Melewski. On the back stretch, the Wisconsin girl took the lead and held it to win by two yards as Miss Du Mez fell at the finish line. La Vernge Daum of Cleveland, O., was third. Miss Melewski's victory was her third in Silver Skates as she won the girls' junior skates in 1941 and the intermediate title in 1942.

Virginia Mazetta of the C. Y. O., 1943 girls' junior winner, took the half mile intermediate championship yesterday after a spirited battle with Rita Janet of the Northwest club which was not decided until the last stroke.

George Fischer of the Northwest club won the mile race for intermediate boys from his team mate Walter Rust, who received the lap prize as consolation for leading the first four laps. Buddy Solem, who might have challenged, fell in the early stages.

Laser Takes Tumble.

The junior boys' championship was a heart breaker for Don Laser, former title holder in the midget and juvenile divisions. Laser fell when out in front but eventually recovered to take the silver medal for fourth. Ken Henry of the Barrett A. C., who led at the end of five laps, coasted in mistaken belief he had finished and Jack Carney of the C. Y. O. passed him and then held a three yard advantage over the startled Henry for the concluding circuit of the track.

Mary Allen of the C. Y. O. won the girls' junior silver skates in the most closely contested Derby of the afternoon. In the last few feet the field was so closely bunched that Virginia Bell of the Barrett A. C., in her last bid, fell and barely saved sixth place in the scramble. Juanita Gatling of Northwest was second.

Scotty Wallace, talented juvenile skater from Champaign-Urbana, won this quarter mile Derby. Scotty set the pace all the way and finished a yard in front of Francis Malpede of the Barrett A. C.

Thomson's Rally Wins.

The silver skates for the midget boys under 12 years of age went to Jimmy Thomson of the Northwest S. C. who came up from third place in the jumble of youngsters sprinting 220 yards. Twice in succession the leaders lost their feet and were eliminated. Jimmy's time was 25½ seconds.

Gen. John V. Clinnin, who yesterday refereed his 27th Silver Skates Derby, presented the trophies to the champions and contenders in the Garfield park auditorium. Moving pictures were made of the ceremonies and many of the races. This film will be exhibited by THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE. Summaries:

THANKS.

Son of Liberty Takes Handicap in Mexico City

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 16 (AP).—Mrs. John L. Sullivan's son of Liberty won the featured $2,000 Michoacan six furlong handicap here today.

PITTRO TO HAVE 10 POUND EDGE IN LEWIS BATTLE

Roy Lewis, southpaw lightweight of Muncie, Ind., who won the Chicagoland Golden Gloves featherweight championship three years ago, will meet the heaviest opponent of his career when he faces Jerry [Baby Galento] Pittro in a 10 round bout in Marigold Gardens, Broadway and Grace street, tonight.

Pittro, Chicago slugger, will have a weight advantage of 10 pounds since Roy carried 137 while losing a hard fight with Jimmy Joyce in Chicago Stadium on Dec. 10.

Charley Wells, Gary welterweight, and Bill Parsons, Danville, Ill., who fought a draw previously, will attempt to settle matters in a six round rematch. A five round event will bring together Mickey McKiness, St. Charles, Ill., middleweight, and Jesse Jackson, while four rounders will involve Vic Soyko, Milwaukee 142 pounder, vs. Berlin Hadnot, and Art Sullivan, Indianapolis 160 pounder, vs. Bishop Murphy.

Eddie [Bad Man] Lewis, Detroit heavyweight, and Flash Gordon will meet in a wrestling bout this evening in White City, 63d street and South Park avenue. Lewis also is booked to head a mat program in Rainbo Fronton Wednesday against Walter Palmer.

VIKINGS DEFEAT SPARTAS, 3-2, IN SOCCER MATCH

BY OFFSIDE.

The Vikings defeated the Spartas, 3 to 2, in a second round National challenge soccer cup match played yesterday in Winnemac park stadium before 1,500 spectators. The victory gives the winners the right to meet the Falk corporation team of Milwaukee in the western simfinals at a time and place to be named later.

Jimmy McDermott, center full back, a former Spartan, played a brilliant game for the Vikings who were handicapped by the absence thru war work of Weck Henney and Horace James.

List Scores First.

Bill List opened the scoring for the Vikings, booting into the net from five yards out after taking a pass from Laddie Mrnka. Half an hour later the Spartas tied the count on a penalty shot by Jimmy Wolf, who scored both Sparta goals.

The Vikings, thanks to a tip past Silvosky from three yards out, led at the half, 2 to 1.

The ultimate winners increased their lead to 3 to 1 on John Potti's slow rolling goal, shortly after the start of the second half. Ten minutes later the Spartas scored the day's final point on Wolf's second penalty shot of the afternoon. The Spartas rallied and their efforts nearly tied the score when Maxi Pearlman's shot from 15 yards out struck the upright and bounced back to safety.

Italians Beat Hansas.

In an exhibition game, played in Reda stadium, the Italians defeated the Hansas, who meet the Hakoah Centers in a National cup match next Sunday, 3 to 2.

ANALYSTS FIND HEAVY TAXES A PROFIT CUSHION

Volume Shrinkage Not All Loss.

BY THOMAS FURLONG.

Corporations paying out most of their earnings in excess profits will be cushioned against the effects of the general shrinkage in corporation profits that is expected when the war ends.

Tax analysts who have projected the figures of individual corporations into the post-war period find that surprising results will occur in many cases. For example the profits of some companies have doubled or quadrupled since the war began. A corporation whose present earnings are triple its normal pre-war profits is paying out in taxes 90 per cent of the excess earnings. If the war ends late in 1944 and the 1945 earnings of the corporation fall back to the pre-war level the actual shrinkage in the net profits would be small in comparison with the decline in earnings before taxes.

Effect Is Demonstrated.

This can be illustrated by a specific example. The pre-war profits of a corporation were 2 million dollars a year before taxes. After paying corporation income taxes of 40 per cent there remained net profit of $1,200,000. In 1943 the same corporation had profit before taxes of 10 million dollars. After paying out 80 per cent in normal and excess profits taxes there remained net profit of 2 million dollars.

Assuming that profits in 1945 fall back to the pre-war level, the shrinkage in earnings before taxes would be 8 million dollars. But the decline in net profit after taxes would be only 10 per cent of that figure or $800,000

Even more striking are the effects of applying relief provisions in the 1942 revenue act to corporations in the excess profits tax bracket.

Aimed at Profit Stability.

These provisions were intended to stabilize earnings of corporations that pay out nearly all their earnings in taxes in the war years and then experience a drastic shrinkage in earnings or incur actual deficits after the war.

Such corporations are entitled to a refund of part of the excess profits taxes paid in the war years if their post-war earnings fall below the pre-war level or their operations become unprofitable.

How this works out is illustrated by the following example of a corporation with pre-war earnings before taxes of 2 million dollars whose earnings have increased to 5 million dollars:

Year.	Net income before taxes.	Net income after taxes.
1941	$2,000,000	$1,380,000
1942	5,000,000	1,500,000
1943	5,000,000	1,500,000
1944	Break Even	*1,000,000
1945	1,000,000 Loss	*900,000

*Net profit after credit for tax refunds on revised earnings for the years 1942-1943.

Acts as Post-War Reserve.

The above illustration was prepared by George E. Barnes of Wayne Hummer & Co. Because these provisions of the 1942 act have had little practical effect as yet their importance has not been generally recognized even among corporation officials. The excess profits taxes that corporations are now paying are for practical purposes post-war reserves for many corporations.

Altho the refunds will be large in some cases the operation of these provisions is expected to be beneficial to the treasury. Their effect will be to enable some corporations to maintain pay rolls and dividends that otherwise would be drastically curtailed. Such disbursements will indirectly contribute to treasury revenues.

HOLDS ADVANCE IN TECHNOLOGY MAY PERIL JOBS

New York, Jan. 16 (AP).—Technical advances which have made possible industry's all-time production record during the war foreshadow difficulty in providing full employment after the war, the Russell Sage Foundation said today.

In a report on "Technology and Livelihood" the foundation asserted the volume of job opportunities failed to keep pace with expanding production.

"Despite dangers implied in the rising surplus of workers, adjustments can be made if guided by social research in every community directed toward use of the new productivity for higher living standards," the 237 page report said.

COAL RETAILERS TO STUDY NEWER FIRING METHODS

Chicago coal dealers are going to school again to learn the latest methods in fuel conservation and heating. They then will pass on their knowledge to their customers.

NELSON TAKING CONTROL OVER RECONVERSION

Switch to Be Slow, Orders Indicate.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 16 (AP).—Donald M. Nelson, chairman of the war production board, is beginning to make it clear that he is bossing war industry reconversion to civilian production, and that resumption of normal manufactures will be slower than anticipated.

Nelson's emergence was signaled in a series of directives he issued last week which blocked all plans for immediate widespread resumption of civilian goods output.

Three Nelson orders, taken together, constitute a partial outline of his eventual reconversion program while turning aside pressure for extensive reconversion now. They also left no doubt that Nelson is going ahead to put his program in operation even tho the White House has given no overt sign that the reconversion job is his.

Calls Conference Today.

An order continuing the ban on construction, another declaration against relaxing steel use restrictions for nonessential civilian products, and a third forbidding the channeling of permitted civilian manufactures to labor shortage areas together constituted Nelson's developing pattern.

It was also announced by a WPB spokesman that reconversion would be discussed at a conference of 15 leading industrialists Nelson called for tomorrow.

The Nelson orders brought out that three factors stand in the way of immediate return to civilian production, even tho raw materials in excess of war needs are available.

Three Obstacles Listed.

These factors are the desire of the military and production team to "keep fluid" to meet any unforeseen demands of the invasion; the labor shortage remaining in some areas; the severe "secondary shortages" of coal, oil, packaging materials, and transportation which widespread resumption of civilian manufactures would aggravate.

Nelson's order on construction said present restrictions would continue until invasion requirements are "set." The order forbidding reconverted civilian manufacturers to labor shortage areas will restrict any such enterprises to labor surplus areas. The "secondary shortages" will severely limit authorization for any extension of civilian production, Nelson said.

Steel Industry Expects Early Easing of Restrictions on Use

Cleveland, O., Jan. 16 (AP).—Steelmakers and consumers anticipate modification of a war production board limitation order, further easing the supply of raw materials for civilian goods, the magazine Steel reported today, recalling recent releases of steel for baby carriages, flatware, bathtubs, irons, and other items.

"With most war requirements well in hand and over-all capacity sufficient for these needs, if not in excess," the trade publication predicted release of steel for "needs most essential for maintaining the domestic economy."

Mill Backlogs Reduced.

Mill backlogs, in all lines except steel plates, were reduced somewhat last week, the journal said, because of changes in war needs and resulting cancelations. Pig iron buying was reported orderly, with supplies ample for all needs under present circumstances.

Steel ingot production last year totaled 88,872,598 tons, the magazine reported, "nearly 3 million tons more than 1942 despite coal and steelworks strikes."

Plate Output Sets Record.

A new plate production record set in December may be surpassed this month, Steel predicted, as pressure for plates for landing craft production continues unabated.

National ingot production last week advanced 2½ points to 99 per cent of estimated capacity, resuming the approximate level of the latter part of 1943. The Chicago rate, however, dropped 1½ points to 101.

COMMUNITY PROPERTY.

My husband and I are residents of Idaho, a community property state. My husband is abroad with the army, and I would like to know if I am required to report as income any portion of my husband's salary? E. K.

Answer: A special rule applies to the wife of a service man where the couple's domicile is in a community property state. In such a case if community income, such as service pay of the husband, is not actually or constructively received by the wife during the year, she is not required to report her share of such income in her return for the taxable year, but may postpone including it until such time as the husband is required to file a return. At that time an amended return for the taxable year must be filed.

Members of the military or naval forces who are outside the continental United States at the time a return is due may postpone filing the return and making payment until the 15th day of the fourth month following the month in which they cease to serve on sea duty or outside the United States, but not beyond the 15th day of the third month following the month in which the war ends.

NEW TIN PLATING METHOD LOWERS NEED FOR METAL

Details of the halogen tin electroplating process, developed by E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Co. during the war in coöperation with the steel, electroplating and chemical industries were described by the du Pont company yesterday. A continuous steel strip is run thru chemical baths and coated with tin at the rate of 1,050 feet a minute in the process. It is one of various tin electroplating methods the use of which has been stimulated by war conditions as a means of conserving the metal.

The halogen process was described not only as producing tin plate many times faster than by the conventional "hot dip" method, but so economical in the use of tin that du Pont estimates the possible yearly saving at 1,200,000 pounds.

Installations of the process now represent a total investment of from 50 to 60 million dollars thruout the country.

WAR USE OF SILVER SETS RECORD IN '43, 125 MILLION OUNCES

New York, Jan. 16 (AP).—Handy & Harman, silver dealers, reported today that consumption of silver in the United States during 1943 was more than four times the average amount for the five years prior to 1941. The report estimated 125 million ounces were used last year, an increase of 9 per cent over the previous high of 115 million in 1942.

"Of all the silver used in the United States in 1943," the report said, "some 65 per cent went into war production or the purposes classified as essential by the WPB."

Copper Output a Record.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 16 (AP).—The nation's mines produced 1,087,630 tons of copper in 1943, a new record beating the 1942 figure of 1,080,061 by an eyelash, the bureau of mines reported today on the basis of preliminary figures.

Why more than half the people of Cook County, leaving estates, have no WILLS...

Although the making of a will is a privilege which the law provides—and a will is perhaps the most important document to have drawn—there are various reasons why people don't leave wills. These are understandable "human nature" reasons.

A business man, for instance, may be so concerned with the immediate problems of his business that he puts off making a will. He isn't indifferent to the future welfare of his family. He's just engrossed in his business. Or he may not realize fully the benefits for his family that could be obtained if he made a will.

Some people feel that the provisions of the law as to how their estates will be divided are satisfactory—perhaps without realizing that they can do more under a will than merely distribute the estate.

Other people have other reasons.

If you haven't made a will, you may find it worth your while to talk over your situation, confidentially and without obligation, with one of our trust officers. He does not draw up wills. Your lawyer must do that. But you will get the benefit of practical experience as to what happens when an estate is probated, as to taxes, costs and other things you have in mind.

Feel free to come in.

8,000 TEACHERS GIVEN RAISES IN SCHOOL BUDGET

Board Proposes Higher Pay for 13,000.

The 1944 budget of the Chicago board of education, to be presented at a board meeting today, will contain raises in salary for more than 13,000 employes, including 8,000 elementary teachers. These raises will range from $3.34 to $16.66 per month and will be distributed among all elementary school teachers and 5,000 civil service employes receiving less than $250 a month. The larger increases are for those in the lower wage brackets.

The increase for teachers is the initial step toward putting into effect the single salary schedule for all teachers, which has long been advocated by parents, teachers, and civic groups, James B. McCahey, board president, said.

Total at $67,250,728.

The total city school tax levy for 1944 expected to be passed today is $67,250,728, compared with $66,442,333 in 1943. However, before the 1944 taxes are spread the levy will be reduced by more than $2,781,000. This will be accomplished by taking advantage of the callable feature of the $22,300,000 loan made in 1934 for payment of back salaries due teachers and other employes.

Under the provision the loan may be reduced and refinanced in August, 1944. The board proposes to pay off approximately 14 million dollars of the loan and refinance the balance at a much lower rate of interest. The estimated amount by which the bond and interest levy for 1944 will be reduced will be $2,781,000. As a result, the total tax levy for all school purposes for 1944 will be $64,469,461, or about 2 million dollars less than the total school levy in 1943. This refinancing program also will result in an estimated saving of $840,000 a year for the next 10 years in interest alone, according to McCahey.

How Raise Was Effected.

The raise in pay was made possible by the following sources of savings:

1. Final computations as of Dec. 31, 1943, showed additional savings in the 1943 educational fund expenditures of $700,000 over the estimates of Nov. 1.

2. The closing of 348 high school divisions because of a drop of 13,000 in student membership since Jan. 1, 1943. These teachers will now be assigned to fill vacancies caused by military leaves, etc., which have been filled by temporary teachers. This savings amounted to approximately $900,000.

3. Closing of a number of schools as a result of their being taken over by the armed services for teaching men in the service.

One Division Absorbed.

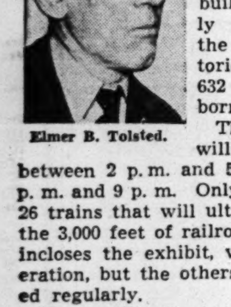
4. Consolidation of the division of educational expenditure and economy and textbook depository with the bureau of purchases and bureau of finance. This is in accordance with recommendations included in the administrative survey report.

McCahey pointed out that there would be no increase in the taxes to be levied for the educational purposes fund, which are pegged at $53,200,000. There will be a decrease of $200,000 in the taxes to be levied for the building fund, out of which the cost of maintenance and rehabilitation of Chicago's more than 400 schools is paid, he said. The amount to be levied has been reduced to $6,154,000.

The textbook fund levy will amount to $900,000, which is $250,000 less than that authorized by the legislature. The playground levy of $465,000 shows a reduction of $18,000 under that of 1943. The teachers' pension fund levy has been reduced $88,000 from its 1943 figure of $2,322,000. The bond and interest levy shows a reduction of $85,505 from 1943, when the levy was $4,383,333.

TRAIN BUILDER TO OPEN EXHIBIT OF HIS TINY LINE

Elmer B. Tolsted, whose childhood interest in trains has developed spectacularly during the last 50 years, will open to the public an exhibit of trains at 2 p. m. tomorrow in the building formerly occupied by the Chicago Historical society at 632 North Dearborn street.



Elmer B. Tolsted.

The exhibit will be open daily between 2 p. m. and 5 p. m., and 7 p. m. and 9 p. m. Only three of the 26 trains that will ultimately circle the 3,000 feet of railroad track that incloses the exhibit, will be in operation, but the others will be added regularly.

These will run contiuously, and sound effects will accompany them. Reproductions of factory buildings, industrial sites, rivers, and bridges will be placed strategically and the result will be a model mechanical town.

Tolsted said his project is one of those things that can go on for years. "It may never be completed," he explained. "There is just no limit to the items that can be added."

New President Chosen by Police Association

Others elected were John Reidy of the detective bureau, financial secretary; Joseph F. Fanning of Sheffield avenue, vice president; Patrick Enright of the traffic division, treasurer, and Paul Moser of Jefferson Park, recording secretary. The election was held at the Skyline club, 188 W. Randolph street.

THE QUESTION.

Did you ever lose a good friend by telling the truth?

WHERE ASKED.

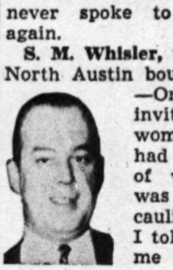
333 building, 333 North Michigan avenue.

THE ANSWERS.

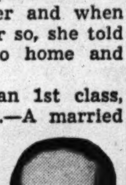
Miss Dolores Thomas, switchboard operator, 2308 North 74th avenue, Elmwood Park—I accompanied a friend on a shopping expedition to buy a new dress. I was honest in my opinion of what looked good on her and my remarks weren't any too flattering. She disliked my frankness and I lost my friend.

Joseph Pizzolato, assistant elevator starter, 824 North Harding avenue—I was taking a friend to a high school dance some years ago. She was wearing a hat that had too much color in it and I told her that I thought it was too loud. She got angry at my criticism and it was our last date.

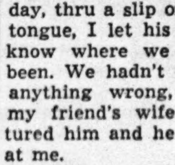
Miss Colette Le Tourneau, junior clerk, 220 North Leamington avenue—My best girl friend's boy friend was seeing another girl and I told my friend. She didn't believe it, no matter how hard I tried to convince her. She never spoke to me again.



S. M. Whisler, unit manager, 340 North Austin boulevard, Oak Park—One evening I was invited to a young woman's home. She had cooked the meal, of which cauliflower was a part. I hate cauliflower and when I told her so, she told me to go home and not return.



C. E. Swank, yeoman 1st class, U. S. N., Laclede, Mo.—A married friend and I went out together one night for a good time. The next day, thru a slip of the tongue, I let his wife know where we had been. We hadn't done anything wrong, but my friend's wife lectured him and he got pretty angry at me.



Miss Helen Sloan, civil service stenographer, 5308 Hyde Park boulevard—I belonged to a sorority, the members of which decided to play "Truth and Consequences." The game brought out peeves of years past and the truth was brutally frank. The group never met again.

TWO COPS TO GO ON TRIAL TODAY IN GAMING CASE

Lt. Myles McDonough and Deputy Philip Schwartz, suspended county highway policemen who are charged with conspiracy to permit gambling, will go on trial today before Judge Rudolph Desort in Criminal court.

Lt. McDonough [top] and Philip Schwartz.

Their case, the first exposed by the October grand jury's investigations, centers in the Dome, a Guzik gambling house at 7466 Irving Park road. Slot machines and other gambling devices were seized in a raid there Sept. 19, but instead of being destroyed some of the equipment allegedly was permitted to disappear. This incident precipitated the grand jury investigation.

McDonough and Schwartz, who acted as his chauffeur, were responsible for the safekeeping of the confiscated equipment. Their trial was continued until today from Dec. 13 at the request of Richard Austin, assistant state's attorney, who said he feared the jurors might be swayed by the Christmas season sentiment.

PLUMBERS SCAN WAYS TO MEET POST-WAR NEEDS

How plumbers are to meet the post-war demand for equipment resulting from accumulated construction and modernization projects will be studied at the three day 51st annual convention of the Illinois Master Plumbers association opening tomorrow in Springfield.

Disposal of material salvaged from war housing, conversion of plants, and current problems dealing with man power and material shortages are among the other topics.

Rupert J. Weber, vice president, Illinois Master Plumbers association, and Robert E. Murphy, president, Plumbing Contractors association of Chicago, will lead delegates from northern Illinois and also from Wisconsin.

Singer Reports Theft of Furs Worth $1,550

Miss Sally Joyce, a singer in a tavern at 935 Wilson avenue, told police yesterday that thieves stole furs valued at $1,550, perfume, and other articles worth $225 from her apartment in the Windsor Wilson apartment hotel at 915 Wilson avenue.

PARADE TO OPEN WAR LOAN DRIVE HERE TOMORROW

Chicago will open the fourth war loan drive tomorrow with a parade, band playing, a moment of silence, and other ceremonies—and all-out buying of war bonds.

The nation-wide campaign will end on Feb. 15. To meet their quota, citizens of Chicago and Cook county by that time must have purchased $721,818,400 of all types of government issues, of which $130,901,300 must be in the "E" series, or "people's bonds."

Military personnel of Chicagoland, movie personages, and dozens of Chicago and Cook county organizations representing communities, organized labor, business, industry, women, schools, and other groups will participate in the drive, said Frank McNair, county chairman of the campaign.

Three Days Honor Military.

Three days have been designated by the treasury department for intensified buying in honor of the military. Army day will be Jan. 20, Navy day will be Jan. 27, and Marine day will be Feb. 3.

Schools-at-War days will be observed starting Feb. 10. Every day of the drive will see bond buying stimulated by numerous activities by scores of organizations.

For tomorrow, Mayor Kelly has issued a proclamation calling for halting of vehicular traffic at 11 a. m., to be followed by one minute of silence. The Chanute Field band will play during ceremonies in Treasury center, 72 West Adams street. A parade and other activities are planned for the opening day ceremonies.

Appeals Sent to Workers.

Earl J. McMahon and Samuel Levin, co-chairmen of the loan committee for labor, called on all AFL and CIO members to support the drive. Some 300,000 letters already have gone out to members urging bond purchases, they said.

About 1,500 Boy Scouts have distributed 20,000 posters among retailers for display in their stores. The posters bear the message, "Buying a Bond Is No Sacrifice."

Tonight a full hour nation-wide radio program will mark the eve of the drive. Tomorrow the 31 radio stations in Illinois will devote 60 per cent of their time to war bond selling.

OPEN MEETINGS WEDNESDAY TO AID U. S. O. STAFFS

A series of inspirational and training meetings will open Wednesday in the united service organizations' club at 131 South Wabash avenue for more than 7,000 U. S. O. volunteer workers in the three U. S. O. clubs and other headquarters in Chicago.

Attendance at all meetings, which will close Feb. 14, is limited to volunteers. The meetings will emphasize the obligation of the U. S. O. in assisting discharged fighters to reënter civilian life.

Mrs. Walter E. Heller, a director of the Chicago U. S. O. council and the national U. S. O. board, will preside at the first session. Other speakers will be representatives of the 6th service command and 9th naval district, Ivan B. Rhodes, U. S. O. regional executive, and Miss Marjorie Kimball, U. S. O. council member and chairman of volunteers for the Travelers' Aid society.

DRAFT OF LABOR HIT AND UPHELD ON ROUND TABLE

President Roosevelt's proposal for a national service act and allied measures was praised and denounced yesterday during the University of Chicago's weekly Round Table radio discussion.

Prof. Maynard C. Krueger of the university's department of economics charged that a national labor draft would mean "involuntary servitude" and was an undemocratic procedure. "The evidence supporting this legislation makes a weak case," he said.

Prof. Floyd Reeves of the university's department of education and Prof. R. Clyde White of the school of social service administration contended that such legislation was "long past due," and that it would help to increase war production in the face of a decreasing labor market.

Show Romance

[TRIBUNE Photo.]

Martin Anthony May and his bride, the former June Rozelle Johnson.

June Rozelle Johnson, 24 years old, daughter of "Chick" Johnson of the zany Olsen and Johnson team, was married yesterday to Martin Anthony May, stage comedian, in a private ceremony in the Hotel Sherman. Municipal Judge N. J. Bonelli read the service.

The bride, who was divorced here Friday from Coast Guardsman Gene Meredith, a former actor, met May when he replaced Olsen for two months in the Olsen and Johnson show. She is in the show also.

May, known professionally as Marty, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. May of Baldwin, N. Y.

GIRL BURGLAR CALLS CRIME JUST NEW TOY

A strange career that led from boarding school to burglary was described yesterday by 20 year old Marilyn Walters, who Saturday confessed to the burglary of eight Country Club apartments, 6930 South Shore drive, where she lived with her mother.

Miss Walters, who had been released on a $4,000 cash bond, is scheduled to appear tomorrow in Felony court.

Laughing at her description of the burglaries and her inability to cite a specific reason for performing them, the attractive brunette said she saw no reason for being unhappy.

"'Lark' is probably the best word to describe my reason for doing what I did," the girl explained. "I had no urge to steal and felt no sensation as I left the apartments. I was like a child with a new plaything."

Her education in two prominent boarding schools was completed last June, Miss Walters said.

The confessed burglar said she did not know what to do with the stolen jewelry, radios, nylon hosiery, and liquor valued at $2,021. She said she once thought of mailing the loot to the owners.

"I had everything, money, clothes, so necessity was not my reason," she concluded.

"Are you a kleptomaniac," Miss Walters was asked.

"No, I don't think so," she answered. "What do you think is wrong with me?"

THREE VETERANS ON POLICE FORCE ABOUT TO RETIRE

Sgt. Mortimer Goldstine, 55 years old, assigned to the Hyde Park police station for the last six years, will be retired Wednesday after more than 25 years on the force. The sergeant, whose home is at 7341 Dante avenue, estimated yesterday that he has made more than 30,000 arrests.

Two other south side police veterans will retire this week. They are Policeman William A. Maas, 55 years old, of 1512 East 68th street, also assigned to the Hyde Park station. He has been a member of the police department for 29 years. His first commanding officer was Lt. James P. Allman, now police commissioner.

The third veteran is Louis Paulson, 57 years old, a patrolman who resides at 6114 South Kolin avenue. Paulson, who has served 28 years, is assigned to the 3d division headquarters at the Chicago Lawn station.

Fire Sweeps Four Floors of Factory; Loss $10,000

Damage estimated at $10,000 was caused yesterday by a fire which swept thru four floors of a six story brick factory building at 745 Van Buren street.

Friend of the Yanks

[The Friend of the Yanks department will answer question about the draft and military service, both in the daily columns and by mail, if stamped, self-addressed envelopes are sent with queries.]

C. C. H. asks: "How will the new student deferment policy operate? Will persons deferred heretofore be reclassified?"

ANSWER: The change in policy is set out in activity and occupational bulletin 33-6 as follows: "... The army and navy specialized training program is providing for the specialized training of a large number of men. This number will furnish a supply of persons in scientific and specialized fields and certain professions adequate for the needs of the armed forces. Therefore, students occupationally deferred should be limited to a number sufficient to meet civilian needs in war production and in support of the war effort."

A national quota of 10,000 has been established for students deferred at any one time while pursuing courses of study in chemistry, engineering, geology, geophysics, and physics. The national quota of students in the pre-professional schools [pre-medicine, pre-dentistry, pre-veterinary medicina, pre-osteopathy, and pre-theology] [a] shall not at any one time exceed 50 per cent of the total average number of students in such schools in the years 1938-'39 and 1939-'40; [b] the total number of students occupationally deferred at any one time who have been accepted for admission by such school[s] may not exceed a permitted percentage of that part of the capacity of such school available for civilian students as determined by the national quota administered by the national roster of scientific and specialized personnel of the WMC.

This change becomes effective on all student deferment requests after Feb. 15, 1944. It will not affect student deferments of those now deferred who will be graduated on or before July 1, 1944, and who are certified by the national roster.

S. T. D. asks: "How is a fellow going to know when he will be called for this new pre-induction physical examination?"

ANSWER: Local boards will continue to send registrants forward for induction during January in the same manner as heretofore, and the services will give registrants inducted during January the usual furloughs. During this month, however, a large number of men will be called in addition to the regular quotas and sent to induction stations for pre-induction physical examinations. They will be called by order number. The notice to report will be issued not less than five days prior to the date the registrant is to report at the induction station for examination. A certificate indicating his acceptance for army or navy will be mailed to his board which then must wait 21 days but not to exceed 89 days from the date of examination before calling him by order number to report for active duty. Probably the average period between the first notice and reporting for active duty will be in the neighborhood of 45 days.

NEGROES FIGHT F. D. R. PLAN AS WAY TO SLAVERY

Charging that President Roosevelt's proposed national service act would return Negroes to a condition of slavery, Edgar G. Brown, director of the National Negro council, Washington, D. C., opened a nation-wide drive here yesterday to defeat the measure thru election of a Republican President and congress.

The drive is planned to bring about the registration of 2 million Negro war workers from the south who have never before voted because of poll taxes and literacy tests. Coöperating in the program will be 20,000 Negro ministers in the north whose congregations number 4 million parishioners, Brown said.

Republican Victory Urged.

In addresses before 2,000 persons in the Mt. Vernon Baptist church, 39th and Dearborn streets, and 500 parishioners at St. Stephen Baptist church, Pershing road and Michigan avenue, Brown said:

"It is imperative for every Negro worker and service man and woman to take pains to register and vote solidly to influence the election of a Republican President this year and a Republican congress to defeat now and for all time the demand of President Roosevelt for a national labor conscription law.

13 Million Negroes Threatened.

"This final desperate effort of the Democratic administration to put Negroes back again in a condition of abject slavery is the worst threat to the well being of 13 million Negroes since the rebellion of South Carolina which precipitated the Civil war."

Brown charged that a tirade against Negroes made in the senate by Sen. Smith [D., S. C.] a month before the President's message to congress was the opening salvo in a drive by entrenched politicians in Washington to put the Negro in the same place in the north that he holds in the south.

Democratic Legislators Assailed.

"The Fraternal Council of Negro churches and the National Negro council, representing 4 million Negro church men and women, have protested and appealed to northern Democratic senators and congressmen to defend the rights of 13 million Negroes," he said. "Not a single Democratic senator or congressman has risen to brand this insult as a gross libel of the Negro race."

He urged Illinois and its half million Negroes to show the way by registering and voting Republican in the first scheduled primary election on April 11.
